SECOND WEBINAR – THEMATIC NETWORK

REGULATORY POSSIBILITIES TO ENHANCE COOPERATION AMONG THE EU'S GOVERNANCE STRUCTURES AND COMPLEMENTARITY WITHIN THE EU ACQUIS

Monday 10 January 2022, 11.00 – 12.30 CET, Brussels time

EUROPEAN ASSOCIATION of HEALTH LAW
THE EAHL INTEREST GROUP ON SUPRANATIONAL BIOLAW

Dear colleague,

We invite you to join this second webinar of the 2021 Thematic Network “Health as a fundamental value. Towards an equitable and inclusive pharmaceutical strategy for the European Union”.

This second webinar will revolve around the EU regulatory possibilities in the field of health for developing an inclusive and equitable EU pharmaceutical strategy. Starting from the role of the European Commission, particularly of DG Santé in building cooperation among EU agencies (including the future HERA) and other parts of the European Commission more centrally in the EU's governance structures, this webinar will discuss the EU dynamics in approaching health and problematising health issues, notably in the context of the pandemic and vaccine strategy.

It will also consider the question of the EU competence and its potential, be it with or without Treaty revision, both from an internal perspective within the EU, but also from an external/global perspective of how the EU can promote equitable access to pharmaceuticals in less economically developed countries outside the EU. A few specific examples of these regulatory challenges will be explored in more detail in order to evaluate the complementarity and interoperability of the EU's legal framework ('acquis') on medicines with, for instance, the one applicable to patents, or the one applicable to genetically modified organisms.

Once registered, you will receive an automatic email from Webex with the link to join the webinar on Monday 10 January at 11.00 CET, Brussels time
