

identification	affiliation	government
	name	Noreen Leahy
	email	noreen_leahy1@yahoo.ie
	country	Ireland
	age gender
questions scope	problem definition	Yes explanations
	which option	No change
	recommend option
	additional comments
questions smokeless	problem definition	Yes comments
	which option	Ban on all types of smokeless tobacco products additional option
	additional comments
questions consumer	problem definition	Yes
	explanations
	which option	Improve consumer information; Introduce generic or plain packaging which improvement	Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes
	additional option
	additional comments	We support option 3 in principle, but recommend that the introduction of generic or plain packaging, must be on the basis of robust evidence. If such a measure is to be introduced, it should be mandatory and there should be a harmonised approach across all member states.
questions on reporting	problem definition	Yes
	explanations
	which option	Establish a common compulsory reporting format additional options
	additional comments
regulation of ingredients	problem definition	Yes
	explanations
	which option	Introducing the basic criteria on the EU level without a common list which one
	additional option
	additional comments
access to tobacco products	problem definition	No explanations	Please amend reference to Ireland in final sentence to "A similar ban was introduced in Ireland on 1 July 2009."
	which option	No change
	which supply and access
	which one2
	additional option
	additional comments	