regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

Igual que se ha visto con las actuales advertencias sanitarias, no creo que las fotos contribuyan de manera eficaz a la reducción del consumo, además existen fundas que esconden los paquetes. En cuanto a los paquetes neutros o genéricos, lo único que se va a conseguir es que aumente el contrabando y el producto falsificado con nulos controles sanitarios.

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition
No

explanations
It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

In my view neither bigger warnings nor picture warnings or plain packs are required in case of cigars. Cigars smokers are adults, enjoying a cigar on an occasional basis.

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Różne badania i doświadczenia krajów (w tym polski) pokazują że najskuteczniejszą metodą nakłamania do rzucania palenia oraz zachęcania do rozpoczynania palenia są kampanie edukacyjne. Nie ma natomiast dowodów na to, że stałe zwiększenie rozmiaru ostrzeżeń zdrowotnych bądź ujednoczenie wyglądu paczek papierosów przyniesie taki skutek.

Ujednoczenie paczek papierosów przyczyni się do rozwoju szarej strefy, gdyż łatwiej i taniej będzie podrabiać jednolite opakowania. Przyniesie to odwrotny skutek, gdyż potencjalnie może wzrosnąć nielegalna konsumpcja tytoniu.

W Polsce istnieją jasne zasady dot. raportowania składu papierosów do Ministerstwa Zdrowia (producenci corocznie składają takie raporty). Jedyne co można w tej kwestii usprawnić to wprowadzenie wspólnego jednolitego formatu raportowania (dziś każdy producent składa dane w dowolnej formie).

comments
No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option
Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition
No

explanations
No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option
No change

additional comments
The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions on reporting
problem definition
Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco productsproblem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokeless
problem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Im Sinne der Selbstbestimmung des Menschen sollte jeder frei entscheiden dürfen, ob er ein Produkt konsumiert, wenn er damit niemanden sonst schädigt.

questions consumerproblem definition

No

Die Warnhinweise und Hinweise auf Inhaltsstoffe sind bereits auf den Packungen vorhanden. Die Frage ob diese, wenn größer auch wirksamer sind ist reine Spekulation. Das Verpackungs Werbefläche sind ist logisch, jedoch wird durch eine attraktive Verpackung niemand den Warnhinweis übersehen. Auch heute nicht.

Jeder Bürger kann selbst über seinen Willen entscheiden. Eine Gestaltungsbeschränkung zerstört ausschliesslich die Markenvielfalt (=den Wettbewerb zu Ungunsten kleiner Mittelständler), weil keine Unterscheidung mehr möglich ist.

additional options

Die EU sollte ein einheitliches Format für die Meldung der Inhaltsstoffen von Produkten anbieten (ALLE PRODUKTE) damit der Kunde frei und selbstständig die Informationen vor dem Konsum einsehen kann. Dies sollte jedoch nicht als Strafzoll genutzt werden.

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition
No

explanations
No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option
No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition
Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option
Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition
No

explanations
No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option
No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition
Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Aus unserer Sicht kann es sinnvoll sein, den Anwendungsbereich der Richtlinie auf dieses Produkt auszudehnen. Das darf jedoch nicht dazu führen, dass bestimmte Produkte ohne entsprechende wissenschaftliche Erkenntnisse verboten werden. Aufgrund dieser Gefahr haben wir uns entschlossen, die Option NO CHANCE zu wählen Derzeit fehlt es an wissenschaftlich gesicherten Erkenntnissen, dass grössere Warnhinweise wirksam sind. Zudem ist in keiner Weise gesichert, dass Standardisierungen der Verpackungen den Gesundheitsschutz fördern. Standardisierungen erhöhen vielmehr die Gefahr von Fälschungen. Damit wird dem Schmuggel weiter vorschub geleistet

Bereits nach geltendem Recht können die Mitgliedsstaaten Gebühren und andere Sanktionen vorsehen. Es ist keine genügende Begründung ersichtlich, weshalb die EU in diesem Bereich zusätzliche Kompetenzen in Anspruch nehmen sollte. Die Durchsetzung der Bestimmungen der Richtlinie soll daher weiterhin bei den Mitgliedstaaten verbleiben

In diesem Bereich besteht keinerlei Problematik, weder hinsichtlich der Funktionsweise des Binnenmarktes noch hinsichtlich des Gesundheitsschutzes. Wichtig ist in diesem Bereich einzig, dass die bestehenden Vorschriften, vor allem bezüglich der Alterslimiten, eingehalten werden. Dazu sind aber die Mitgliedstaaten weit besser in der Lage als die Union

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

As with other tobacco products and many consumer products, their use is a choice ... legislation should not limit their use if they are reasonable legal .. especially if they are legal in one or some member states. Snus is no more a health problem than other oral tobacco products, banning it in majority of the EU is intellectually brainless.

which option

questions consumer
problem definition

explanations

In general, smokers pay no attention to warning or product information, regardless of its content or amount, at least in the context of deciding to not smoke. More information will not really do any of the "good" you are alleging to accomplish. The removal of tar/nicotine/carbon monoxide numbers is fine but to replace that with what will be just a different version of confusing information on harmful substances, a very small number of consumers will pay any attention and even less will have any understanding of it. Plain packaging is probably a violation of company's trademarks and rights to do business with a legal product.

Improve consumer information which improvement

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products

questions on reporting
problem definition

No

Collection of ingredient data does nothing to provide for public health. A common form if that is not what is in place makes for commonsense. What assess a fee or sanction when member states already charge consumers outrageous taxes for cigarettes ... these fees will only be passed on to consumers who mostly care less about this subject anyway.

which option

I can find no real positive proof of the allegations about the role of attractive substances added to tobacco products causing increases in health risk beyond the base ingredient, tobacco. The same would have to be done in the chocolate industry and other consumer goods like alcohol as well - to protect the obese and heavy drinkers.

which option

No

explanations

People, even under age people, will always find a way to purchase products they want regardless of restrictive activities by governments or limited distribution. They will simply purchase via a darker market which will blossom from the restrictions. Under age people will simply get someone of age to purchase for them. How do you think people get illegal drugs? By the way, when are you going to start looking at alcohol?

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

propozycja ujednoczenia paczek wszystkich papierosów może doprowadzić do wzrostu szarej strefy(ułatwienie podrabiania prostych opakowań) i przynieść negatywne konsekwencje gospodarcze i społeczne plantatorom tytoniu oraz przedsiębiorcom legalnie handlującym wyrobami tytoniowymi.

which option

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

wprowadzenie proponowanego zakazu stosowania dodatków w produkcji papierosów może doprowadzić do eliminacji z uprawy tytoniu odmiany Burley. Przepisy powinny iść w kierunku reglamentacji tylko tych dodatków, które zwiększają toksyczność i uzależnienie od papierosów, nie powinny natomiast eliminować dodatków potrzebnych w procesie technologicznym produkcji papierosów.

which option

No

explanations

wprowadzenie zakazu pokazywania papierosów w sklepach przyczyni się do pogorszenia ekonomicznej sytuacji tych placówek, może przenieść część konsumpcji na nielegalne papierosy oraz utrudni egzekucję prawa przez odpowiednie służby takie jak policja (np. egzekwowanie zakazu sprzedaży papierosów nieletnim)

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

problem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale; Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

problem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokeless
problem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Der Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie sollte durchaus die angegebenen Produkte beinhalten. Ohne zuvorige wissenschaftliche Überprüfung der Produkte in Hinsicht auf ihre Schädlichkeit für den menschlichen Körper sollte jedoch kein Verbot ausgesprochen werden.

Es gibt unseres Erachtens keine wissenschaftlichen Beweise dafür, dass größere Warnhinweise oder Bilder besser dazu geeignet sind, potenzielle Raucher vom Rauchen abzuhalten bzw. Raucher davon zu überzeugen, mit dem Rauchen aufzuhören. Auch bei Plain Packaging gibt es bis dato keine Beweise dafür, dass sie eine Auswirkung der Gesundheit der Bevölkerung haben. Plain Packaging würde vielmehr Fälschungen und den illegalen Handel mit Tabakprodukten forcieren, weil die Fälschungssicherheit der Produkte nicht gewährleistet werden kann.

Die Rechtsdurchsetzung ist Angelegenheit der Mitgliedsstaaten und nicht der EU. Auch wenn die EU dieses Prinzip einführt, würden die Beträge für Gebühren und Sanktionen zwischen den Mitgliedsstaaten unterschiedlich ausfallen. Dies deshalb, da es in die Kompetenz des jeweiligen Staates fällt. Eine Verbesserung des Funktionierens des Binnenmarktes ist somit auf diese Weise nicht ersichtlich

Die hier dargestellte Problemstellung zielt nicht auf gesundheitspolitische Probleme im Zusammenhang mit Tabakkonsum und die Verfügbarkeit der Produkte ab. Weiters werden keinerlei Beweise für die Annahme angeboten, dass derartige Verbote den Binnenmarkt stärken oder aber zu einer Reduktion des Tabakkonsums führen würden.

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale; Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Was sollte das am Konsum ändern? ich habe bis jetzt nirgendwo wirklich eine verbindliche Studie gefunden, die besagt, dass Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen schädlicher sind als Zigaretten ohne. Es würde meiner Meinung nach nichts am Konsum ändern, je verbotener ein Produkt ist, umso interessanter wird es für die Jugend. Wir haben in Deutschland ein gutes Jugendschutzgesetz und die Händler halten sich auch dran.

comments
No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option
Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition
No

explanations
No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option
No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition
Yes

which option
Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale; Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokeless
problem definition
No

comments
No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option
Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition
No

explanations
No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option
No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition
Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale; Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. questions smokeless

problem definition

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

Ein Verbot, Tabakprodukte am POS zu präsentieren ist der Untergang vieler kleiner Kioskbetreiber, Tabakfachgeschäften aber auch Tankstellen, da diese mehr als 50% ihres Umsatzes mit Tabakprodukten generieren. Ganz zu schweigen von den tausenden von Arbeitsplätzen in der Cigarettenindustrie. Ein legales Produkt wird hier zu einem illegalen gemacht. Was kommt als nächstes? Der Verkauf von Tabakprodukten gegen Rezept in der Apotheke?

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco productsproblem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

comments
No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option
Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition
No

explanations
No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option
No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition
Yes

which option
Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition
No

explanations
It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Die bestehende Richtlinie von 2001 ist vollkommen ausreichend. Sie bietet den Verbrauchern die notwendige Aufklärung zu den gesundheitlichen Gefahren des Rauchens. Eine Einschränkung für einen funktionierenden Binnenmarkt ist nicht zu erkennen.

Eine erhöhte gesundheitliche Gefährdung durch rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse im Vergleich zu anderen Konsum- und Verhaltensgewohnheiten der EU Bürger ist nicht nachgewiesen. Durch eine Aufklärung zu den Risiken analog Zigaretten kann den EU Bürgern die Entscheidung zwischen Konsum oder Nicht-Konsum selbst überlassen werden. Es sei denn, die EU Kommission definiert alle EU Bürger als unmündig.

which option

No

explanations

Als EU Bürger fühle ich mich persönlich beleidigt, da die Problemdarstellung mir unterstellt ich sei geistig nicht in der Lage mir über die gesundheitlichen Folgen des Rauchens bewußt zu sein. Ich bin Nichtraucher und werde das auch bleiben, daran ändern auch schön gestaltete Zigarettenpackungen nichts. Andererseits gibt es bisher keine Belege dafür, dass z.B. graphische Warnhinweise Raucher vom Rauchen abhalten (auch nicht in den Ländern, in welchen diese Bilder bereits vorgeschrieben sind). Die bestehenden Regelungen zu Warnhinweisen auf der Verpackung sind völlig ausreichend. Aufklärung zu den gesundheitlichen Risiken des Rauchens darüber hinaus sollte an anderen Stellen stattfinden (z.B. Schulen). Wenn Rauchprodukte legale Waren sind, dann muss es den Herstellern auch möglich sein ihre Produkte von denen ihrer Wettbewerber zu differenzieren. Eine Pflege und Präsentation von Marken muss wie in allen anderen Warenbereichen auch möglich sein. Die Vorschläge kommen einer Enteignung gleich.

