

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohamed Riyas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kestas Naraysas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally

sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kandasamy Ananbarasby

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Mahendran

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mrs Susan Amlani

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kinna Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shah Hussnain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gumanan Kanapathipallai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Muhammad Sheikh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hashim Hashim

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jashvant Joshi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr R Thanapalasingam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification affiliation

citizen

name

A Desai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Fazal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmed Saeed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Enver Ari

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gulam Suleman

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Neelkanth Bhudia

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rajan Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ademas Ltd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Sangaravel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Syed Raza

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gardford Ltd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Gansham Bhudia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K Raj

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sohrab Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Jegatheeswaran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ij Iss

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nilesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

James Townsend

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

P Sampay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Rajkumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Bamber

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bharat Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dhara Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Joypooranachanden

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hamin Lakha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alkesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jarsha Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pain Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jarsha Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Manish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Aman Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alpesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bharat Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajkumar Rajendran

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
K Shiva Haran

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A Ramsaha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sonu Kumar Mrutnurgnyan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chirag Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Thiagarajah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Navaratnam Sriroganatan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rishi A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Charlie Young

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ilyas Din

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Gobynath

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

U Balakuman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jaswinder Renoo

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jatinder Ranod

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lee Gisby

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sanjay Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yoga Lingam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ravi Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Naapal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karan Sivarajah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Billa Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Janson Bastiampillai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M S Ashraf

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ravichandran Navaratnam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naresh Singaram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jayleshi Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imran Mohammad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

N Tharem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zakir Achha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Erden Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kanti C Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cromwell News

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Kanisha Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sanjay Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jawad Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Hicks

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Samah Hassan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T Dyson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vicky Walker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T Sidebotham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yusuf Kazi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Johnson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anne Wilson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Barnes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C Rowson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

E Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

E Kadir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Aziz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Evelyn Marie Huckbody

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

L Gaughan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K More

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Beatson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Brett Kempton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Simmonite

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs S Phillipson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

L M Harrison

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lynn Mitchel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

V Henkngder

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification affiliation

citizen

name

Katerina Chanioti

email

Greece

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Brendan Kohli

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Barbara Cox

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joanne Hughes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Senotone

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michelle Scott

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Fellows

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lynn Mitchel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Inderjit Bassi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Antonis Sarris

email

Greece

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

V Hankngder

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sarah Hillier

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T Hairat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

F Hairat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmed Sheeraz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Stearn

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jessica Buckingham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stavroula Chanioti

email

Greece

country

21

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

aris ioannou

email

greece

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Petros Kebabtzis

email

Greece

country

48

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

additional option

The uniform package will lead to commercialization of the tobacco market

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

sofia topousloglou

email

greece

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

giorgos topousloglou

email

greece

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

kiriaki topousloglou

email

greece

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Vyron Chatziprodromou

email
Greece

country
32

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
The definition is unclear as it is titled "consumer information" but is only dealing with packaging.

explanations
No change

which improvement
No

additional option
No

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Bettina Grönert

email

Deutschland

country

54

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

sehr großer Verlust in meinem Geschäft ,einer Tankstelle, Kunden bleiben aus, kaufen keine Zigaretten mehr und somit auch keine anderen Produkte, BITTE KEINE ÄNDERUNGEN im Interesse der Tankstellenbesitzer ; der Gewinnverlust wäre enorm und würde uns an den Rande der Existenz bringen bzw. wir müßten schließen

explanations

No change

which improvement

KEINE ÄNDERUNGEN

additional option

Laßt es so in den Tankstellen wie es ist im Interesse der Tankstellenbesitzer - Betreiber und der Kunden

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

dardenne

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
p.e. je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
MARTIN

email
BELGIQUE

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
JE NE SUIS PAS D ACCORD

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
dardenne geoffrey

email
belgique

age
male

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ollive bvba

email

Belgium

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

not ok

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Heike Schmidt

email

Germany

country

46

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Hinweise sind völlig ausreichend. Ich glaube nicht, dass eine Steigerung möglich ist

explanations

No change

additional option

Leittragende sind die Einzelhändler. Die Spannen sinken bei niedrigeren Preisen. Das wird zu vielen Konkursen kleiner Händler führen, das wiederum zu massenhaft Arbeitslosigkeit. Einheitliche Verpackungen lassen sich viel leichter fälschen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R.C. Peppinck

email

Netherlands

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

martijn van werde

email

Netherlands

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DA SILVA GIL

email

Luxembourg

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord et non-fumeur ! Noous avons mis longtemps à gagner une certaine liberté personnelle Voilà que vous voulez nous lre ses 'enlever sous prétexte que l'homme ne sais pas prendre ses responsibilités Je suis non-fumeur.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ellen

email

Germany

country

35

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

it`s consumer right and consumer freedom to choose the brand / what about alcohol?

explanations

No change

additional option

I`m a consumer and I`m free to choose, it`s nobodys right to tell me what kind of cigarette I have to smoke: what about alcohol? that`s discrimination against us

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

menager

email

france

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pollak Andreas

email

Austria

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es gibt keinen Beweis das Warnhinweise zu weniger Raucher führt

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

buyse sabine

email

france

country

38

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

buyse sabine

email

france

country

38

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Blommaert Jean-Francois

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R. van Amstel

email

Netherlands

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bart Thys

email

België

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marcel Ambrosch

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Die Verbraucher sind durch Warnhinweise auf den Packungen genügend aufgeklärt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dirk Claessens

email
belgium

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
There is done enough to motivate smokers to stop smoking

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
jaumaux

email
belgium

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name PELLERIN Eric

email
France

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Si on fait cela pour le tabac, pourquoi ne rien faire contre l'alcool qui tue beaucoup plus ?

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

herzog

email

france

country

38

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

herzog

email

france

country

38

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

herzog

email

france

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Dahlmann

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

v

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kieffer JF

email

Luxembourg

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Warum nicht sofort eine Einheitpackung für alle Produkte die es zu kaufen gibt... Jeder soll das gleiche Auto fahren, die gleiche Kleidung tragen , ... HURRA , HURRA, EUROPA ...pffft

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andritsou Nena

email

Greece

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

the definition is unclear as it is titled 'consumer information' but is only dealing with packaging

explanations

No change

which improvement

No

additional option

No

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tony Vega

email

Greece

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shahid Yousaf

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sophia Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Barbara Johnston

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Muhammad Abdul Majid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Suman Gautam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Shah Alam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mr S Jeyakanthan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Iqbal Shafi

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Abbas Afzal

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Faisal Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sumit Navet

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naveed Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sunny

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Suresh Adhikari

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Malone

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ibrahim Jollak

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shafiq-Ur-Rehman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Saleem Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Shahid Farooq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Santianse

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naeem Qureshi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kenneth Middleton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mauro Pacith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gary John

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification affiliation

citizen

name

Farooq Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tahir Bashir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nadeem Akhtar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ashrif Mohammed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Giuseppe Andrecci

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Khalid Gulzar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Bandoni

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Agnes Ferguson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ishwaria Amore

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abdul Rashid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Naheed Ghaffar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

William Miller

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zubair

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anne Hannah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Hanif

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Brown

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Asif

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Skubk Karan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rachael Margaret Denham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs R Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stuart Fraser

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Helen Reid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ashiq Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Antony Martin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bruce Adamson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Samia Akhtar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dalwinder Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nikolaos Dounis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The definition is unclear as it is titled "consumer information" but is only dealing with packaging.

explanations

No change

which improvement

No

additional option

No

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dawood Masood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mandeep Benning

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Miss Rahat Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification affiliation

citizen

name

Umar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adnan Majeed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Imran Akram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Samia Akhtar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Graham Long

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jacqueline Carson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rachel Turkington

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Clare Gerwin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D'ANCHISE

email

France

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Robinson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martin Barry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sinead Barry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sheila Monaghan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joe Monaghan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Una McRory

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shauna Gallagher

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Linda Fee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Roisin McConville

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification affiliation

citizen

name

Neringa Salamanaviciene

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marian Donnelly

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael McArdle

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Emma toner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Terry O'Hanlon

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Stephen Savage

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A Murphy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M O Higgins

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Derek McAllen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Lynch

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joseph Harvey Lynch

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stephen Smyth

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aisling O'Neill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Deidre Robinson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nicholas Rainey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gary Flynn

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aine Fearon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Linda Dolan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sara Louise Byrne

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Janie McKee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Deborah Morgan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cristina Leone

email

Italy

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Deidre McDonald

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Laurence McGuigan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ben McGivern

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tariq Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Miller

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jane Renwick

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Asad Sarfraz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

James McHutchison

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lynne McHutchison

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ronald A McLay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alison Armstrong

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hannah Lawrie

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Amanda Norman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Martha Haining

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sodhi Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kamaldeep Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Stewart

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zaigham Jaffri

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Taylor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shahid Ghulam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Faisal Omar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

James Wilson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naveed Ahmad

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Kaz

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vicky Karapanagiotidou

email

Greece

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

which improvement

No

additional option

No

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jan Riber

email

Denmark

country

35

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

which improvement

generic packaging is no good idea. This will only make life easy for counterfitters and leave to EU with the loss of tax money and increased spending on trying to catch counterfitters. Introduce a tax seal in the plastic wrapping stripe.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

dieter stempel

email

germany

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

kurzynski

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas du tout d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

GASSER PIERRE

email

france

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i am not

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

je

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

TINA RUIZ VISIEDO

email

ESPAÑA

country

54

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information; Introduce generic or plain packaging

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

which improvement

IMPOSICIÓN DEL EMPAQUETADO PLANO, QUE NO PERMITA A LAS MARCAS DIFERENCIARSE GRÁFICAMENTE UNA DE OTRA, PARA ELIMINAR ASÍ EL ATRACTIVO DE LOS DISEÑOS DE MARCA, PERO SIN QUE ESO IMPIDA LA IMPRESIÓN DE AVISOS SANITARIOS GRÁFICOS Y OTRAS INFORMACIONES SOBRE LOS PERJUICIOS DEL TABACO.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Goebel,Heike

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein National tätigen Gross - und Einzelhandel in Deutschland. Ich bin alt genug für mich selbst zuentscheiden sowie die anderen Personen auch.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Katarzyna Kowalewicz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Saqib Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

alba portales zaragoza

email

spain

country

30

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bernard Eric

email

Luxembourg

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christina Quast

email

Germany

country

29

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephan Hilge

email

Deutschland

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Tabakwaren sind legale Produkte und müssen legal bewerbbar bleiben.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

GOLINVAUX

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Christian Maartz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paulet

email

Belgium

country

33

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord avec le fait de cacher les produits du tabac, que l'on crée plutôt un canal de distribution de référence chez les libraires (en ce compris les night-shop) et que nous agissions en tant que vendeur responsable. plutôt que de criminaliser la vente de ces produits qui rapporte à l'état

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Büscher

email

Deutschland

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ravenel muriel

email

france

country

44

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Knaus Karin

email

Belgium

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree with this

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

François Elvinger

email

Luxembourg

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Godefroy Jean-Francois

email

Belgium

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Respect de la marque pour une garantie de fabrication. Paquets "blancs" = incitation à la contrefaçon et augmentation du risque pour la santé

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Depaifve

email

Belgium

country

77

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

J'en ai marre que l'on chasse chier le monde avec les attaques incessantes contre le tabac.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Demitri Cosimo

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christos Harpantidis

email

Greece

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no evidence of the effectiveness

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

spiros Tsirogiannis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PAVLOS VERDELIS

email

GREECE

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NOTHING

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

VAGGELIS VAVOULAKIS

email

GREECE

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΕΤΑΞΑΣ ΝΙΚΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΣΤΕΡΓΙΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ ΧΑΡΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΕΛΕΥΘΕΡΙΑΝΟΣ ΑΝΤΩΝΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΑΣΧΟΛΙΑΣΤΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΑΡΗΣ ΒΕΓΓΕΛΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΤΡΙΑΝΤΑΦΥΛΛΟΥ ΙΩΑΝΝΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΑ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΚΥΡΙΑΚΟΥ ΘΑΝΑΣΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Majid Majeed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mudasar Majeed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Farooq Ehsan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Saifudehin Syed

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mumtaz Ali

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

N Sangha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pardeep Jerath

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shaqiq Mohal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ranjit Kaur Dosanjh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΣΤΕΡΓΙΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΑ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sharon Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Elaine Yarker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jackie Julhand

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Ameer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lynne Cooper

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

L Marsh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rachel Roberts

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rachhpal S Dosanjh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maureen McManus

