Subject: Pharmaceutical Counterfeiting in EU

Dear Sir

I wish to bring your attention to the major study in Pharmaceutical and Food counterfeiting that was sponsored and paid for by FDA under the project title ' Product Surety Initiative'. This project was very influential on the future strategy adopted by FDA and preceded the renowned 'Counterfeiting of Medicines' report. For more information www.productsurety.org

Axess Technologies Ltd was selected by the project Administrators (New Mexico State University) to undertake all of the security technology training and facilitate workshops with over 150 participants from the Drug and Food industries throughout USA and spread over a 2 year period. This project was completed in 2004 although we continued to work with FDA and maintain, for them, a database of relevant security technology for the pharmaceutical industry.

The reason Axess Technologies was chosen for the project was because we are the only Independent Consultancy focussed on brand and document security that does not represent or sell for any security technology Suppliers and we have an unparalleled knowledge of technology and its attributes.

Since formation in 1999 we have worked with a large number of pharmaceutical companies to improve their strategies and protect their products against fraud.

We would be pleased to offer our services and considerable experience to the project. Please contact me if you would like to discuss in more detail. For your information we currently have several projects that are Government sponsored including DTI, Scottish Enterprise, CLIK and we are monitors for an European Commission RFID project.

If you require any expert assistance in the evaluation of feedback, comments or strategy feasibility I hope you will consider using our services.

Yours sincerely