Legale Produkte müssen auch offen gezeigt werden dürfen. Der Erwerb von Tabakerzeugnissen unterliegt bereits Altersbeschränkungen. Diese müssen eingehalten werden. Eine Änderung der Richtlinie in diesem Punkt ist dazu allerdings nicht notwendig.

additional comments
The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

Yes

which option

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco productsproblem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco productsproblem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale; Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale; Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products
problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Es gibt unseres Erachtens keine wissenschaftlichen Beweise dafür, dass größere Warnhinweise oder Bilder besser dazu geeignet sind, potenzielle Raucher vom Rauchen abzuhalten bzw. Raucher davon zu überzeugen, mit dem Rauchen aufzuhören. Auch bei Plain Packaging gibt es bis dato keine Beweise dafür, dass sie eine Auswirkung der Gesundheit der Bevölkerung haben. Plain Packaging würde vielmehr Fälschungen und den illegalen Handel mit Tabakprodukten forcieren, weil die Fälschungssicherheit der Produkte nicht gewährleistet werden kann.

Die Rechtsdurchsetzung ist Angelegenheit der Mitgliedsstaaten und nicht der EU. Auch wenn die EU dieses Prinzip einführt, würden die Beträge für Gebühren und Sanktionen zwischen den Mitgliedsstaaten unterschiedlich ausfallen. Dies deshalb, da es in die Kompetenz des jeweiligen Staates fällt. Eine Verbesserung des Funktionierens des Binnenmarktes ist somit auf diese Weise nicht ersichtlich.

questions smokeless

problem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products
problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

access to tobacco productsproblem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale; Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Regulations and bans are two separate topics. The scope of the Directive might be extended, but not combined with a ban.

problem definition

Yes

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Plain packaging interferes with the freedom of manufacturers to design their products and packaging. It's easier for criminals to launch illegal, uncontrolled & untaxed products, which increases health damage potential and leads to tax losses. Consumer information is sufficient.

which option

questions on reporting

problem definition

No

explanations

Missing fees and sanctions are not an Union problem. Enforcement is within the responsibility of the Memberstates. Harmonization of reporting formats might be subject to a Union regulation.

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

The focus of ingredients testing should be on whether the ingredients results in increased toxicity of tobacco smoke. Current regulation is enough.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products

problem definition

No

explanations

Different issues within one problem definition. There is no need to harmonize exaggerated bans, because some Memberstates implemented them. No evidence that bans (vending machine, display) would improve the functioning of the internal market. If all sales are "under the counter" it might evoke the feeling that illegal counterfeit / contraband sales are legal, too.

questions smokeless

problem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco productsproblem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

"Plain packaging" greift in Markeneigentum ein, außerdem sind Einheitspackungen weiss/schwarz viel leichter zu fälschen. Insgesamt wird es dadurch nicht weniger Raucher geben.

Meines wissens nach ist die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden, nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen verkauft werden. questions smokeless

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

No

explanations

which option

access to tobacco productsproblem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

I disagree with the problem definition as the definition provided by the Consultation document is inaccurate, confused and vague. It states: "The tobacco products market has increasingly diversified", but cites non-tobacco products (e.g. nicotine drinks, electronic cigarettes) as evidence for this claim. This inability to distinguish between tobacco and non-tobacco products demonstrates fundamental and concerning ignorance about the tobacco sector. The problem definition does not contain any evidence, scientific or otherwise, to justify the options proposed and fails to define a problem in any of the areas it proposes be further regulated. The Consultation does not analyse EU competence to adopt the proposed options. There is no discussion of any internal market issues to be resolved before the EU can proceed with the proposed option. We assume that this essential, fundamental analysis will be carried out after the Consultation, in preparation for the Impact Assessment Report.