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ullah Rashid

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alireza Jalali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ghazala Farooq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Qaiser Farooq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rashid Ullah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amanda Boustead

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ms Satvinder Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Lockwood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Maria Spears

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Harbind Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Balbir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Natalija Rovnova

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΒΟΡΡΟΠΟΥΛΟΥ ΝΕΛΛΥ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΑ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Arif Ayyub

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ikram Afzam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sikandar Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Waleed Raza

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajendra R Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Neelam Budwal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Iram Shazad Moghal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ash Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nandip Singh Khera

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sheraz Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tahir Maroop

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Amarjit Sembi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Asad Alibutt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mahesh Randvaya

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

L Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ninta Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΡΟΥΓΚΑΣ ΓΕΩΡΓΙΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΑ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dusaucy

email

Belgique

country

69

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

p.e.Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Ritesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nilesh Wadhvani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Sandeepaul Grewal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Priory News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dinesh Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Louise Turner

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Janis Peaty

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ursula hill

email

Deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

unsere Existenz ist damit gefährdet

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Craig Bennett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karen Dawkins

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tanya Hilton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lorraine Raybould

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lisa Langston

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lynn Hamilton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alex Hamilton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sue Cragg

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Leigh Bevan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Phil Gittus

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Angela Gittus

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Owen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Liz Nicholls

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Simon Cooper

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Julie Newstead

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Greg Imamoglu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Saunders

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rajini Subramaniam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter John Stocker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michele Stocker

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Rebecca Podmore

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tracey Langford

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Ashmi H Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Munday

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Mainwood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Moore

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sebamalai John Francis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Yasotankan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Riaz Mughal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T Rait

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Syed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mus

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jatinder Pul

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Timothy Williamson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anwar Ibrahim

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Katarina

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Waked Rashid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kashmir Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C S Johal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

G Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Saleem Akhtar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nick Brown

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sivalingam Subaskaran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Yusuf Hassan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Christina Carabela

email

Greece

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

δεν έχω σχόλιο

explanations

No change

which improvement

δεν έχω σχόλιο

additional option

δεν έχω σχόλιο

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Qasim Tufail

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mudaser Afzal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs K Ravi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Warrinder Johal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alison Wood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Gianesh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hari Sinan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr T Ravi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Becky Tasker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Subash Chabra

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
J Parkinson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Katarzyna Kowalewicz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dapakaki

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Saob Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A jalil

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rashid Younin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jayendra Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs J Bartholomew

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yogendra P Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Shanmuhalingam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Satheesh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Padmasiri

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S S Kumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karlheinz Sobottka

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es fängt keiner an zu Rauchen weil die Packung so schön bunt ist. Der Schwarzmarkt freut sich über eine kostengünstige Verpackung.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bastian Middeke

email

Deutschland

country

26

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Das Bewusstsein für die Risiken des Rauchens wird durch Bilder oder Warnhinweise auf den Schachteln nicht verstärkt, da diese Risiken hinlänglich bekannt und jedem Raucher bewusst sind. Jediglich dem Schmuggel wird Tür und Tor geöffnet. Weiterhin kann jeder Raucher im europäischen Ausland, wo die neuen Regeln nicht angewand werden, seine Tabakwaren erwerben.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

serre thomas

email

france

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

petros drakoularakos

email

greece

country
29

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
PARIS DRAKOURAKOS

email
greece

country
32

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no coments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

KATERINA GEORGOGIANNI

email

greece

country

28

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no coments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Venter Francis

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

non merci je ne veux pas que vous changiez le système

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ludovic FROISSARD

email

France

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Smoking is my choice ! Enough is enough ! You overpass limit of my liberty !

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tom

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Rauchen ist legal

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tanja Schaper

email

germany

country

41

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

I think we don't need white or black packages. We need more pictures and more colours. I think it is a war to the law-and product-pirates.

additional option

I think we don't need white or black packages. We need more pictures and more colours. I think it is a war to the law-and product-pirates.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ollga Koukouma

email

Greece

country

48

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
There is no relation between pack and smoking appetite.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
petros Venetis

email
Greece

country
67

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
People don't get an appetite to smoke from packs. Only sick minds might think this way

explanations
No change

which improvement
Get Rid of the sick minds that thought of this

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

viktor karl

email

austria

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PETROS VENETIS

email

Reece

country

67

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Packaging might attract smokers from one brand to the other. Only a sick mind might believe that it would create an appetite for smoking.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Identify and get rid of the sick minds that believe there is a problem.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ralf Fuchs

email

Deutschland

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es bestehen bereits nationale Regelungen die funktionieren, eine zusätzliche übergeordnete Reglementierung ist nicht nötig. Die Einführung größerer eventuell abschreckenderer Bilder ist nicht gleichzusetzen mit Konsumverzicht. Ferner sehe ich hier einen Widerspruch zum Jugendschutz wo gerade solche abscheulichen Bilder von Kindern und Jugendlichen ferngehalten werden sollen. Durch neutrale Verpackungen wird das Fälschen und in Verkauf bringen von Fälschungen vereinfacht.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΣΟΦΡΑΣ ΘΕΜΙΣΤΟΚΛΗΣ

email

Ελλάδα

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
ασχολιαστο

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΜΑΡΟΥΔΗΣ ΝΙΚΟΛΑΟΣ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ΑΝΕΥ ΣΧΟΛΙΑΣΜΟΥ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΣΤΕΡΓΙΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ ΓΕΩΡΓΙΟΣ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

XΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

KATERINA DEPASTA

email

GREECE

country

32

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dietmar Lütgert

email

Deutschland

country

45

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

keine Bevormundung durch die EU - verstößt gegen Grundrechte Gefährdung von Arbeitsplätzen, mehr Arbeitslose somit mehr Verpflichtung für den Staat, diese zu unterstützen und somit droht irgendwann der Kollaps

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

LABEYRIE

email

FRANCE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

LOSE MY JOB

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Torsten@scheiper.org

email

deutschland

country

38

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Den Rauchern ist das Risiko des Rauchens bekannt und wird durch eine Umstellung der Verpackung nicht noch bewusster gemacht. Wenn es nur noch neutrale Verpackung geben würde, wird das Schmuggeln vereinfacht und nicht weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Torsten Scheiper

email

Deutschland

country

38

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Tabakwaren ist genauso ein Genussmittel wie Alkohol und Süßwaren und ist genauso risikoreich für die Gesundheit. Mit den vorgeschlagenen Massnahmen werden Grundrechte eingeschränkt. Dies steht nicht im Verhältnis zu den tatsächlichen Risiken. Die Kriminalität und der Schmuggel wird meiner Meinung nach sehr schnell steigen, da legale Verkaufs- bzw. Bezugsstellen verschwinden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ranwez brigitte

email

belgique

country

35

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

JE NE SUIS PAS DACCORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

jose miguel garrido lobato

email

españa

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nicole Höntges

email

Deutsch

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Risiken des Rauchens sind bekannt, Bilder auf Zigarettenpackungen verstärken das Bewusstsein für jene Probleme nicht! Laut einem Patalogen der in einer TV-Schau aufgetreten ist, sind diese Bilder eh nicht echt! Weiße Umverpackungen sind Preiswerter wodurch die Zigaretten a) entweder Preiswerter angeboten werden können oder b) Zigarettenproduzierende Firmen höher Gewinne erwirtschaften können.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Basilis Boutzoukakis

email

Greece

country

47

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
THEODOROU MARIA

email
Greece

country
29

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

George Boutzoukakis

email

Greece

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mercedes Alonso

email

Belgique

country

61

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ni la taille, ni la nature des avertissements n'ont une influence sur les consommateurs. Il est inadmissible qu'un produit vendu legalement subisse de tels contraintes. Les consommateurs sont largement informés quant aux dangers du tabac. Si j'achete un produit de tabac, je suis conscient des dangers.

explanations

No change

additional option

Il faut arreter de prendre les consommateurs de tabac pour des débiles qui ne savent pas juger si un produit est dangereux pour la santé ou pas.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Francini

email

france

country

45

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Fabienne AUMASSON

email

Luxembourg

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kerstin Marpe

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martin Monaghan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Rock

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Colin Tanner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Leslie Lyttle

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adrian France

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Killian Morgan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Richard Gallery

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kiwy Serge

email

Luxembourg

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich bin nicht einverstanden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Moore

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Robinson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jonathan Lockhart

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
John Robinson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Anne Robinson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
David Kelly

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lucas Weir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Medlow

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael James McClelland

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alan Ewing

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Philip Hastings

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gavin Campbell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Shannon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chloe Tate

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Shannon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Graeme Cole

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imran Javed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tahir Basran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ciaran Lowry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nan Campbell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M L Thomas Taylor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Caitlin Burns

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ann Brady

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Robert Laverty

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Conor Smyth

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cera O'Reilly

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Des Dannelly

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Darren Hill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

David Walker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Evangelene Haffey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Baxter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Carole Turkington

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Susan Mellors

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jonathan Titmuss

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kirsty Mccrory

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Noel Cox

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Carrie Monaghan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Conor Quinn

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Louise Rafferty

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paul McNamee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Helen Watt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

romain hoffmann

email

Luxembourg

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

we have had enough information about this product.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

romain hoffmann

email

luxembourg

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I believe that there is plenty enough of information for the consumer to make an educated and responsible choice. We do not need any further reglementations.

explanations

No change

additional option

Please do not spoil tax payer money on superfluous initiatives like this one

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

CHRISTINA THEODOROU

email

GREECE

country

29

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Melitta Ziwes

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

warum wollt Ihr die guten Arbeitsplätze in der Tabac-Industrie kaputt machen

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ludwig Ziwes

email

Deutschland

country

52

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

hey

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dimitris Karpouzas

email

Greece

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gazi Elezi

email
albania

country
33

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no coment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name PELLERIN Eric

email
FRANCE

country
47

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
It's stupid and really affraid. Where is my liberty in my Country ?

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

dairain fabrice

email

france

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne veux pas voir de paquets blancs avec des photos qui ne servent à rien tout comme les mentions sanitaires..... Laissez nous nos paquets ....

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stefan Adams

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

It's not possible to discern between the products. All look the same. May be, you will take the wrong, for example, the "stronger" product. And this is not really an answer for the "smoking" problem.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Corinne Camusel

email

Luxembourg

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MENAGER JEAN CHRISTOPHE

email

FRANCE

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

JE NE SUIS PAS D'ACCORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

αλεξανδρα δημοου

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alba

email

Ελλάδα

country

33

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΑΡΙΝΟΣ ΚΟΖΟΜΠΙΟΛΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

25

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Georgiades

email

Greece

country

24

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No change

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
de Wasseige

email
Belgium

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I disagree.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Ronald de Jong

email

Netherlands

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΚΟΥΛΑ ΦΩΤΕΙΝΗ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Χωρίς σχολιασμό

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Μπούτσης Γεώργιος

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Χωρίς σχόλια

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

gillet

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ANTONIS PITIANOS

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MARIANNA TSOLI

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Panos Ioannou

email

Greece

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Siskos Ilias

email

Greece

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Despina Siskou

email

Greece

country

36

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chara Masseli

email

Greece

country

28

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stayros Makrygeorgakis

email

Greece

country

25

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nancy Bourouni

email

Greece

country

26

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nancy Bourouni

email

Greece

country

26

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nancy Bourouni

email

Greece

country

26

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nancy Bourouni

email

Greece

country

26

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Soundias Haris

email

Greece

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ISS Facility Services

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adam Molnar

email

Hungary

country

24

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ANASTASIA FLOKA

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I want to see different packages as all products in the market - I want to be able to see and choose what i want

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nancy Lepla

email

Belgie

country

41

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no change please !

