

From: Richard Pettit-Mills [pettit@doctors.org.uk]

Sent: 03 April 2008 23:50

To: NARHI Ulla (ENTR)

Subject: EU Proposal on Patient Information

Hello,

I'm a doctor working in Bristol. I feel that I should respond to this EU proposal. It seems to be unnecessary and could potentially lead to unnecessary prescribing or even people buying drugs from uncontrolled sources like the internet. I would be interested to know why drug-company provided information given directly to patients is deemed necessary? Has there been a degree of lobbying from the drug companies?

Dr Richard Pettit-Mills