No, I disagree with the problem definition. It is vague and the Consultation document has not defined a problem that requires addressing. There is no evidence to justify the ban on the marketing and sales of snus or the extension of the ban to other smokeless tobacco products. The problem definition does not differentiate between various product types in this broad category. By ignoring this, distinction the Consultation creates confusion rather than providing clarity that would allow for objective policy choices. The WHO TobReg Report strongly emphasises this variation amongst smokeless tobacco products and (referring to risks associated with different smokeless tobacco products) states "it would be scientifically inappropriate to consider smokeless tobacco a single product for the purpose of estimating risk or setting policies." Snus is legally sold in many countries worldwide. I do not believe there is any justification to ban snus completely in the EU. The problem definition refers to SCENIHR's 2008 Opinion which states: "According to the evidence from some countries, the use of smokeless tobacco products may lead to subsequent cigarette smoking". In fact, "some countries" relates only to the USA. The SCENIHR Opinion also states: "The marked social, cultural and product differences between North America and Europe suggest caution in translating findings across countries, also within Europe." . Moreover, SCENIHR's Opinion refers to suggestions rather than facts. I object to these suggestions being presented as facts in the Consultation. Snus may be described by some as addictive, but that does not mean that people are unable to stop using snus if they choose to do so. Adult smokers who wish to change their smoking behaviour should have the freedom to choose an alternative to conventional combustible tobacco products. The Consultation does not analyse EU competence to adopt the proposed options; nor is there any discussion of the internal market issues that would be required to be resolved for the EU to proceed with the proposed options. I assume that this essential, fundamental analysis will be carried out after the Consultation, in preparation for the Impact Assessment Report.

problem definition

No

explanations

I disagree with the problem definition as it is confused and unclear. This section is titled 'Consumer Information', but deals only with tobacco packaging. It states that "packaging as an advertising tool is not covered by the current Directive" but it does not clarify or explain that advertising is covered by EU Tobacco Advertising Directive COM(2008) 330 final and Council Directive 89/552/EEC Television without Frontiers. Most Member States have transposed the Directives into national laws that are wider in scope. The problem definition asserts only that the packet is advertising but provides no evidence for this. Packaging is not advertising. It allows tobacco companies to distinguish their products from their competitors' and provides consumers who wish to purchase tobacco products with information about their chosen product. Picture Warnings Pictorial health warnings are unnecessary. The risks associated with smoking are already well known and pictorial warnings make no additional contribution to public awareness, with no evidence that they provide any additional motivation to quit. Instead these measures further "denormalise" tobacco products and stigmatize smokers. These are not sufficient grounds for legitimate public policy objectives, and I believe that adult smokers and smoking should not be treated in this way. The Commission (Second Report on the TPD) refers to the Leiden 2007 study which confirms that "actual change in smoking behaviour as a consequence of warnings is [also] not clearly demonstrated". The problem definition states there is disparity between Member States in their application of pictorial health warnings. The TPD allows Member States discretion to decide between text or pictorial health warnings. Only four (Belgium, Latvia, Romania and UK) have implemented PHWs to date. The fact that many Member States have not introduced PHWs is not a rationale for their introduction. In Belgium, the first Member State to introduce PHWs (2006), a clear majority of respondents (61%) believed that PHWs are not very effective or not at all effective. The public policy objectives surrounding text and pictorial health warnings claim to produce a higher degree of awareness of tobacco-related health risks, thereby reducing smoking initiation, increasing quitting and reducing consumption in continuing smokers. There is no credible scientific or empirical research or evidence to demonstrate such health warnings achieve these objectives. TNCO Information The requirement to display TNCO data on cigarette packs and the format in which these are provided on the pack was imposed by the TPD. The Consultation document does not provide any evidence that further or alternative information would be useful to or understood by consumers, or that there is a scientific basis for the proposals. Until progress has been made in developing measurement methods that more accurately reflect deliveries of smoke constituents, the current practice of printing TNCO yields on packs should remain. These provide comparative information to consumers and regulators based on internationally recognised and validated standards. Inserts There is no evidence that this option is proportionate or necessary. The RAND Report states “there is very little evidence available on the impact of inserts”. The impact of inserts needs to be scientifically assessed as direct contact with tobacco may occur through migration from the printed material. But more importantly it is unclear what the motives are for introducing inserts and whether the stated policy objectives would be achieved. Plain Packaging Plain packaging is unnecessary, unreasonable and unjustified. It is not sound public policy or based on compelling evidence. The balance of the available evidence provides no compelling argument to suggest that plain packaging would make a contribution to addressing youth smoking initiation or smoking cessation.