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nancy Lepla

email

belgium

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

in my view : no change please.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΗΜΗΤΡΗΣ ΜΑΡΚΟΥΛΗΣ

email

ελλαδα

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΦΟΤΟΥΛΑ ΜΑΡΚΟΥΛΙ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country
45

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΜΑΡΑΗΚΟΥΔΑΚΗΣ ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΦΛΟΚΑ ΔΗΜΗΤΡΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

eftalia kotsp

email

greece

country

19

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FILIP DUPI

email

GREECE

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
lorens kotso

email
greece

country
24

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΓΕΩΡΓΙΟΣ ΣΓΑΡΔΑΝΑΣ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country
46

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Weber Hubert

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
einheitsverpackung erleichtert das fälschen und gefährdet durch schlechte bis gefährliche, unkontrollierte produkte die gesundheit noch stärker. durch einheitsverpackungen nur noch preiskampf, billigere zigaretten fürs taschengeld der Jugendlichen.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Stefan Verschelden

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Measures will not have the expected results and do not make sense.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DAVAR

email

BELGIUM

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO CHANGE

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lourdes Lazaro Asegurado

email

spain

country

52

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information; Introduce generic or plain packaging

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R.J.LM Magielse

email

Holland

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stavros Kourentzis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I like colors

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R.J.LM Magielse

email

Holland

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Afrim Cala

email

Italy

country

31

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA SXOLIO

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Αλεξάνδρα Μαρκου

email

Ελλάδα

country

24

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

κανενα σχολιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Herbert Giehl

email

Deutschland

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich möchte als Bürger Europas nicht in einem so hohen Maße bevormundet werden. All die vorgeschlagen Maßnahmen führen dazu das rauchen immer interessanter für junge Leute gemacht wird,denn alles verbotene wird ja erst richtig interessant.Außerdem wird die Kriminalität im Bereich Tabakwaren sprunghaft ansteigen.Nie war es einfacher als durch Plain Packing.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Die Massnahmen können und dürfen sich nur auf die frühzeitige Aufklärung über die die Gefahren des Rauchens beschränken.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adi Zace

email

Ελλαδα

country

33

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

κανενα σχολιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

OLSI LAHO

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

29

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
madentzoglou

email
greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Nikitopoulos Evangelos

email
greece

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΚΩΣΤΑΣ ΕΛΕΥΘΕΡΑΤΟΣ

email

EΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

descamps valerie

email

belgië

country

42

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change; Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Klementina peshtanaku

email

greece

country

30

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Toni Samora

email

España

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No estoy de acuerdo en que se modifique la apariencia externa del cigarrillo. No es efectivo para evitar el consumo. Con cambiar las cajetillas sería suficiente.

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SCHUL

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ISS

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thérer Luc

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DBN

email

Belgium

country

50

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

There is no credible or scientific evidence which demonstrates this is a necessary step. This problem definition tries to cover too many options at once. Packaging provides consumers who wish to purchase products with information about the product they have chosen. Tobacco packaging has never been identified as a reason why children start to smoke or why adult smokers continue to choose to smoke. Plain packaging would lead to an increase in counterfeit products and illicit trade. It will have a negative impact on competition. Plain packaging expropriates the brand owners of valuable intellectual property.

explanations

No change

which improvement

No

additional option

No

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wolfgang Schlenk

email

Germany

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

APH

email

Belgium

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No. There is no credible or scientific evidence which demonstrates this is a necessary step. This problem definition tries to cover too many options at once. Packaging provides consumers who wish to purchase products with information about the product they have chosen. Tobacco packaging has never been identified as a reason why children start to smoke or why adult smokers continue to choose to smoke. Plain packaging would lead to an increase in counterfeit products and illicit trade. It will have a negative impact on competition. Plain packaging expropriates the brand owners of valuable intellectual property. Pictorial health warnings make no additional contribution to the public awareness of the risks.

explanations

No change

which improvement

no

additional option

no

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Claudia Maichel

email

Germany

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jochen Herter

email

Germany

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rainer Beiter

email

Germany

country

58

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Uwe Barth

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

alle Verbraucher sind durch presse u.a. publikationen genügend unterrichtet Warnhinweise sind groß genug bereits auf den Verpackungen

explanations

No change

additional option

-ohne spezielle Markenherausstellung durch Farbe und Logos wird der Kunde noch mehr verunsichert -für ausländische "Fälscher" ist es leichter Verpackungen zu produzieren -der Kunde findet schwerer heraus welche Sorte leicht oder mittel ist -ggf. fallende Preise könnten zu mehr Rauchern führen -sinkende Margen gefährden die notwendigen Handelsspannen - auch Jugendliche könnten zu Sorten greifen die niedrigere Preise haben, und eine höhere Gesundheitsbelastung mit sich bringen

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

demoulin olivier

email

belgique

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Notdurft, Stefan

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

-Die Bürger sind genügend darüber informiert das rauchen Gesundheitsrisiken birgt. -Da ich selbst Raucher bin kann ich nur sagen das man diese Hinweise irgendwann igmoriert.

explanations

No change

additional option

-Einheitsverpackungen sind ein Eingriff in den freien Wettbewerb und verwirren den Konsumenten. -Die Konsumenten können sich nur noch am Preis orientieren, dies würde die Preise sinken lassen, die Margen der Einzelhändler und aller Tabakverkäufer würden fallen bis hin zu einer exesteniellen Bedrohung. -Bei sinkenden Preisen hätten Jugendliche es leichter an Tabakwaren zu kommen.

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vanderschaeghe Alain

email

Belgium

country

43

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change; Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Inge Konopka

email

Deutschland

country

57

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Hannelore Kaufmann

email
Deutschland

country
61

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Birgit Müller

email

Deutschland

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mónica Regales Saiz

email

Spain

country

30

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

andreas bauer

email

deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Text 2

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

eva bauer

email

england

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten
Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten Text 2

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

bärbel netzer

email

england

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten
Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten Text 2

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anne thieme

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten
Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten Text 2

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

edith Graf

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten
Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten Text 2

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Claudia Maeser

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I think it is not the right of the EU to restrict the personal and economic rights of people or companies.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stefan Maugg

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I think it is not the task of the EU to restrict the personal and economic rights !

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Wolf Sandra

email

belgium

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T.Katsolis

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A.KOUREMENOS

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alec Raymond Fawcett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Thurlow

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Eric Grant

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Charles Molesbury

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rob Witcombe

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Raymond Sandall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Jackson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ioannis Litsios

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hasmukh Kakap

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

John Hutchison

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marion Wood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

B Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kostas Mathaiou

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Barlikas

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Gilmour

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sunny Gautam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Hubball

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anne Stark

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stella Bafilia

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No Comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ashrif Mohammed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stavros Sagriotis

email

Greece

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maria Bethani

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Gabriele Beutler

email

Deutschland

country

63

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Dharmesh Desai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stavros Sagriotis

email

Greece

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Natassa Drosou

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

David Barber

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gary Hotchkies

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Heather Richardson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael John Smith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Panos Vrinias

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aggeliki Korgiopolou

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Pela Englezos

email
Australia

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No Comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ANNA SAMARA

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Mandy Timber

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

diakakis nikos

email

greece

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sinanidis Vassilis

email

Greece

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Natalie forester

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kerstin Schwartz

email

Deutschland

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Maria Kopp

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tsatsaroni Christina

email

Greece

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΒΑΣΙΛΙΚΗ ΑΣΗΜΕΛΗ

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Manolis Kanterakis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Renate Milles

email

Deutschland

country

56

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Antrianna Kantera

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΤΣΙΜΟΥΡΗΣ ΕΥΣΤΡΑΤΙΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Antreas Kanter

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΣΤΡΑΤΟΣ ΑΣΗΜΕΛΗΣ

email
GREECE

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΧΡΗΣΤΟΣ ΚΑΙΡΑΤΣΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Antonis Kanterakis

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Made In Brain

email
Slovak republic

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Options 2 and 3 are not taking into account two important factors – the illicit trade and the value of cigarette brands. While the illicit trade and smuggling will receive a new impulse in the form of demand for cigarettes with “original” design and also the manufacture of counterfeit cigarettes will be much easier, the potential impact on the value of brands is very interesting. Not only is this an unprecedented attack on intellectual property, but it will in our judgment lead to court cases. These cases will likely be lost and will therefore cost the EU taxpayers billions of Euros. With doubtful potential of both measures to decrease the number of smokers, we think, that both Options, 2 and 3, are steps in a wrong direction.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΣΤΕΦΟΣ ΙΩΑΝΝΗΣ

email

EΛΛΑΔΑ

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA SXOLIO

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jörg Henning

email

Deutschland

country

27

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΙΣΣΑΝΟΣ ΚΩΣΤΑΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Antonis Papadakis

email

Greece

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Antonis Papadakis

email

Greece

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

γιωργος κοτσο

email

ελλαδα

country

22

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BASSETTI ARIALDO

email

ITALY

country

66

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FEDUCCI OMAR

email

ITALY

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΠΙΟΣΤΟΛΗΣ ΤΡΕΝΤΗΔΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

22

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SGUERRI DANIELA

email

ITALY

country

58

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MARCHISIELLO ANTONIA

email

ITALY

country

54

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΒΑΣΙΛΗΣ ΚΑΣΒΙΚΗΣ

email

ελλαδα

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

κανένα σχολιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΓΓΟΡΑ ΟΡΕΣΤΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΝΔΡΕΑΣ ΒΑΣΤΑΡΔΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

27

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΛΙΑΡΟΣ ΗΛΙΑΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GEORGE ASIMELIS

email

GREECE

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ineke van den Brandhof

email

Luxemburg

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rollus

email

Luxembourg

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

dauwe

email

b

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

René Berg

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird genügend Aufklärung betrieben. Die Risiken des Rauchens sind allgemein bekannt. Es ist völlig unsinnig abstoßende Bilder auf die Packungen zu drucken. Schließlich tragen Autos ja auch keine Fotos von verstümmelten Unfallopfern.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

herman van laecke

email

nederland

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PETER AICHHORN

email

Germany

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Die gegenwärtigen Informationen sind vollkommen ausreichend und dass Rauchen gesundheitsschädlich ist eine allgemein bekannte Tatsache. Eine Erweiterung der Information führt dazu, dass die Erzeugung von gefälschten Tabakprodukten erleichtert wird.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

haux

email

luxembourg

country

35

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PAPANGELO ANGELO

email

ITALY

country

38

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

La regolamentazione degli ingredienti inseriti nei prodotti del tabacco dovrebbe, a mio avviso, rimanere competenza degli Stati Membri, come già previsto dall'attuale Direttiva. Tale posizione si giustifica anche in considerazione dei risultati del rapporto del Comitato Scientifico sui Rischi per la Salute (c.d. SCENIHR), che è stato incaricato dalla Commissione Europea/ DG SANCO di valutare il ruolo degli ingredienti utilizzati nella produzione di prodotti del tabacco in riferimento all'assuefazione e all'attrattività degli stessi. Gli studi sulla tendenza all'assuefazione, infatti, non hanno dato prove certe circa un potenziale assuefativo attribuibile ad un singolo ingrediente utilizzato nei prodotti del tabacco, ferma restando l'assuefazione prodotta dalla nicotina. Per quanto riguarda l'attrattività, invece, questa si conferma come un concetto assolutamente arbitrario, soggettivo e privo di basi scientifiche, spesso correlato piuttosto ad elementi di natura commerciale. In virtù di tali considerazioni, quindi, sia la possibilità - prevista dall'opzione 2 - di introdurre criteri base per restringere o proibire l'uso di certi ingredienti nella produzione dei prodotti a base di tabacco, che quella - prevista dall'opzione 3 - di introdurre una lista comune di ingredienti (permessi o vietati), mi sembrano misure ingiustificate.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

PAPANGELO ANGELO

email

ITALY

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kourentzis Sakis

email

Greece

country

29

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I like designed packs.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Thomas Pietig

email
deutschland

country
46

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
This consultation is based on existing knowledge and aims at providing an early opportunity for all stakeholders to input on the possible need to revise the Directive and on the different policy options that such revision might involve

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

David del Castillo

email

deutschland

country

22

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

This consultation is based on existing knowledge and aims at providing an early opportunity for all stakeholders to input on the possible need to revise the Directive and on the different policy options that such revision might involve.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martina del Catsillo

email

deuscchland

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

This consultation is based on existing knowledge and aims at providing an early opportunity for all stakeholders to input on the possible need to revise the Directive and on the different policy options that such revision might involve

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

De Bauw Ludo

email

Belgium

country

58

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Risk of confusion

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Katharina Schmelzer

email

deutschland

country
22

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
However, Member States may apply more stringent rules in order to protect public health, insofar as such rules do not prejudice the rules laid down in the Directive

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Joseph Mousliadis

email
Greece

country
45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I'm not a smoker, but i have no problem with people who want to smoke.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Creatief Vosje

email

Belgie

country

48

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΡΑΓΟΥΜΑΝΟΣ ΔΗΜΗΤΡΗΣ

email

GREECE

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΟΥΔΕΝ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Judith Fritsch

email

Luxembourg

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Are you kidding me? Shall Alcohol be also sold looking all the same? Chocolate? Fast Food? What about market competition ? The consumer shall decide by himself what he wants to buy, how shall he do that if everything looks the same??!!

explanations

No change

which improvement

Yes, I highly recommend you to do this information/questionnary in more languages than only English - If this shall be an interactive policy making for European citizen, then you HAVE to publish this in other languages!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

additional option

See comment above... !

