Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Ob die Behörden Schwierigkeiten bei Vergleich und Analyse der Daten haben oder die Erfassung und Analyse der gemeldeten Daten über Inhaltsstoffe erhebliche Ressourcen auf Seiten der zuständigen nationalen Behörden erfordern, wie von der Kommission dargestellt, kann nicht beurteilt werden. Wenn dies so wäre, verwundert es sehr, dass der Anstoß in Richtung einer Vereinheitlichung und Vereinfachung nicht aus den Mitgliedstaaten selbst hervorgeht, sondern von der Kommission vorgebracht wird und dann im Zusammenhang mit einer Option, die der Wirtschaft zusätzliche dauerhafte Kosten (jährliche Gebühr) auferlegen würde. Only one group of European citizens will be limited in following their needs and wishes. After all research, tobacco use is not at all to be set equal with hard drug abuse. Advertising tobacco products is already forbidden in many European countries, trade has been limited already. The new Directive would be unjust, especially for non-addict-smokers (and not every smoker is an addict), compared to, e.g., heavy drinkers, who easily can obtain their beverages in most European countries. Advertising beverages without any risk warnings is still possible in many European countries. People should be taught that tobacco abuse is harmful as every abuse of things is, but the new Directive seems to be just a new chapter in the public and well accepted witch-hunt on smokers.

recommend option

Make a new Directive in teaching people about possible health risks occurring when consuming things without focussing on only one issue. Make people fit to decide for themselves and don't follow the American way of building a nursery state. Don't forget that Europe was the place of the Enlightenment during the 18th century. Don't forsake this tradition.

Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Ob die Behörden Schwierigkeiten bei Vergleich und Analyse der Daten haben oder die Erfassung und Analyse der gemeldeten Daten über Inhaltsstoffe erhebliche Ressourcen auf Seiten der zuständigen nationalen Behörden erfordern, wie von der Kommission dargestellt, kann nicht beurteilt werden. Wenn dies so wäre, verwundert es sehr, dass der Anstoß in Richtung einer Vereinheitlichung und Vereinfachung nicht aus den Mitgliedstaaten selbst hervorgeht, sondern von der Kommission vorgebracht wird und dann im Zusammenhang mit einer Option, die der Wirtschaft zusätzliche dauerhafte Kosten (jährliche Gebühr) auferlegen würde. Die Mitgliedstaaten selbst sind gefordert, zusammen mit der Wirtschaft einen pragmatischen Weg zu diskutieren und umzusetzen. explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

regulation of ingredients*problem definition

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Ob die Behörden Schwierigkeiten bei Vergleich und Analyse der Daten haben oder die Erfassung und Analyse der gemeldeten Daten über Inhaltsstoffe erhebliche Ressourcen auf Seiten der zuständigen nationalen Behörden erfordern, wie von der Kommission dargestellt, kann nicht beurteilt werden. Wenn dies so wäre, verwundert es sehr, dass der Anstoß in Richtung einer Vereinheitlichung und Vereinfachung nicht aus den Mitgliedstaaten selbst hervorgeht, sondern von der Kommission vorgebracht wird und dann im Zusammenhang mit einer Option, die der Wirtschaft zusätzliche dauerhafte Kosten (jährliche Gebühr) auferlegen würde. Die Mitgliedstaaten selbst sind gefordert, zusammen mit der Wirtschaft einen pragmatischen Weg zu diskutieren und umzusetzen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettensautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettensautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the

suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions on reporting

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Yes

which option

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the

suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Rauchverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

problem definition

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Rauchverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

il n'y a pas de corrélation prouvée entre la disparition des linéaires tabac et la lutte contre le tabagisme la France dispose d'un réseau de 28000 buralistes, préposés de l'administration responsables et professionnels, seuls habilités à vendre du tabac. Ce réseau est fortement réglementé par l'Etat ce qui permet déjà de contrôler efficacement l'accès au produit du tabac

explanations

which option

No change

questions smokeless*problem definition

No

comments

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemendarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemendarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer*problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

questions on reporting

problem definition

No

explanations

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Der Begriff „attraktiv“ ist ein subjektives Kriterium für ein Verbot oder eine Regulierung von Zusatzstoffen und entbehrt jeglicher wissenschaftlicher Grundlage. Die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettensautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettensautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger.

Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Rauchverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

Die Fälscher schreien laut hurra - endlich ist es noch einfacher und billiger Marken zu fälschen und illegal nach Deutschland einzuführen. Der Jugendschutz wird die organisierte Kriminalität eher nicht interessieren und was denn da so genau in den Cigaretten steckt ist wohl auch eher nicht mit den strengen Auflagen in der EU zu vergleichen. Warum sollten weniger Menschen rauchen nur weil die Packungen weiß sind? Was geschieht mit Markenrechten und wie steht es hier um die Meinungsfreiheit?!?

Tabak ist ein legales produkt wie viele andere auch. Warum sollte es versteckt werden? Alkohol und andere genussmittel wie Kaffee oder Süßigkeiten werden doch auch offen und deutlich aggressiver angeboten als die ohnehin schon hoch regulierten Tabakprodukte mit den ohnehin schon weitreichenden Werbebeschränkungen... Hier werden dem Handel doch lediglich kosten aufgedrückt und das recht der Tabakhersteller auf den freien Wettbewerb und die freie Meinungsäußerung auf das übelste unterlaufen.

Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

Begründung: Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

explanations

Aucune étude ne prouve l'efficacité des paquets neutres. Aucune étude ne prouve l'efficacité des photos chocs, ni même de plus grands avertissements sanitaires sur les paquets. La mise en place de paquets neutres risque d'entraîner une guerre des prix du tabac (puisque cela restera le seul moyen pour les fabricants de se différencier). La mise en place de photos chocs sur les 2 faces des paquets ou de paquets génériques va pousser les consommateurs français à aller s'approvisionner sur les marchés parallèles du tabac (achats à l'étranger ou de contrebande, ou sur internet. De telles mesures risquent de déstabiliser et pénaliser économiquement le réseau des 28 000 buralistes français organisés dans un réseau réglementé et sous tutelle de l'Etat. » (PS

Il n'y a pas de corrélation prouvée entre la disparition des linéaires tabac et la lutte contre le tabagisme. La France dispose d'un réseau de 28 000 buralistes, préposés de l'administration responsables et professionnels, seuls habilités à vendre du tabac. Ce réseau est fortement réglementé par l'Etat ce qui permet déjà de contrôler efficacement l'accès au produit tabac. »

Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltenen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltenen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

which option

explanations

Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

oder eine Regulierung von Zusatzstoffen und entbehrt jeglicher wissenschaftlicher Grundlage. Die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

No change

additional comments

regulation of ingredients

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

hervorgeht, sondern von der Kommission vorgebracht wird und dann im Zusammenhang mit einer Option, die der Wirtschaft zusätzliche dauerhafte Kosten (jährliche Gebühr) auferlegen würde. Die Mitgliedstaaten selbst sind gefordert, zusammen mit der Wirtschaft einen pragmatischen Weg zu diskutieren und umzusetzen. Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Der Begriff „attraktiv“ ist ein subjektives Kriterium für ein Verbot oder eine Regulierung von Zusatzstoffen und entbehrt jeglicher wissenschaftlicher Grundlage. Die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

ersichtlich.

explanations

massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Rauchverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinationaltätigen Groß-

und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche

Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemendarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemendarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

explanations

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

explanations

Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemendarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemendarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

No

explanations

problem definition

No

explanations

explanations

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des

Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Rauchverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen

Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemendarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemendarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

regulation of ingredients

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemendarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemendarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer*problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting*problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients*problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

La mise en place de paquets neutres risque d'entraîner une guerre des prix du tabac (puisque cela restera le seul moyen pour les fabricants de se différencier). La mise en place de photos chocs sur les 2 faces des paquets ou de paquets génériques va pousser les consommateurs français à aller s'approvisionner sur les marchés parallèles du tabac (achats à l'étranger ou de contrebande, ou sur internet. Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts-

und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger.

Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

access to tobacco products

problem definition

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer*problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Rauchverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. explanations

comments

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer*problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Rauchverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

questions on reporting

problem definition

No

explanations

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

which option

access to tobacco products*problem definition

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermischen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Es gibt keinen überzeugenden Beleg dafür, dass ein Warnhinweis umso wirksamer ist, je größer sein Format. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

questions on reporting

problem definition

No

explanations

Ob die Behörden Schwierigkeiten bei Vergleich und Analyse der Daten haben oder die

Erfassung und Analyse der gemeldeten Daten über Inhaltsstoffe erhebliche Ressourcen auf Seiten der zuständigen nationalen Behörden erfordern, wie von der Kommission dargestellt, kann nicht beurteilt werden. Wenn dies so wäre, verwundert es sehr, dass der Anstoß in Richtung einer Vereinheitlichung und Vereinfachung nicht aus den Mitgliedstaaten selbst hervorgeht, sondern von der Kommission vorgebracht wird und dann im Zusammenhang mit einer Option, die der Wirtschaft zusätzliche dauerhafte Kosten (jährliche Gebühr) auferlegen würde. Die Mitgliedstaaten selbst sind gefordert, zusammen mit der Wirtschaft einen pragmatischen Weg zu diskutieren und umzusetzen. Ein notwendiger Handlungsbedarf oder gar ein Mandat der Kommission zum Eingriff in bestehende nationale Abläufe wird nicht ersichtlich.

which option

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

No

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E

Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer*problem definition

No

explanations

nicht—die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des reinnationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

No

explanations

zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

No change

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

explanations

which option

explanations

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting*problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients*problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche

Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

which option

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemdarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemdarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Eine Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

problem definition

No

explanations

which option

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

oder eine Regulierung von Zusatzstoffen und entbehrt jeglicher wissenschaftlicher Grundlage. Die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

access to tobacco products

problem definition

No

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions scope*problem definition

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen

Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemendarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemendarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

Einheitspackung würde den Wesensgehalt des Markenrechts und damit auch die Interessen der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

questions on reporting

problem definition

No

explanations

which option

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

Die Verbreitung des Rauchens in Ländern wie Großbritannien und Irland, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

access to tobacco products

problem definition

No

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung ist keine sachgerechte, an wissenschaftlichen Prüfstrategien und Standards orientierte und am Maßstab der Verhältnismäßigkeit ausgerichtete Diskussionsgrundlage. Die Darstellung, dass in einer Vielzahl von Mitgliedstaaten der Vertrieb von Tabakautomaten verboten ist, ist keine Problembeschreibung. Die Problembeschreibung trifft nicht zu. In 15 Mitgliedstaaten der EU 27 dürfen Tabakwaren über Automaten abgegeben werden. Dieser folgt i.d.R. unter strengen gesetzlichen Auflagen der nationalen Regierungen. Der Problembeschreibung stimme ich nicht zu. Die Bereiche „Verkauf von Tabakwaren über Zigarettenautomaten“ und „Mindestaltersgrenzen für den Bezug von Tabakwaren“ sind Themen, die eindeutig in den Zuständigkeitsbereich der Mitgliedstaaten fallen. Die Problembeschreibung „Zigarettenautomat“ ist überflüssig, da die Kommission selbst bereits bei ihrem Bericht zur Umsetzung der Ratsempfehlung 2003/54/E Caus November 2009 festgehalten hat: –Insgesamt ist die Umsetzung der Empfehlung zufrieden stellend. –Dies betrifft insbesondere die Verpflichtung, das Mindestalter für den Kauf von Tabakwaren zu überprüfen sowie die Durchführung von Maßnahmen zur Beschränkung der Verwendung von Automaten durch in der jährige Personen.

questions scope*problem definition

No

explanations

Die Problemdarstellung enthält lediglich vage Einschätzungen im Hinblick auf eine mögliche Binnenmarktverzerrung oder ein mögliches Versagen bei der Sicherstellung eines hohen Gesundheitsschutzniveaus aufgrund fehlender einheitlicher Bestimmungen für die

Regulierung von nikotinhaltigen oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Mitgliedstaaten. Zudem vermeidet die Kommission jede Form der Wertung in Bezug auf das Subsidiaritäts- und Verhältnismäßigkeitsprinzip. Jede Form der Regulierung von „Tabakerzeugnissen“ muss auf der Grundlage wissenschaftlicher Erkenntnisse sowie der zweifelsfrei gegebenen Rechtssetzungskompetenz der EU basieren. Dies gilt auch für mögliche Regulierungen oder gar Verbote für nikotinhaltige Produkte, die keinen Tabak enthalten oder zigarettenähnliche Produkt (Kräuterzigaretten). Eine Einbeziehung von nikotinhaltigen Produkten oder zigarettenähnlichen Produkten in den Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie kann nicht allein aus der Begründung heraus erfolgen, dass diese Produkte neu sind und nach der Auffassung der Kommission auch auf eine entsprechende Nachfrage in den einzelnen Märkten der EU 27 treffen. Oder aus der Begründung heraus, dass diese Produkte bisher keiner wissenschaftlichen Bewertung (Unbedenklichkeitsprüfung) unterzogen wurden.

questions smokeless

problem definition

comments

Der Konsum rauchloser Tabakerzeugnisse durch erwachsene und aufgeklärte Personen gefährdet weder die Gesundheit Dritter noch schränkt der Konsum dieser Produkte andere Personen in ihren Lebensgewohnheiten ein. Der Konsum dieser Produkte liegt in der Eigenverantwortung des Einzelnen. Das Bewerben und Verkaufen dieser Produkte muss daher möglich sein. Das EU-weite Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) stellt eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger dar. Denn die erwachsenen Verbraucher haben das Recht, auch bei Genussmitteln mit Gesundheitsrisiken die Wahl zu haben und eigenverantwortliche Entscheidungen zu treffen. Aus der Problemendarstellung der Kommission lässt sich keine wissenschaftlich fundierte Grundlage ableiten, die ein EU-weites Verbot von Snus (Ausnahme Schweden) oder anderer rauchloser Produkte rechtfertigen könnte. Beispielsweise vermissen wir in der Problemendarstellung wissenschaftlich fundierte Wirkungsanalysen aus Ländern, in denen Snus oder andere rauchlose Tabakerzeugnisse konsumiert werden.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

der Verbraucher verletzen. Eine Marke dient nämlich auch als Herkunftshinweis und ist somit ein unverzichtbares Element zur Wahrung der Entscheidungs- und Wahlfreiheit der Bürger. Die Einführung von Einheitspackungen für Zigaretten wäre eine massive Entmündigung der Bürger. Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise, dass Tabakverpackungen und Produktmerkmale von Tabakerzeugnissen das Raucherverhalten von Verbrauchern beeinflussen/fördern, existieren nicht. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv und bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationaltätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Die Kommission selbst hat im Rahmen der Tabak-Produkt-Richtlinie die Höchstgehalte an Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid begrenzt. Eine Darstellung, dass Verbraucher aufgrund der niedrigeren Höchstgehalte den Konsum der Produkte als weniger riskant für ihre Gesundheit einstufen könnten, ist daher absurd.

problem definition

No

explanations

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

vorwiegend Zigaretten ohne Zusatzstoffe verkauft werden (Produkte des Virginia-Typs), ist nicht geringer als die Verbreitung in Ländern, in denen vorwiegend Zigaretten mit Zusatzstoffen (American-Blend-Produkte) verkauft werden. Wettbewerbsrechtliche Auswirkungen einer einseitigen Regulierung von Produkten mit Zusatzstoffen werden nicht thematisiert. Die Frage nach der Wirkung auf das Preisgefüge in den EU 27 Märkten sowie Effekte auf den illegalen Handel mit Tabakerzeugnissen werden nicht thematisiert.

access to tobacco products

problem definition

explanations

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

questions smokeless
problem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer
problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products
problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

which option

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting*problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients*problem definition

No

explanations

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products*problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting
problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients*problem definition

No

explanations

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products*problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

There is no evidence of the correlation between display ban and consumption bent. In other experiences – see Canada – important loss have been recorded for the tobacco retailers: structural reorganization of the shop, higher management costs and important reduction of the profitability with the consequent risk of giving up the business. Also increasing of illegal products sale (counterfeited and smuggled).

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients
problem definition

No

explanations

It is not possible to prove in advance which is the possible impact of an ingredient in terms of toxicity; targeting lists in advance, positively or negatively, would be in contrast with this statement; risk of product standardisation with a consequent reduction of the principle of free market and the risk of increase of counterfeited products.

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions smokeless

problem definition

No

comments

No scientific evidence concerning the risks related to smokeless tobacco products consumption.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer

problem definition

No

explanations

No scientific evidence proving that bigger warnings determine a better knowledge of the suggested messages; no scientific evidence on the relation between the use of a particular graphic and the impact on consumers.

which option

No change

additional comments

The knowledge of how harmful tobacco would be is already of a high level, also on the basis of the existing warnings; no value added by the increase of information; negative impact on the fulfilments of sector's operators and of tobacco retailers; full aversion to plain packaging because of the confusion on manufacturers identification brands, with a consequent proliferation of illegal trade of counterfeited as well as smuggled products.

questions on reporting

problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients

problem definition

No

explanations

which option

No Change

access to tobacco products

problem definition

Yes

which option

Controlled supply and access

which supply and access

Age verification of buyers and other legal conditions to be set for cross-border retail sale;
Access to vending machines to be restricted to adults

additional option

Sale to be carried out only within a network of specialized shops, provided with an appropriate license, which main activity is tobacco sale.

additional comments

nO SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE CONCERNING THE RISKS RELATED TO SMOKELESS TOBACCO PRODUCTS CONSUMPTION.

which option

Lifting the ban on snus

questions consumer*problem definition

No

explanations

NO SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE PROVING THAT BIGGER WARNINGS DETERMINE A BETTER KNOWLEDGE OF THE SUGGESTED MESSAGES; NO SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE ON THE RELATION BETWEEN THE USE OF A PARTICULAR GRAPHIC AND THE IMPACT ON CONSUMERS.

which option

No change

additional comments

questions on reporting*problem definition

Yes

which option

Establish a common compulsory reporting format

regulation of ingredients*problem definition

No

explanations

IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO PROVE IN ADVANCE WHICH IS THE POSSIBLE IMPACT OF AN INGREDIENT IN TERMS OF TOXICITY; TARGETING LISTS IN ADVANCE, POSITIVELY OR NEGATIVELY, WOULD BE IN CONTRAST WITH THIS STATEMENT; RISK OF PRODUCT STANDARDISATION WITH A CONSEQUENT REDUCTION OF THE PRINCIPLE OF FREE MARKET AND THE RISK OF INCREASE OF COUNTERFEITED PRODUCTS.

additional option

SALE TO BE CARRIED OUT ONLY WITHIN A NETWORK OF SPECIALIZED SHOPS, PROVIDED WITH AN APPROPRIATE LICENSE, WHICH MAIN ACTIVITY IS TOBACCO SALE.