questions on reporting

problem definition

No

explanations

The Consultation makes no reference to the extensive work put into the Electronic Model Tobacco Control (EMTOC) project. We support a sustainable, robust and secure IT system as that being developed by EMTOC for collecting and holding ingredient data, provided that adequate solutions are incorporated and include agreed Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) and protection for competitively sensitive and trade secret information. This has been repeatedly communicated to the EU via the Confederation of European Community Cigarette Manufacturers. We understand that the EMTOC term “Instructions” means SOPs and is fully interchangeable in both definition and principle. We continue contributing to the development of EMTOC. The common reporting non-binding format (Practical Guide on Tobacco Product Ingredients Reporting) was communicated to Member States. However, the Guide also states that “Member States, manufacturers and importers are expected to use the common reporting formats” as soon as they were published and that “electronic submission of data would be the desirable form”. Despite Commission guidance, to date not all Member States have accepted the common reporting format for ingredient reporting or have implemented the new templates into their submission process. Some have adopted different reporting requirements. We welcome any Commission initiative to make the Practical Guide binding and to incorporate the EMTOC system and proposed solutions to the outstanding issues in the Practical Guide. All Member States must agree and adopt the common ingredient reporting format in a fully harmonised way and accept tobacco product ingredients submission via the latest templates in order to move to EMTOC reporting. This should be facilitated and/or endorsed by the Commission The problem definition states “It has proven difficult to get financing for the development, validation and carrying out of the appropriate toxicological and addictiveness tests”. We have provided extensive toxicological data to Member States, none of which to our knowledge has been analysed or commented on. The problem definition fails to mention the draft SCENIHR opinion on tobacco additives and particularly the conclusion that no evidence has been found to suggest any ingredient adds to or of itself contributes to addictiveness. The statement in the problem definition also contradicts the introductory section of the Consultation document ("The Directive does not foresee any specific assessment of the information provided by manufacturers"). Finally, compliance costs occur for business as well as for authorities. The fact that significant costs are involved for national competent authorities results from the objective of having reporting in the first place. Our ingredient reports have always complied with Article 6 of the Directive. Fees and Sanctions Introducing fees and sanctions is outside the Commission's competence. The Commission has failed to analyse the impact of registration fees on the functioning of the Internal Market, as their levels would vary between Member States and impede its functioning. Registration fees would lead to a further increase in anti-illicit trade. The Consultation does not analyse EU competence to adopt the proposed options; nor is there any discussion of the internal market issues that would be required to be resolved for the EU to proceed with the proposed options. We assume that this essential, fundamental analysis will be carried out after the Consultation, in preparation for the Impact Assessment Report.