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gabriele Lieb

email

germany

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΑΝΙΑΣ ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ

email

GREECE

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΟΥΔΕΝ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΒΟΥΣΒΟΥΚΗΣ ΠΙΑΝΟΣ

email

GREECE

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ΟΥΔΕΝ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΗΛΙΟΠΟΥΛΟΥ ΛΕΟΝΙ

email
GREECE

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ΟΥΔΕΝ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
przemyslaw orlowski

email
poland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
because it's breaks trade mark rights and creat possibilty to more easier cheating

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
rewers Pierre-Paul

email
Belgium

country
62

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not agree, it will increase the illegal sale of sigarettes and it will put thousands op people out of a job

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

ΒΑΣΙΛΑΚΙΗΣ ΜΙΧΑΛΗΣ

email

GREECE

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΟΥΔΕΝ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MARTIN XAVIER

email

BELGIQUE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

PAS D'ACCORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΗΜΗΤΡΑ ΦΛΟΚΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MARTIN XAVIER

email

BELGIQUE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marion Nürrenberg

email

Bergisch Gladbach

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines bewusstsein der Risiken des rauchens. EinHinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht diese Bewusstsein nicht-die Bilder sind nur abstoßend und geben keine Infos Durch neutrale Verpackungen wird es Schmugglern noch leichter gemacht. In Ländern wo es schon Bildwarnhinweise gibt gibt es keine Nachweise ob dies abschreckt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

VASILAKI EFI

email

GREECE

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΟΥΔΕΝ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΗΜΗΤΡΑ ΦΛΟΚΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΒΑΣΙΛΑΚΗΣ ΝΙΚΟΛΑΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

7

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

DELLA ROCCA

email

BELGIQUE

country

61

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

JE NE SUIS PAS D'ACCORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cochet

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Berscheid Jemp

email

Luxemburg

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Berscheid Jemp

email

Luxembourg

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hardi Kinnas, Orangetime Event OÜ

email

Estonia

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Tubakapakendi ühtlustamine viib kaoseni. Sooviksime esitada seisukoha esitatud dokumendi "Variandis 3" toodud ettepaneku kohta standardiseerida tubakatoodete pakendid. Oleme seisukohal, et kaubamärk tagab usalduse, annab garantii toote kvaliteedi osas ning loob võimaluse eristada originaaltoodangut võltstoodangust. Võltskaup ei ole aga enam mitte üksnes kaubamärgiomanike probleem, vaid sellest on saanud laiaulatuslik maksu- ja tervishoiualane mure. Kui kõik pakendid näevad välja ühesugused, on neid ka lihtne võltsida ning on väga raske eristada originaali järeletehtust. Küsimus ei ole suitsetamise propageerimises vaid kaubamärgi puutumatuses. Kaubamärgi puutumatust aga sätestavad mitmed üldtunnustatud rahvusvahelised õigusaktid alates WTO TRIPS leppest ja lõpetades Maailma Intellektuaalomandiorganisatsiooni Pariisi Konventsiooniga Tööstusomandi Kaitsest. Komisjoni poolt avalikuks konsultatsiooniks esitatud ettepanekud on ärevust tekitavad, sest samamoodi võiks siis lähitulevikus kaotada õllede, limonaadide, hamburgerite ja teiste "mittetervislike" toodete kaubamärgid. Tulemuseks oleks üks suhteliselt hall maailm, lisaks turundussektori tuntav kahanemine ja töökohtade kadumine. Oleme oma tegevuses õppinud vältima ekstreemsusi, sest need ei anna soovitud tulemusi. Me ei soovi propageerida suitsetamist kuid ei näe ka ühtegi põhjust kaubamärkide kaotamiseks. Seda nii tubakatööstuses ega ka muudes tootmisharudes. Seetõttu leiame, et Euroopa Komisjon peaks standardiseeritud tubakapakendite ettepanekust ülaltoodud kaalutlustel loobuma. Orangetime Event OÜ Hardi Kinnas

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daniel Horvath

email

deutschland

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jeder kennt die Risiken des Rauchens. Wenn solch abstoßende Bilder auf den Packungen sind eckelt es mich nur an und ich versuche die Verpackung deswegen zu ändern indem ich die Zigaretten in ein anderes Etui tue. Weil Rauchen für mich ein Luxusartikel ist und ich diesen gerne genieße werden mich irgendwelche Bilder auf garkeinen Fall davon abhalten zu rauchen. Deutschland hat sowieso ein viel zu großes Problem mit Schmuggelware, durch ein einheitliches weiß wird dieses Problem nur noch mehr verstärkt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Topke Jelena

email

belgie

country

23

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DE BOECK LEON

email

BELGIUM

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga er niet mee akkoord!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DE BOECK LEON

email

BELGIUM

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga hier niet mee akkoord!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Αστέριος Γ. Ροντούλης, Βουλευτής ΛΑ.Ο.Σ., Νομού Λάρισας

email

Ελλάδα

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karel De Petter

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Irene Schmalen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
Kein Kommentar

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Asterios G. Rontoulis

email
Greece

country
45

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
Improve consumer information

which option
Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
dimitra kostaki

email
GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

θα είναι πολύ ευκολή η αντιγραφή των προϊόντων και θα κυκλοφορούν επικίνδυνα προϊόντα τα οποία δεν θα μπορεί να ξεχωρίσει ο καταναλωτής. Οι μεγάλες εταιρείες έχουν τη δυνατότητα να παράγουν πακέτα με πολύπλοκα γραφικά τα οποία δύσκολα αντιγράφονται ή τουλάχιστον όταν αντιγράφονται μπορούν και ανιχνεύονται από τους καταναλωτές

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ollevier

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

pas DU TOUT d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mauroit Josette

email

Belgium

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Patrick van der Bruggen

email
Belgium

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree at all

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Volker Graul

email
Germany

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

das Rauchen ungesund ist, ist JEDEM Raucher klar. Ebenso weiß auch jeder, daß Alkoholkonsum, fettes Essen etc. nicht gesund sind. Dem mündigen Bürger ist aber uzutrauen, für sich selber eine Entscheidung zu treffen. Wer trotz seit Jahrzehnten laufender Aufklärungskampagnen immer noch bewusst die Entscheidung zum Rauchen trifft, wird sich auch durch weitere Warnhinweise, Angaben von Inhaltsstoffen etc. nicht vom Rauchen abhalten lassen. Bei übertriebenem Aktionismus besteht zudem die Gefahr, Reaktanzen hervorzurufen (nach dem Motto "jetzt erst recht!"). Tabakkonsum ist ab einem gewissen Alter legal und nicht zu verdammen, solange durch den Konsum keine Unbeteiligten und Nicht-Raucher geschädigt und belästigt werden.

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory

additional option

Einheitspackungen sind völliger Unsinn, da das den Tabakschmuggel und Produktfälschungen extrem vereinfacht. Gefälschte Produkte mit nicht nachzuvollziehenden Inhaltsstoffen können so leichter auf den Markt gelangen und das Problem sogar noch verschärfen. Zudem wird Billigmarken Vorschub geleistet, da sie sich nicht mehr von teureren Marken unterscheiden. Die Marken werden aber nachziehen, somit werden Zigaretten weiter billiger. Zugang für Jugendliche und ärmere Leute zu Tabak wird so erleichtert, damit das Problem verschärft.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Minne

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

There is no credible or scientific evidence which demonstrates this is a necessary step. This problem definition tries to cover too many options at once. Packaging provides consumers who wish to purchase products with information about the product they have chosen. Tobacco packaging has never been identified as a reason why children start to smoke or why adult smokers continue to choose to smoke. Plain packaging would lead to an increase in counterfeit products and illicit trade. It will have a negative impact on competition. Plain packaging expropriates the brand owners of valuable intellectual property. Pictorial health warnings make no additional contribution to the public awareness of the risks

explanations

No change

which improvement

no

additional option

no

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Yiannis Fasouliotis

email

Cyprus

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

packs provide consumers the information required to choose the product they wish. Packs give the way to the companies to communicate with consumers.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Arielle La Roche

email

belgique

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Arielle La Roche

email

Belgique

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Arielle La Roche

email
Belgique

country
47

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Marc Scharfe

email
LU

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PANAGIOTIS SOTIROPOULOS

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ΘΑ ΥΠΑΡΞΕΙ ΑΥΞΗΣΗ ΤΟΥ ΛΑΘΡΕΜΠΟΡΙΟΥ ΚΑΙ ΤΩΝ ΠΛΑΣΤΩΝ ΤΣΙΓΑΡΩΝ ΛΟΓΩ ΕΥΚΟΛΙΑΣ ΑΝΤΙΓΡΑΦΗΣ ΤΩΝ ΣΥΣΚΕΥΑΣΙΩΝ ΑΠΟ ΕΓΚΛΗΜΑΤΙΕΣ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

R. Van Rooijen

email

The Netherlands

country

30

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Uwe Kriescher

email
Deutschland

country
53

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht_ die Bilder wirken lediglich abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ATTAQUE PHILIPPE

email

BELGIUM

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

JE NE SUIS PAS D'ACCORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

STAS B

email

BELGIUM

country

59

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO ACCORD !!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wolfgang Böhm

email

Deutschland

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die jetzigen Hinweise sind ausreichend die Abschreckenden Bilder werden nur zu Sammlerbilder bei der Jugend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alexandra Holl

email

Deutschland

country

32

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

-genügend Warnhinweise vorhanden und publiziert - Erwachsene Menschen können selbst entscheiden, welchen "Gefahren" sie sich aussetzen

explanations

No change

additional option

- verschiedene Verpackungen sprechen für die Qualität der einzelnen Hersteller - größere Gefahr von Fälschung wäre gegeben - geringere Verdienste für die Händler

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peggy Maes

email

Belgium

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lucian Fischer

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dennis Hönig

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Johannes Dahmen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Werner Giel

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M. Britz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Voigt

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Angelika Dortmann

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Buhs

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Es geht hier doch um Arbeitsplätze, um Existenzen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wilkes

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hans-Jürgen Irmen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Armin Bergmann

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Nagel

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tobias Schmitt

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Volker Kolligs

email

GErmany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hillen Stephen

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas du tout d'accord !!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aleander Schmoll

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wischnowski Margret

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rapp Michael

email

Detuschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Baur

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wolfram Richter

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Werner Spitzley

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schwadorf Dieter

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schmitz Günter

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schmidt Oliver

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sabine Jaeger

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Muhn Jürgen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Montag Gerold

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mathias Putschli

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martin Widy

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Leier Matthias

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kratz Holm

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Günter Kossmann

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Karl-Heinz Bell

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Pascale Feyereisen

email
Luxembourg

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Rainer Horn

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Helmut Gebauer

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Remo Castellucci

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Christine Schmitz

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bormer Lothar

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Angelika Schueller

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dr. Robert Riethmüller

email

Suedafrika

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Barbara ERdmann

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daum Achim

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

hans-Peter Buhs

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Braun Eberhard

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Schwadorf

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Robert Thiel

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mario Rohrer

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Johannes Hüttner

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hans Georg Hansen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Eray Tekin

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Luithlen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anthon Karbach

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stefan Eisenhauer

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harald Wolff

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Eray Tekin

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dirk Bersch

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stefhano Dausel

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Waldemar Haller

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Franz Chorzempa

email

Detuschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lars Ebert

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marco Schwarz

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Reinhard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Norbert Delseith

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Hinze

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schuler Norbert

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wischnowski Margret

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ulrich Dortmann

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Müller Karl

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Walter von Schwedler

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jörg Sabatschus

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Juergen Schmidt

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rudolf Leick

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIBILIA COSIMINO

email

ITALY

country

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Ilona Funke

email
Deutschland

country

49

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R.M. Iriks

email

Netherlands

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

marianna koukouli

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

elena gigelou

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

rozalia karaxaliou

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

boskou ifigeneia

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

aristeidhs mentzas

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vijayaraghavan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not believe that people start to smoke or continue to smoke because they see tobacco products on display in shops. Displays enable adult smokers to make an informed decision about which products they wish to buy and at what price. Product displays in general are essential to the fast, efficient and secure operation of a shop. My government is planning to regulate tobacco displays; I have disagreed with its proposals and I particularly object to the European Union adding a further regulatory burden on top of potential local laws which create additional statutory offences for our businesses.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

V Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not believe that people start to smoke or continue to smoke because they see tobacco products on display in shops. Displays enable adult smokers to make an informed decision about which products they wish to buy and at what price. Product displays in general are essential to the fast, efficient and secure operation of a shop. My government is planning to regulate tobacco displays; I have disagreed with its proposals and I particularly object to the European Union adding a further regulatory burden on top of potential local laws which create additional statutory offences for our businesses.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

vasiliki loukopoulou

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Rashida

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imran Data

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Z Zulfiqar

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Ruwaiz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Balal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

F Irfan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

athina mentza

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Q Waqas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yasin Mitha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nasrullah Iqbal

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Suhel Bhai Iqbal Bhai Kamboliwara

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

nikos roufos

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohsin Iqbal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Suleman Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tahir M

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sulinar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Syed Asif Bukhari

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Narsh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ismail

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

chara bazouki

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Salim Data

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Safdal Naqvi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Data

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Intizar Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Salim

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Yasin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

gianna bazouki

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Edal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lidanjar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ifran Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rahel Trina

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abbass Kaji

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mehes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

thodoris gafantouris

email

grece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kasim Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mehdi Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Yakub Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B C Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sulanthan Thevaraja

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

manolis vlachos

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Selvanesan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Atul Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Balwantral Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ashuin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

andreas giatras

email

greece

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

VMB News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Surjit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vinod Chanda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Sipasingam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Suthaparan Mahalingam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Velummylum Sivasubramanjam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ratanshi Ramji Manji

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

giorgos fitilis

email

grece

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Reddy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Seynth Kahir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mauji Bhudia

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Raj Raichura

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Balamurali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Bhudia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kasim Abbas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Kurypakan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Keltees

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alagartnam Christy Gunaraj

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

I Whitfield

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Shanthl

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Sweny

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sarul Neshan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kay Sammer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajinder Singh

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Vijay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Ching

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Saju Sreekumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nicola Rossoun

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Punniyamoorthy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sreekamar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shangar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Louise Turner

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hayley McMath

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nat Raybold

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Steve Warner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Julia Neumaier

email

United Kindom

country

29

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Picture warning won't change a thing.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Janis Peaty

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rose Butler

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Scott Taylor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Steven Davis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Matthew Meadows

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

mentza labrini

email

greece

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zac Landridge

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kevin Kitching

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kelly Simmons

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ann Turuille

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Moule

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Richard G Iustiniani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Samantha Allcott

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Kynsey Shutt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mal Boler

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Glen Sewell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adrian Baker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Smallman

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
David Hicks

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Onion

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jane Turner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul taylor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hannah Fern

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

John Elsom

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Helen Green

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

James Edward Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jo Baker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Baker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sharon Avann

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Avann

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Matthew Fowler

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Scott Tudor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Webb

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Foster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Matt Fowler

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

William Fryer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Helen Downing

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kristian Palmer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Keith Lewis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maibt Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dennis Patson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Isawar Bhama Jian

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aimee Webster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Manis Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kumar Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Deep Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sohail Ahmed

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
A Kumar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Billal singh

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

I Aktar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mazar Iqbal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmed Kian

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wasim Mohamed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Saeed Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tracy Stelwell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mahinder Sidhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joe Readhead

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zahida Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gillian Thompson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Saeed patelP

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rashpal Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Serhat Can

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Salman Razvi Mohammad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kulvir Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Bramham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gillian Hinchliff

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Richard Michael White

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Barry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christopher Barry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Masood Malik

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ishrat Malik

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jason Hall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Z Zeena

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rukshana Zeena

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Abdullah Desai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abdullah Desai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C L Green

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Gobert

email
Belgium

country 60

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
C A Green

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Adam Clough

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P A Green

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shanur Choudhury

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mehmet Mehmet

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ruman Miah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gokan Zengin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mahaboob Naranyoni

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aydin Kas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr R Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Simon Man

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Arpit Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Astad Jalil

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Kokulan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Guzeltas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ibrahim Ates

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mehmet Veli

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Oktai Dinc

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kanish

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Pakeer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Ruban

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Zafer Gurgur

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Y Nandakumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Miss Saganthini Kumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shabu Pillai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ranbir Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chavinder

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thind Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tsa Demirkaya

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nahid Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Younus

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Suman Thava

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Ajai Kapoor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gabby Adewale Costa

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sinnathamby Jegananthan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Parvinder Dhanoa

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Salim Abdul Tahij

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Javed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Prashant Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohit D Jajaliya

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

San Keskin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Emrah Ates

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jaimin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dinesh Mandalia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Thovakumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Shahinsha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shamam T

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A Ulhao

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Nishanthan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Winston Sajeen

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Thabesh Nijay

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kobi-Prem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

RAF Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vishalom Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kuldip Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vijayaraghavan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

V Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Kumaran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Elaine Abercrombie

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martina PETER

email

Deutschland

country

50

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Raucher sind mündige Bürger und kennen in der Regel auch die Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den schon existierenden Warnhinweisen erhöht nicht das Bewusstsein zum "Nichtrauchen". Die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen ist eine pauschale Unterstellung, dass das Rauchverhalten beeinflusst wird. Neutrale Verpackungen öffnen Produktfälschern Tür und Tor, und erhöht den Schmuggel von Tabakwaren.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Press Shop WTC

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΡΟΥΣΣΟΣ ΧΡΙΣΤΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Librairie de la Place

email

Belgique

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Costas Mastrocostas

email

Greece

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PAVESE GABRIELLA

email

ITALY

country

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
GAIA GIANLUCA

email
ITALY

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ZACCARIA ANDREA

email
ITALY

country
31

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

VITALE GIANLUCA

email
ITALY

country
21

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option
L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

VISPARELLI DE GIROLAMO EMILIO

email

ITALY

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

VILLANI ANTONIO

email

ITALY

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

VICENTINI PAOLO

email

ITALY

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

VESSIO RAFFAELE

email

ITALY

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

VERONESI ALBERTO

email

ITALY

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la

tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

VALLERANI LUCA

email

ITALY

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

VAGNONI ENRICO

email

ITALY

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

TROVATO TERESA

email

ITALY

country

64

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti

e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

TRIGGIANI ANTONELLA

email

ITALY

country

21

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che

frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

TEMPESTA LUCA FEDERICO

email

ITALY

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIMONE GIUSEPPE

email

ITALY

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SGARBANTI FRANCO

email

ITALY

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SERAFINO CESARE

email

ITALY

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la

consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SCUTI SILVIO

email

ITALY

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SCIMIA CARMELA

email

ITALY

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SCIANNA DANIELA

email

ITALY

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SCARONI MARCO

email

ITALY

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SCALIA ARMANDO

email

ITALY

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SCALI ANNA MARIA

email

ITALY

country

54

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SAPORI ROSANNA

email

ITALY

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SAPONE MARIA

email

ITALY

country

63

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
SANTORO GENNARO

email
ITALY

country

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ROSSETTI AMERIGO

email
ITALY

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ROMOLI NICOLETTA

email
ITALY

country
48

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option
L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Kostas Paschalias

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

kostas grammatikas

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sascha Radte

email

Germany

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Kriminalität und Schmuggel werden steigen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

RODINO' FRANCESCO

email

ITALY

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un

posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

RIEFOLO ANTONIA

email

ITALY

country

62

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

RAGOZZINO VINCENZO

email

ITALY

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

RAGONESI MAURA

email

ITALY

country

58

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

QUADRELLO DANIELA

email

ITALY

country

38

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

POPAIZ ANTONIO

email

ITALY

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

POLI PAOLO

email

ITALY

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PITINGA ANDREA

email

ITALY

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PIRANI ANDREA

email

ITALY

country

42

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PINTUS GIULIANA

email

ITALY

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PETRASSI SABRINA

email

ITALY

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PETRARA VINCENZA

email
ITALY

country
65

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

PERRINI DOMENICO

email

ITALY

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PEPE ALESSANDRO

email

ITALY

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PASTORESSA GIUSEPPE

email

ITALY

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

maria kouvatsou

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

christos massalis

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Antonis Karafillakis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

antonis loudaros

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nikos Rimbass

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

giannis kolokouris

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stavros Tsetseris

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no commend

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
chara xeila

email
greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Katerina Louka

email
Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

chrisa mavrodakou

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stavros Mavromatis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
no commend

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
panagiotis bozas

email
greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Fotis Sarrigeorgiou

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

nikolaos kalafatelis

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stavros Daskalopoulos

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

kostantinos koufos

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Manolis Rigas

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

dimitris kaloutsis

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lampros Bountouris

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Irene Geiseöler

email

Germany

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Der Konsum von Genussmitteln (in diesem Fall Tabakware) ist kein Problem, das Problem ist die Überregulierungswut der EU... Meiner Meinung nach, ist es nicht Aufgabe der EU, die Wahlfreiheit der Bürger beim Konsum verschiedener Produkte (auch Tabak-Produkte) einzuschränken, die Bürger zwangst zu erziehen und das Leben der Bürger übermäßig zu regulieren. Bürokratie, Überregulierung und Undurchsichtigkeit machen die EU bei den Bürgern immer unbeliebter und hier sehe ich eine große Gefahr! Durch die sogenannte „Tabak-Kontrolle“ verliert die EU zusätzlich die Sympathie von mindestens 30% ihrer Bevölkerung (Raucher, Wirte, Tabak-Händler und andere betroffene). Die EU soll nicht alles regulieren und vereinheitlichen, sondern die kulturellen und traditionellen Unterschiede zwischen den Ländern akzeptieren und bewahren und, vor allem, die Freiheit ihrer Bürger respektieren. Sie soll sich nicht mit Kleinigkeiten, sondern mit den großen Problemen, die wir haben, beschäftigen: Finanzen, Stabilität des EURO, Wirtschaft, Terrorismus-Bekämpfung, Grenzüberwachung usw. Sie soll auch die Aussagen der WHO überprüfen und kritisch betrachten, EU ist schließlich nicht die Exekutive der WHO und soll das auch nie werden.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Die Menschen frei leben lassen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Kogler

email
Austria

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Daniel Daum

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Es sind genügend Warnhinweise auf den Packungen vorhanden. Markenpackungen sollen so bleiben wie sie sind.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Antonakakis Nick

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Antonakakis Dimitris

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

filippakou georgia

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mathias Weber

email

Deutschland

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Verbraucher können sich nicht mehr orientieren, finden ihre Marke nicht. Tabakkonsum wird nicht verringert. Billigmarken werden bevorzugt. Umsatzrückgänge trotz gleich bleibendem Tabakkonsum. Keiner wird deswegen weniger rauchen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ingrid Wahl

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Die Verbraucher sollen ihre Marken frei wählen können. Verminderung des Rauchens ist damit nicht zu erreichen. Billigmarken werden dann den teureren vorgezogen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Patrick Baars

