European Pharmaceutical Students' Association (EPSA)

EPSA Vaccination Awareness Public Health Campaign 2016

The European Pharmaceutical Students' Association (EPSA) is a European association representing more than 160,000 pharmaceutical students and aiming to "Bring Pharmacy, Knowledge and Students together". EPSA represents members from 45 Member Associations from 37 European countries.

Education wise, EPSA organises a wide scope of activities, from general education of students in different pharmaceutical areas to working on improving the pharmaceutical studies curricula or educating the public about important public health challenges while also providing soft-skill trainings to students.

Concerning professional development, the representation of and advocacy for the opinion of European students and promotion of mobility are other important fields of EPSA's work. Creating opportunities to exchange experiences and good practices among students and educating students about the professional paths they can follow and how are some of the more immediately practical activities of EPSA's.

With our activities, we are trying to help European pharmaceutical students become better professionals and raise awareness about our profession and its impact on improving the healthcare system in Europe.