problem definition

No

explanations

No, I disagree with the problem definition as it is based on the subjective concept of “attractiveness”, which I reject as an unsound basis for regulation. Ingredients (for example, flavourings) may be added to tobacco products during manufacture in very small quantities to enhance overall flavour characteristics and aroma, giving each brand variant its own distinctive style, in line with consumer preferences. The term ‘ingredient’ also applies to substances in non-tobacco materials used to make our products. These include paper, filter, adhesive and inks. To ensure the proper functioning of a market economy, legitimate tobacco companies have the right to fair competition by developing and differentiating their products to support adult consumer choice. I do not add anything to our products to make it more difficult to stop smoking, to make our products attractive to children or to increase the level or change the chemical form of nicotine in tobacco smoke. Ingredients do not influence smoking initiation or the ability of smokers to quit who are determined to do so. It has been suggested that some tobacco ingredients may have either direct or indirect rewarding or reinforcing properties. I am not aware of any scientific evidence to support this allegation at the exposure levels observed in tobacco product use. SCENIHR’s Opinion concluded there is no evidence that ingredients have rewarding or reinforcing properties or are in themselves addictive. “Attractiveness” fails all established criteria for issue definition in terms of it being a regulatory goal or objective: it lacks any evidential foundation and is inherently uncertain and arbitrary. There is no evidence that supports the reduction of “attractiveness” as a valid public policy objective against which ingredients should be regulated. Sound scientific evidence and a criteria-based approach should be the foundations of any ingredient regulation instead of introducing vague terms which merely intend to circumvent the evidence base. I am concerned that some regulators are using “attractiveness” in the context of tobacco ingredients’ use without defining meaning, scope or context. This lack of definition was highlighted during the negotiations of FCTC Articles 9 and 10 at CoP4, where provisional and partial guidelines were agreed, although being inconsistent with acknowledged scientific evidence and the practice of manufacturing tobacco products. The problem definition incorrectly defines the use of ingredients and makes an unfounded claim that the majority form carcinogens, mutagens and/or are toxic for reproduction. Mentholated cigarettes for example have been available for many decades, yet there is no scientific evidence to suggest that their use is associated with increased smoking incidence, increased consumption, change in smoking behaviour or reduced quit rates compared to other cigarettes, nor is there any evidence that smokers of mentholated cigarettes inhale more deeply. Overall, I believe the contribution of ingredients to smoke chemistry is overestimated at levels typically in use. A shift in focus is required to assess the impact of ingredients and in the absence of any criteria I can not support any subjective, unscientific and arbitrary concepts such as 'addictiveness' or 'attractiveness' to form the basis of any regulation. All legislative measures proposed must meet accepted principles of better regulation, be based on evidence and proportionate. I support a common EU ingredient list, but basic criteria for assessing ingredients have not yet been identified. Introducing such an option now would be premature. In this respect I would welcome a debate between regulators and tobacco companies’ scientists on the principles and criteria for a science-based assessment framework.

problem definition

explanations

No, I disagree with the problem definition as it is vague and incomplete. I do not consider that the problem definition or the Consultation identifies a problem in any of the areas proposed. The Consultation does not analyse EU competence to adopt the proposed options; nor is there any discussion of the internal market issues that would be required to be resolved for the EU to proceed with the proposed options. I assume that this essential, fundamental analysis will be carried out after the Consultation, in preparation for the Impact Assessment Report. Display of Tobacco Products I support regulation that is reasonable, proportionate and evidence-based. I believe that tobacco products are for adults and support the enforcement of legal minimum age restrictions for the purchase of tobacco products. I encourage governments to respect the principles of adult choice and freedom of competition when regulating tobacco products. I am opposed to regulation that restricts or prohibits retailers from displaying tobacco products at the point of sale. Display is an important aspect of the consumer purchasing process, providing information to make a genuine selection from the wide range of products, brands and prices in retail outlets, whilst contributing to fair and undistorted competition between manufacturers and retailers. The display of tobacco products is important to the proper functioning of a market economy. It informs consumers of the products available, their characteristics, price and pack sizes available. Where other channels of communication may be restricted, consumers must be able to identify easily, quickly and effectively the existence and availability of tobacco products and to distinguish between them. Due to the high turnover and value of tobacco products, display is essential to retailers in maintaining efficient trade operations. There is no evidence to credibly demonstrate a causal link between tobacco display and youth smoking initiation. Data made available as regards the impacts of display bans in Canada and Iceland seriously undermine the claim that banning tobacco displays reduces youth smoking. Product display bans could exacerbate illicit trade in contraband and counterfeit products. Consumers' ability to distinguish between legally traded and illicit products would be impaired, making it easier to distribute and sell contraband and counterfeit tobacco. If these become easier to distribute and sell this would undermine the significant progress made by enforcement bodies to tackle the trade in illicit products and to take action when criminal gangs are caught.

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

additional comments

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokelessproblem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumerproblem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reportingproblem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredientsproblem definition

No

explanations

which option

access to tobacco productsproblem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments