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jessica Leistner

email

Deutschland

country

38

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es befinden sich z.Z. genügend Warnungen auf den Verpackungen, Bildwarnhinweise würden Raucher nicht beeinflussen, mit dem Rauchen aufzuhören. Neutrale Verpackungen fördern den Schmuggel und lassen die Preise sinken, welches sich negativ auf den Gesundheits- und Jugendschutz auswirkt. Einnahmen minimieren sich und 100 000de Einzelhandler werden arbeitslos. Steuerpolitisch wäre das ein absolutes Fiasko! Der Jugendschutz wird von uns Händlern umgesetzt. Das Gros der Raucher ist erwachsen und sich über die Risiken bewußt. Neutrale Verpackungen machen überhaupt keinen Sinn! Es gibt Eßsucht, Kaufsucht, Spielsucht, Sexsucht, Alkoholsucht u.s.w. Ausnahmen bestätigen immer die Regel! Schaffen Sie doch einfach das Leben ab!!! Dieses Reglementieren muß ein Ende haben!!!! Es wäre absolut sinnvoll, Gesetze gegen krankmachende Lebensmittel zu erlassen, denn diese betreffen die gesamte Menschheit!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
PASIN SONIA

email
ITALY

country 39

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PAROLA ANDREA

email

ITALY

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rainer Adams

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine

Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PAPA TERESA MARIA

email

ITALY

country

64

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso

altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Eckhard Koch

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PAPA FABRIZIO

email

ITALY

country

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
PAOLUCCI RICCARDO

email
ITALY

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Josef Schmitz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PANTI SERGIO

email

ITALY

country

66

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la

consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PALMA ROBERTO

email

ITALY

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lenz Abe

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PAGLIONICO BARTOLOMEO

email

ITALY

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sven Zimmermann

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PAGLIARI ALBERTO

email

ITALY

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PAGANELLI GIUSEPPE

email

ITALY

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Georg Schreiber

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PACI STEFANIA

email

ITALY

country

54

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti

e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

OTTAVIANI DANIELA

email

ITALY

country

53

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che

frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Walz Andreas

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ORIOLI GIOVANNI

email

ITALY

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

OLIVA FRANCESCO

email
ITALY

country
44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

NOTARPIETRO GIUSEPPE

email

ITALY

country

66

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hoffmann Achim

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

NESCI EMMA

email

ITALY

country

48

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gerhard Küpper

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MEZZADRI VALTER

email

ITALY

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito

dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MEDROS GIAN LUCA

email

ITALY

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MATTA ROBERTO

email

ITALY

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti

e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ellen Kroeger

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Die EU unterstellt einfach, Bildwarnhinweise würde das Rauchverhalten der Raucher beeinflussen. Es gibt bisher keine Nachweise, in den Ländern, wo es bereits eingeführt wurde. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MARAN STEFANO

email

ITALY

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MANGANO SILVIA

email

ITALY

country

28

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Barbara Erdmann

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen werden noch mehr Zigaretten gefälscht und der organisierte Schmuggel würde dann noch grösser werden. Jedem Raucher bzw. jeder Raucherin ist der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MANEGLIA ARMANDO

email

ITALY

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata

confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GUGLIELMETTO MUGION MONICA

email

ITALY

country

37

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un

posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GIORDANI MARGHERITA

email

ITALY

country

79

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

GARBERO STEFANO

email

ITALY

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FRANCHINETTI MARINA

email

ITALY

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

FRABBRI GIANLUCA

email

ITALY

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

DI FEO FILOMENA

email

ITALY

country

49

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CUCCHIARA FRANCESCA

email

ITALY

country

38

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

CRISTALLI MICHELE

email

ITALY

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CICCHIELLO ANNA MARIA

email

ITALY

country

56

age
female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BRAIDA MARINA

email

ITALY

country

48

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anthony Gibson

email

Germany

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I believe that your Rand Report research has major flaws and that there is no evidence that plain packaging will reduce tobacco consumption. I also believe that this goes against the EU objectives of defending Intellectual Property Rights and that it is an abuse on the branding rights of a legal product, even as dangerous as tobacco. It goes against the consumer rights and consumer information rights of law abiding citizens who choose for themselves the purchase of a legal product.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Spend more time and effort on education campaigns and restrict access to an even higher age group.

additional option

I am disgusted on the way this public consultation was carried out. It is clear that the GD Sanco has no interest at all in considering public comments and made it very evident by originally only giving 30 days for the consultation, in english only and via internet. You also based a lot of your proposals on a flawed research document and then seemed to accept these flaws by distancing yourself from the report (and stating it on your website). Tobacco is a dangerous product and the way you are addressing it is NOT the way that the EU is expected to address the issue. This seems more like a vendetta towards tobacco companies and less about considering the rights of the many stakeholders in the process.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BAZZOCCHI LUIGI

email

ITALY

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

van Doorslaer de ten Ryen Michel

email
Belgium

country
53

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
it will not solve the problem

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
BARATELLA PAOLA

email
ITALY

country
43

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BALOIRE CELESTINA

email

ITALY

country

59

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ARDENGO ALESSANDRO

email

ITALY

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jeroen Joosten

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree with at all

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Williams

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Parée

email

Belgium

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I'm not agree, you don't responsilize people by hiding the problem sources.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anastasios Karapas

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ute Gistel-Lutz

email

Germany

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Verbraucher sind bereits hinreichend über Gesundheitsrisiken aufgeklärt weitere Warnhinweise steigern nicht die Wahrnehmung zu viele Warnhinweise und Verbote steigern die Neugier

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen zerstören Marktstrukturen und führen zu einer reinen Preisorientierung Fallende Preise führen zu sinkenden Handelsspannen. Das hat zur Folge: Entzug der Einkommensbasis für viele tabakumsatzabhängige Unternehmen (Gefahr erhöhter Stellenstreichung) und leichter Zugang für Jugendliche durch niedrigere Preise neutrale Verpackungen sind leichter zu fälschen

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Haase

email

Germany

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Martinesse

email

Belgique

country

28

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pieter Jamaer

email

Belgium

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not approve!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Simone Thiel

email

Deutschland

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Weil es arbeitsplätze vernichtet und Geschäfte kaputt macht.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Schmiedel

email

Deutschland

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Aufklärung der Verbraucher ist bereits ausreichend Weitergehende Hinweise führen nicht grösserer Wahrnehmung

explanations

No change

additional option

Eine einheitliche Verpackung sorgt für reine Preisorientierung und damit Preisverfall Für Fälscher sind neutrale Verpackungen von Vorteil

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cordelia Hockauf

email

Deutschland

country

38

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung der neutralen Verpackung wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert, Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationalen Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jacqueline Duda

email

Deutschland

country

45

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung der neutralen Verpackung wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert, Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationalen Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Klaus Tschugreff

email

Germany

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen

Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrea Bauer

email

Deutschland

country

39

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung der neutralen Verpackung wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationalen Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Belina-Podgaetsky Nicolas

email

Belgium

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

This will never reduce the consumption while in the others hands be sure will help fake produces developments !

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Haci Hosnut

email

Deutschland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rene Wendler

email

Deutschland

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Silvia Krumb

email

Greece

country

40

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Introduce generic or plain packaging

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jeroen Vlasblom

email

Netherlands

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

sophia kouniaki

email

greece

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

yannis mastrocostas

email

greece

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

stephan thoma

email
germany

country
43

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
die kinder bevorzugt kleine verstehen die nicht horrorfilme genausowenig

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Dieter Maisel

email
Deutschland

country
52

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Alle kennen die Gesundheitsrisiken. Die jetzigen Warnhinweise genügen vollkommen.

explanations
No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackung verringern nicht das Rauchen. Wenn durch die Verpackung der Preis fällt, dann wird wieder mehr geraucht. Junge Leute können sich Zigaretten leichter besorgen wenn der Preis sinkt. Es werden wieder mehr Zigaretten gefälscht.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rui David Minhos

email

Portugal

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

In my opinion adult smokers are very well informed about how smoking is bad for health. Graphic Health Warnings, such implemented today, does not offer any credibility. Who believes in a baby smoking inside of its mothers's placenta?. I'd like to see and to know what I'm buying. Plain Packaging will make it more difficult to identify the brand that I want to buy. On the top of this, will make it easier for counterfeiters which means that it will be more difficult to me to distinguish between an authentic or a fake product.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michaela Renz

email

germany

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die plan Packs wird keine eindeutige Identifikation der Marken mehr möglich sein.
Verlust der Identifikation

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cälilia Peping

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mechthild Peping

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Friedhelm Peping

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aresta Giuseppa

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

lapaglia paola

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis d'accodr

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

lapaglia paola

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Koshold

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Hinzufügen von Warnhinweisen erhöht das Bewusstsein nicht! neutrale Verpackungen erleichtern produktfälschern die Arbeit und konzentrieren nur noch auf den Preis!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

le paige

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Moira Boulange

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I am not in favour of an extension of consumer info by compulsory pictures or plain pakaging

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christa Gleich

email

Germany

country

59

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Reinhold Götz

email

Germany

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Claudius Langenmayr

email

Germany

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Lehnert

email

Germany

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sylvia Machura

email

Germany

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Walter Möller

email

Germany

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alfred Pickels

email

Germany

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Brigitte Weinmann

email

Germany

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Natalja Krohmer

email

Germany

country

48

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Franz Hund

email

Germany

country

50

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Günter Hauser

email

Germany

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

• Dass die Existenz von Zigarettenautomaten einen Einfluss auf das Rauchverhalten Jugendlicher hat, ist wissenschaftlich nicht nachgewiesen. In Ländern mit einem Automatenverbot fällt die Quote jugendlicher Raucher zum Teil deutlich höher aus als in den Ländern mit einer Automatenvertriebsstruktur. Pläne der Europäischen Kommission zur Abschaffung der Automaten schränken daher die Bezugsmöglichkeiten erwachsener Verbraucher ein, dienen dem Jugendschutz jedoch in keiner Weise.“ • Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Günter Hauser

email

Germany

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Manfred Guse

email

Germany

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Albin Grabherr

email

Germany

country

63

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Reinhold Friedrich

email

Germany

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

• Dass die Existenz von Zigarettenautomaten einen Einfluss auf das Rauchverhalten Jugendlicher hat, ist wissenschaftlich nicht nachgewiesen. In Ländern mit einem Automatenverbot fällt die Quote jugendlicher Raucher zum Teil deutlich höher aus als in den Ländern mit einer Automatenvertriebsstruktur. Pläne der Europäischen Kommission zur Abschaffung der Automaten schränken daher die Bezugsmöglichkeiten erwachsener Verbraucher ein, dienen dem Jugendschutz jedoch in keiner Weise.“

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ludwig Bierl

email

Germany

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Aßfalg

email

Germany

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Renate Kunter

email

Germany

country

46

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des Rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΑΝΝΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ludwig Bierl

email

deutschland

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ich denke das es keine Lösung ist, die Tabakwaren zu anonymisieren. Jeder Raucher indentifiziert sich mit seiner eigenen Marke und Schachtel und greift blind danach! Einheitliche Schachteln verringern das Geschäft und die Schachtel werden sich illegal besorg...deswegen wird niemand aufhören zu rauchen

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ludwig Kasperczak

email

Germany

country

61

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des Rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Josef Blersch

email

Germany

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Patrik Kasperczyk

email

Germany

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

. • Dass die Existenz von Zigarettenautomaten einen Einfluss auf das Rauchverhalten Jugendlicher hat, ist wissenschaftlich nicht nachgewiesen. In Ländern mit einem Automatenverbot fällt die Quote jugendlicher Raucher zum Teil deutlich höher aus als in den Ländern mit einer Automatenvertriebsstruktur. Pläne der Europäischen Kommission zur Abschaffung der Automaten schränken daher die Bezugsmöglichkeiten erwachsener Verbraucher ein, dienen dem Jugendschutz jedoch in keiner Weise.“

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patrik Kasperczak

email

Gemany

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Werner Assner

email

Germany

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ludwig Bierl

email

deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich denke das es keine Lösung ist, die Tabakwaren zu anonymisieren. Jeder Raucher indentifiziert sich mit seiner eigenen Marke und Schachtel und greift blind danach! Einheitliche Schachteln verringern das Geschäft uns die Schachtel werden sich illegal besorg...deswegen wird niemand aufhören zu rauchen

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Günter Feistauer

email

Germany

country

61

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des Rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Herbert Bosler

email

Germany

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

• Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des Rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ludwig Bierl

email

Deutschland

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Nein, weil die Packungen nicht nur Optisch beliebt sind sondern auch Kunden und mich als Raucher für unsere Lieblings Marke Identifizieren. Mit einheitlichen Packungen und üblen Biler ist keinem geholfen auser das Kinder von rauchern beim Anblick dieser Schachteln monatelang alpträume haben

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anke Branz

email

Deutschland

country

38

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Aufklärung über Gesundheitsrisiken ist doch zur Genüge gegeben! Ich kann mir nicht vorstellen, daß noch mehr Hinweise durch den Verbraucher wahrgenommen werden!

explanations

No change

additional option

-Einheitsverpackungen zerstören den Markt und führen zu reiner Preisorientierung -sinkende Preise entziehen vielen tabakumsatzabhängigen Unternehmen die Existenz, das führt zu Stellenstreichungen -niedrigere Preise führt zu leichterem Zugang für Jugendliche -neutrale Verpackungen werden leichter gefälscht

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wilhelm Bentele

email

Germany

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

• Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gerhard Breitfeld

email

Germany

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

jose luis duo goldarazena

email

spain

country

56

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hubert Kneip

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggelns weiter verschärft

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marita Kligen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Markus Visschers

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joshua Selby

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

- The limit on nicotine contents is contraproductive, because "light"-cigarettes are more addictive than regular cigarettes - Picture warnings are exaggerated to the point of almost being not true and are very gruesome, which doesn't increase public health but can possibly cause psychological harm to children - The plain package will benefit leading tobacco companies - ENDS and herbal cigarettes are primarily used to treat nicotine addictions and therefore should not be banned or included in the directive

explanations

No change

additional option

The ban of smoking in public places and the strict regulation of tobacco products does not protect the non-smokers, but discriminate the smokers!

