

Mapping national health workforce planning and policies:
where do we go from here?
Open webinar of the SEPEN expert network

Friday 24 July 2020, 14.30 – 15.30 CET, Brussels time

The SEPEN joint tender was tasked with the mapping of national health workforce policies in the EU and the UK. The creation of country sheets and online appendices outlining each country's situation as to medical and nursing workforce density and mobility, current policy framework and planning tools, as well as data collection mechanisms is intended to advance the discussion both at national and EU level. It is also interesting to place these results in the broader debate on future proofing European Health Systems as is addressed in Health at a Glance and the State of Health in the EU. The webinar intends to present the results of the mapping exercise and launch the debate with knowledge brokers from national level and experts commenting from the international point of view. It is proposed to zoom into different regions and approaches to health workforce planning and forecasting, and pick up the debate with the question how the country sheets will be used to inform the policy discussion.

The EU Health Policy Platform will host a live webinar, following this agenda:
