

The European Commission invites health stakeholders to submit proposals for a new cycle of Thematic Networks under the EU Health Policy Platform framework.

Thematic Networks are created for stakeholder organisations to collaborate and produce a Joint Statement on a specific issue. The statement summarises their position and proposes actions in one of the following public health areas:

- 1. Climate change and health, particularly heat stress or building health system capacity
- 2. Life-time approach to prevention with stakeholders contributing to a comprehensive and multi-sectorial approach on healthy longevity
- 3. Unlocking the power of artificial intelligence against cancer

The European Commission may also consider proposals from other health policy areas if stakeholders provide sound reasons and evidence.

The Thematic Networks encourage the stakeholders' community to join forces and carry out activities/initiatives in synergy with those carried out by the Commission and the Member States. For this reason, proposals addressed by Thematic Networks should be in line with the EU health policy agenda.

Joint Statements should reflect the current available information on their relevant subjects and are the intellectual property of the organisation leading the Thematic Network; the European Commission is not responsible for their content nor bound in any way to respond to the proposals made. Preparing the Joint Statements is solely the responsibility of the organisations involved. No EU funding is provided for this call, although the EU Health Policy Platform team is available at no cost to the Thematic Networks to help organise and promote the necessary meetings/webinars, share presentations and results.

What does the Thematic Networks cycle look like?

Early April, the European Commission will evaluate the proposals received for each topic and will make a preliminary selection by end of April at the latest that will be open for vote in the Agora network of the EU Health Policy Platform. The top three proposals by number of votes will be selected to participate in the final 2024 Thematic Networks

1. Call for proposals (Launch: 21 February Deadline: 3 April)	2. Evaluation by EC (April)	3. Proposals for voting in HPP (April-May)
4. Final Thematic Networks (May)	5. Live webinars (May to October)	6. EU Health Policy Platform Annual Meeting (November)

cycle.

The organisations leading them will organise a series of webinars, with assistance from the EU Health Policy Platform team, to present their proposals, provide updates and ask for support and collaboration throughout the cycle. The final Joint Statements will then be presented by the Network leaders at the EU Health Policy Platform Annual Meeting in November.