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jörg Henning

email

Germany (NRW, Hilden)

country

27

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daniel Dostal

email

AUSTRIA

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Kuhn

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Keine Angabe

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmad Bilal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Terry Chaudhry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Butchard

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bajitar Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adnan Akram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Taziq Akram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pauline Woolsey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

James Woolsey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stefanie Schneider

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Keine Angabe

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Matthew Symington

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kellie Symington

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Jane Purdy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephanie Monaghan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M D Gilpin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Robinson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anthony McArdle

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christopher Frizell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Alison Rooney

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nicola McGeough

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Heather Reddick

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imelda McConville

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Heather Wright

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Philip Woods

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Eimear Toal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Grimley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Robinson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gary Eastwood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Barry Paul Lagan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sheree O'Neill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ryan Wesley Hutton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joy Koottungal Devassy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mary Devlin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andrea Reid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Charlene Sloan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marc Schneider

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Keine Angabe

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Willis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joanne Rodgers

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Niamh Connolly

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andrea Egan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

John McKenna

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joanne Pedlow

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C Shields

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Robert Bowers

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephen Brendon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Randall Stewart

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

A Mellon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peggy McCorry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Roland Heyder

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Keine Angabe

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tortolani

email

Belgium

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord. C'est une atteinte à la liberté fondamentale de la personne.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

De Kleermaker Johan

email

België

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

onmogelijk om te organiseren in een winkel, bovendien zal dit de zwarte markt nog stimuleren vermits de echtheid van producten niet kan gecontroleerd worden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Laurent De Vogelaere

email

Belgium

country

25

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

papadopoulou crysoula

email

greece

country

28

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Werschnitzky, Regina

email

Deutschland

country

46

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Der Verbraucherschutz ist ausreichend eingeführt. Warnhinweise, Jugendschutz und Medien sorgen für große Aufmerksamkeit.

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen sind sehr leicht zu fälschen, dadurch wird der Schwarzmarkt noch mehr Marktanteile für sich gewinnen. Der Verbraucher erkennt im Zweifel nicht mehr, ob er ein Markenprodukt erwirbt oder geschmuggelte Ware, die unter Umständen noch schädlicher ist. Fallende Preise können für Jugendliche das Rauchen eher attraktiver machen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

papadopoulou anastasia

email

greece

country

29

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Richard C Hyde

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not believe that people start to smoke or continue to smoke because they see tobacco products on display in shops. Displays enable adult smokers to make an informed decision about which products they wish to buy and at what price. Product displays in general are essential to the fast, efficient and secure operation of a shop. My government is planning to regulate tobacco displays; I have disagreed with its proposals and I particularly object to the European Union adding a further regulatory burden on top of potential local laws which create additional statutory offences for our businesses.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kaseem Chudarih

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jasvinder Singh Sahota

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Muhammed Rizwan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K S Lalli

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ranjeet Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sam Marriott

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shinto K Mathew

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H A Coupland

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wendy Lee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karen Green

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Chudsana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ravi Chudasama

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sharon Fisher

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shahzad Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kanwal Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M A Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rahi Kaur Sahota

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Linda Grinham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Richard Grinhall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs F Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sunny Vara

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yagnesh Bahmbhatt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Miss Amie Pring

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Selliah Yogieswaran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Glen Osborn

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Priank Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maria Dupinsua

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anil Acharya

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Shamsher Bal

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alexander Higgs

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dawood Sheik

email

uK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bermadetta Hodrak

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amardeep Bali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Emma Holyhead

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Veeraj Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Darren Wherton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jaz Machi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Varinder Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H A Beattie

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Ranjit Dhillon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lyndsay Suffield

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tino Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lucyan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sofar Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mike Horst

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul John Evans

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Garry Burchett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

David Woodward

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Rosina Smallman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Garry Burchett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Iain Mitchell Lyall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Beverley Williams

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shirley Woodyatt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lisa Murray

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Anthony Griffiths

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Norton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gebel Gisela

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens, ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen

Verpackungen wird Prouktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggelns weier verschärft.Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß-und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing.Sinkende Preise wären Konsequenz.Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht(Jugend-und Gesundheitsschutz,Steuereinnahmen...)kontraproduktiv.Es wird pauschal unterstellt,dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt.Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweiseaus Ländern,in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Bhakar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kultharan Bhakar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

harbaksh Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Emilia Tyboravska

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A V Rajkumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sheena Elliott

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Samantha Coldbeck

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Lesley Mary Longworth

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Simon Powdrell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Obaid T Hassan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sarahlee Gathercole

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harmesh Cal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrei Kideen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrea Key

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naveed Ahmed Hashmi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ismail Osman Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sodi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Husein Kayan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anne Caroline Xavier

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Venu Gopal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Thayalini Rameshwaran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harleen Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Harpal Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shabir Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohamed Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sarbjit Singh Sedana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wayne Daw

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
M Rafiqul Alam

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ejaz Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Gurleen Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thirumalesh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kierenjit Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Manjiwan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rakesh Kumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

J Bhogul

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Santhok Tank

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Surbjit Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Onkar Singh Shergill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H S Rupin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nadeem Sajad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

N Hanik

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Awais Rehman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sanvir Sahota

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paix Maurice

email

Belgium

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

This will not make people smoke less..

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jag Degan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hardip Sembhi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Abhi Rai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Keith Biddle

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sarbjit Singh Dhillon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paravajasingham Kabilan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B Deol

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Anojan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Jagjit Singh Sohal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zabair Raja

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Usman Azaz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adas Ali Butt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Desai News

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Bains

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Harminder Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ali Mohamed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Najafi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abid Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aman Singh Aneja

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

V Emre Galiskan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

adil Elvas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pravin Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Basil Misaad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Romani Latif

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bana Codri

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thota Ravi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Bromham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ranjan Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Raji Boll

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amanouel Yousef

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David John Shelton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D Ruse

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Susan Ruse

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Relutu Marin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Nehal Desai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Satpul Khaneja

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr B Mohanathas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr R Baish

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Gulzar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Rajesh Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Hitesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Tushar Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Amin

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Angie Vinson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Harry V Chavda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jitendram Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Pride

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christine Nolan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Romit Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Poul Bhanot

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Oliver Sheldon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Julien

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Teresa Booth

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Matthew Salomon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marin Chappell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Longhorn

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Derek Parrott

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kay Browne

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sharne Brown

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Skelton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Marakami

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

W R Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Williams

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Davina Jackson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Julie Berkes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sarah Bansal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J T Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Haji Chana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Ashworth

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

J Percy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Jay Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D Clough

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P K Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nada Suyathan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
V Kumar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Louise Holt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr C Premakumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Borrett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S A Jude Dilhan Perera

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Julie Turner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

G Rendell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Roberts

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

James Burton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Miley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Niall Gordon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Charlotte Palmer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Josie Thompson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Omer Mushtaq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pete Murphy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lynsey Samantha Murphy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jaswinder Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Trupii Bhindi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hetal Harish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jyoh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sagak Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Seetharaman Arumugam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Ramesh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Kishur Chandarana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajni Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Chaudhry Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nagalingam Kurliparan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Raj Ajipura

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Kathirkamarashoor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Subramanyam Besaraha

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Daniel Abrams

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zain Malik

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Melanie Conneely

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Bavoires

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ansar Nazir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Emine Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ibrahim Y Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aurang Zeb

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Howard Monument

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

I Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Crazg Etchells

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ketan Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Karala Rajan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Arul Thas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shailesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul McEvaddy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Ahilan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kanesharatnam Yoganseelan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shandip Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Seevaratnam Thasan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajiu Damani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Raj Vasavan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kalingarajah Thiliban

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rizwan Gulamhussein

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Subrayan Selvaraju

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jatim Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Benedict Selvaratnam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajendram Aravinthan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maheydra Tailor

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Sutharsan Arumugam

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zac Varghese

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Attiq Butt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohamed Younas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sami Kilic

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Abid Mehmood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tahir Rasool

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Umar Farooq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A R Joseph

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Jena

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ravin Brath

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

rajaratnam Sajithaqin

email

uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Rajphit

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Masood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr K TOp

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ali Orman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Rahman Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Alan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Branaban

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmed Saeed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Garside

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mike Hemingway

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Saje

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patricia Cossey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Kana Kiruba

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Barnaby Carter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Barnaby Carter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Barnaby Carter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Barnaby Carter

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Barnaby Carter

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stephen Adams

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stephen Adams

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Diane Richardson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Eve Watson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Louise Havart

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

E Murfin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

P Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Wendy Leivers

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adrian Walker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lucy Hingley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tracy Anne Lambert

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Miss Rachel Booth

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Matt Marilland

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hayley Jackson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jo-Anne Armstrong

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Porchester Wine

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Pinal Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Muraleethara Sherani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Diane Brierton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Bipin Haria

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Minaxi Haria

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sat Sahota

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ben Kemble

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anthony Lewis Morris

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Sajjad Rehman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Leanne Piper

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aaron MacQueen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Josua King

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jacqui Kirby

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jackie Johnson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Mandy Stevens

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sajjad Rehman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Gittings

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yousif Basalios

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mike Turner-Lee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sarah Bagnall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Richards

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Steve Cartridge

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joanne Peel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Laurentiu Dumitriu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Val Law

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Smith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Haroon Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jarmila Horvathova

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anna Douglas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Tully

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sukhdip Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Resham Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kuldip Singh Paul

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sukhvinder Singh Paul

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kashmir Bath

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bob Foster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Ranveer Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kim Raybould

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Darren Hopkins

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ricky Durnall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andrea Lawrence

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gemma Russell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Beadell

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Gill Tully

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ronald Chaloner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Linda Stokes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

E Harris

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Abdul Rehman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Claire Weston

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lakshni Chittamuru

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rekhq Dattani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alison Horn

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Librairie Evasion

email

Belgium

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

People are knowing the healty problem with cigarettes... It's no more interesting to advise smoking people about risks. The only thing you will see is the manufacture of a new product (kind of jacket for box pack).

explanations

No change

which improvement

increase the informations at school and in the hospitals

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jeannette Hill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C A Barlow

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lee Farr

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sharon Dean

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shelly Withington

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paula Edwards

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adrian Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kev Houston

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imran Manzar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr R Mann

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jay Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Usman Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jagindro Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Gangat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mobin Ejaz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Faiyaz I Dalal

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A Kachwala

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Waseem Akram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sachin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B N Seymour

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alison Hall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Surinder Sidhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aniz Gulamhussein

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vinay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Scott Hughes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Kalpesh Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Umer Asghar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GIRI

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Christina Lewis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sartu Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Mark Asim

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Maskeen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yasir Chaudhry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sohil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ashfaq Ali Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Linda Wraith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ralph Foster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Arun

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Catherine yee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sanjeev Puri

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajesh K Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Kiram Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shobha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Minesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daxah Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thayalan Ratnam

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mr P Suntharamoorthy

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sayesh Mehta

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Amitpaul Sangha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Archy Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kerry Payne

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Harinder Kumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Anil Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Miss M A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

jeremy Jalie

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jayesh Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K Thurkatharan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Barrett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kalaiarasan Nithijan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Louise Mason

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sriparan Sriskandarajah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nick Watts

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C Thompson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

V Ruban

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shantilal Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

David Wyatt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Parin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Kajanathan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Kasim Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Najeen Mohammed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Fazul

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ghanem Salek

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Guishan Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MUOIO GIANLUCA

email

ITALY

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jagdeep Basi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S M S Supermarket

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MUNARI MARINA

email

ITALY

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di

catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abdul Majid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MORRA ROSANNA

email

ITALY

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Fahmi Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H Lloyd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MORETTI STEFANO

email

ITALY

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti

e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zeenat Khalid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amardeep Singh Rai

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
MORETTI NICOLA

email
ITALY

country 28

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sajid Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hetal Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Raza Iqbal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MORANDINI CLEMENTE

email

ITALY

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pardeep Sooch

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Neetu Najran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

MONTANARI CELSO

email

ITALY

country

58

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gurnam Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally

sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Richard C Hyde

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MENCARELLI MARCO

email
ITALY

country
44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Tahir Ibrahim

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Kiran Basra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

R S Sangha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MELOTTI GABRIELE

email

ITALY

country

36

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vinay Dhand

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

MAZZUCHELLI NATASCIA

email

ITALY

country

32

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la

consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Dinsdale

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jaz Bhatt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MARRA ANTONIO

email

ITALY

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Raj Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sila

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MARCONI PATRIZIA

email

ITALY

country

51

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Thevarajal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MANTOVANI GIORGIA

email

ITALY

country

37

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti

e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Pradeep

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patel Jitendra

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
MANENTI MATTEO

email
ITALY

country 26

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Brijesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MANCINI TANIA

email

ITALY

country

37

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito

dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Russendram Jeyaraj

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ashley Ramadan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MAGRINELLO ORIETTA

email

ITALY

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata

confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MAGGIO ANTONINO

email

ITALY

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un

posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MAFFESSOLI ANNABRUNA

email

ITALY

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dinesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

LUISI MAGNO SOLDANI DONATELLA

email

ITALY

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito

dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

LUCHERINI GABRIELE

email

ITALY

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

LOMUSCIO VINCENZO

email

ITALY

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti

e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

LEGGERI TERESA

email

ITALY

country

64

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che

frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

LAVEDER VALENTINA

email

ITALY

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di

catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

LAINI RENATA

email

ITALY

country

48

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe

essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

IPPOLITO MASSIMO

email

ITALY

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

INSELVINI ADRIANO

email

ITALY

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la

consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Matthias Speier

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

es gibt genug Warhinweise , Zigaretten-Mafia wird die Arbeit erleichtert

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jans Walter

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr M Khokhar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Umakant Maisuisia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr W Khikhar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Hamilton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Huseyin Kilinc

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lily Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tbo Bahceci

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Samir Amer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chivaj Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paresh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sajeev Bharathan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shaji Sreedharan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chetan Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mabil Mohamed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Makhan Lal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Duane Francis Underwood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Indarjit Birna

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Devinder Bagri

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Manos Mehan

email

uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

P Y Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

J S Deo

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Shoker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Shergill

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mark James Campbell

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

C S Randhawa

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shaila Sund

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Azhar Kiani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adnan Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D S Choudhry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Isaz Ul Qayyum

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kate Rees

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kumar Velautham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vikash Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Sivakumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alpesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sukumar Ramaswamy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Valli Puram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs R Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajinder Raj

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GUIDIERI MERY

email

ITALY

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di

catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patel Bhavin V

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr and Mrs Amish

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

BUCCI VIOLA

email

ITALY

country

26

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Ratan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BRUNI EMILIANO

email

ITALY

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti

e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Pease

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sayesh Mehta

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
BIZZARRI ROSANNA

email
ITALY

country
58

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

C Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ANGIOLINI ANTONELLA

email

ITALY

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito

dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Minesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kalpesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
N Mukau

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Majid Sabir

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Izzath Kurunthal

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shafeek Cheriya Kurunthal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M S Hangan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zaheer Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammad Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yaqub Daulat Zai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Kamlan Akbilar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naveed Nabi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tharmarasa Logeswaran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T Negash

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Naveed Choudhary

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rameshkumar Perinpa

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Greg charvy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Uttam Kumar Gaha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ali Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sanjay Seru

email

uK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Inderjit Singh Arora

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Yaser Maroof

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Waheed Ullah Danlazai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ketan Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M H Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Paraj Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bhupen Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Dhimant Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Visahl Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mueller

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch umsetzen von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationalen Gross-und Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A S Bhinder

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hamshid H Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cassif Barham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Matt Harris

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jassy Smith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Brett Dicks

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lynne Short

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Butler

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Matt Horton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aaron Meeson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kelly Fletcher

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Glen Reading

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Phil Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Kelly Hinder

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Claire Gibbons

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

James Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karen Bates

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sara Clenton

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Robert Clarke

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adam Tarbuck

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adam Baker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adam Kulik

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Brett Rigby

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Donna Moule

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Megan Clapton

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cheryl Wilkes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rachel Perks

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Belle Wilkes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dalmeet Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vikaz Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Shah

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

P Rasam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

E Shanmuganathan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Evangelia Hari

email

greece

country

20

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

N Sureshkumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

A Pankhania

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Shaukat Ali Khan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nimisah Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dixit Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark McConnell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Logi Jeyalohithen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Surinder Singh Bhatia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Gunasedam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Dhillon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Nikos Haris

email

Greece

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Sung Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jatinder Singh Birdi

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kiran Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Manindes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jeetu Bajaj

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr B Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Meqhjee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mandeep Soni

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

F Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Suaran Singh Nagpal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sonia Tatia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Isabelle Dewit

email

greece

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Suraj Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Anna Maria Arulthas

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Siva Kumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ken IP Ting Wah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michelle Bates

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tony Hassell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zeesh Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Matt Lake

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Claire Kitching

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Anna Hatzisavva

email

Greece

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Hadley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adam Tarbuck

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tariq Mahmood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Claire Gibbons

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Louise Davidson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Stephen Flannery

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Liz Jenkins

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mel Ramsdale

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sarah Sturgess

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Heather Clapton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michalis Haris

email

Greece

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joanna Williams

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally

sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Emma Wymer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tara Kotak

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
David Kotak

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A Merriman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ranjit Singh Rai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lisa Parks

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tina Harrod

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sally Anne Moore

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Wright

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

F A Dinsdale

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

June Dinsdale

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

katerina katsara

email

greece

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nevnit Basra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Basra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Denise Macleod

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Nick Hager-Bishop

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Karmjit Kaur

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Showquet A Deputy

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohsin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M S Dhesi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Henri Willems

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Dawood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Bipin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Henri Willems

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ismail Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Borhan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jeremiah Cecil Tharumanayagam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Rajendra Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Randhir Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B Mayurathevan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S M McCluskey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Amrit Ravani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kumarasinham Veluppilai

email

uK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Taslim Ismail

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Viral Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Somers of Keighley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yogesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Ishmail

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

William Thompson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Faichney

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sandeep Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Preeti Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Calverley News

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vassilis Klissouras

email

Greece

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nikos Andriopoulos

email

Greece

country

35

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No comment

explanations
Improve consumer information

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Giannis Sorotos

email
Greece

country
35

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I believe this is ridiculous

explanations
No change

which improvement
-

additional option
-

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Prof. Dr. Michael Paroussis

email

Greece

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Διαφωνώ με την αξιολόγηση του Ευρωβαρόμετρου, αφού 80% των ερωτηθέντων απάντησαν ότι δεν πιστεύουν ότι το χρώμα της συσκευασίας δείχνει ότι μια μάρκα είναι πιο βλαβερή από μια άλλη. Επίσης διαφωνώ ριζικά ως προς το ότι αποτελεί πρόβλημα η συσκευασία ως διαφημιστική ενέργεια.

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

which improvement

Εντατικοποίηση της αντικαπνιστικής καμπάνιας στα σχολεία από την τελευταία τάξη του δημοτικού μέχρι την τρίτη γυμνασίου. Διαλέξεις, φιλμ, αφίσες και ψυχολογική υποστήριξη κατά οιασδήποτε μορφής εξάρτησης.

additional option

Θεωρώ ολέθριο το να εισαχθεί υποχρέωση "ομοιόμορφης συσκευασίας". 1) Οι ενήλικοι καταναλωτές οφείλουν να φέρουν την ευθύνη των επιλογών τους σε πνεύμα ελευθερίας 2) Επί των συσκευασιών αποτυπώνονται εμπορικά σήματα τεράστιας οικονομικής αξίας, καθιερωμένα με τεράστιες επενδύσεις, με θετικό αντίκτυπο στη δημιουργία και διατήρηση θέσεων εργασίας. Η κατάργησή τους συνιστά πράξη ολοκληρωτική, κηδεμονευτική για ελεύθερους πολίτες και απαλλοτριωτική χωρίς αποζημίωση για τους δικαιούχους διανοητικής ιδιοκτησίας επ' αυτών. Ως τοιαύτη αντίκειται στη χάρτα ανθρωπίνων δικαιωμάτων της ΕΕ, που ρητά προστατεύουν την ιδιοκτησία και την ελευθερία αυτοπροσδιορισμού και ανάπτυξης της προσωπικότητας του ανθρώπου και ευρωπαίου πολίτη. 3) Η ουδέτερη συσκευασία θα ευνοήσει το λαθρεμπόριο τσιγάρων, άρα τη φοροδιαφυγή, και θα βλάψει όλους τους νόμιμους παρασκευαστές, χονδρεμπόρους και λιανεμπόρους των προϊόντων καπνού. 4) Η διάθεση στην αγορά φτηνών τσιγάρων με ουδέτερη συσκευασία θα αυξήσει τελικά την ελκυστικότητα τους για τους εφήβους και τους νέους. Το ίδιο θα συμβεί και αν απαγορευθεί η προβολή και έκθεσή τους στα καταστήματα, αφού οι νέοι τείνουν να επιζητούν το κρυφό και απαγορευμένο.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ingo Gebert

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

which improvement

Es existiert kein Problem.

additional option

Eine weitere Regulierung ist überflüssig.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Parr

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Max Phillips

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marianne McIntosh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

G McCalmont

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Yvonne Welsh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Billy Harris

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Leica Bryden

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Isabella Smith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lorrain Sellars

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Caroline McDonald

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Salman Tahawer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S McInnes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anne-Marie Duffy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Elizabeth Kolling

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christine Waddell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

F Stewart

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Yousef Haque

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aqshad Muniq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Chinnery

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aftab Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Blair

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Jasbir Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rosie Ohara

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shirley Hogdson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Farman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

James Wilson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Catherine Wilson

email
uK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Young

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Philip McGinlay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alina Zahoor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Muhammad Dewan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammad Azhar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Musrat Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lesley Mallin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John O'Sala

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jules Greggain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aftab Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aftab Alvi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anne0Marie McRoberts

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K Wilson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jane McCormack

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

L Diciacca

email

uK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Raminder Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Margaret White

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jamil Bhail

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

David Kelly

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jennifer Gibson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sohil Rashid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ashiq Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hala Massod Haider

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael King

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Khalid Sharie

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

bremsen

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ross Meudell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karina Keith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Katie Leigh Young

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Blair

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lynsay McGregor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Suky Gahier

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Steinhoff

email

Deutschland

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einfuehrung von Bildhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten einwirkt. Dafuer gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Laendern, in denen Bildwarhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingefuehrt wurden

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Sharif

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Robert Hind

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paolo Masen

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Surbit Kooner

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Brenda Shaw

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Elizabeth Rae

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ikram Khalia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kevin Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Faheem Bismal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

I Alam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adt

email

Germany

country

52

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ueber die Einfuehrung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstaerkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise waeren die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend-und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen u.s.w.) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daan Mullens

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Niet akkoord!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nasir Ghaus

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Farooq Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Matthew Beeharry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohsan Siddique

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Sadam Sardar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Irfan Nazir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ishan Shahabieen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Deo

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ali Akram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D De Marco

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Rajak

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rehman Afzal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Weisbrodt

email

Deutschland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch umsetzen von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein nationalen Gross-und Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Amer Shah

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mandeep Kaur

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Ghafot

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Sabri

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Afzal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bailal Baih

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imran Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shoaib Shafaatulla

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Imran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Khaliq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shazad Mohammad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zubair Akhtar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Pflüger

email

Germany

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten

explanations

No change; Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Boxberger Nathalie

email

Belgium

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patricia Brady

email

uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Carol Ann Dick

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Paulson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Victoria Nelson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Basil Hassan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bony Martin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shazia Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christine McMahon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marbinda Benning

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vicky Stevenson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kerry McFarlane

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Stevenson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Danielle Delgreco

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abid Farooq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alan Stewart

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Jamieson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

M Nasir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

P Bergin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T O'Connor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Narinder Basra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imran Ackrim

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Hamayun Haq

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alexandrina Davies

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Fazal Raziq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammad Zahir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naveed Amjed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

GUATTA MARISA

email

ITALY

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Barbar Saleem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Faisal Umer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GROSSI BARBARA

email

ITALY

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Elizabeth Somerville

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naveed Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GRANATO ANTONIO

email

ITALY

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stephanie Macfadyen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Manwinder Munday

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GONNELLA GIUSEPPE

email

ITALY

country

46

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Linda Marshall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harbrett Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maxine Blair

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GIACOMELLI PIER PAOLO

email

ITALY

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso

altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amir Jamil

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Muhammad Uner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M qasim Iqbal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nimrit Dal Singh Munday

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Elizabeth Sloan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karen Mulvaney

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anna Friberg

email

Sweden

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Introduce generic or plain packaging

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gary Gillespie

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Muhammed Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T McDavidd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

E Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jaswant Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

GALANTINO CHIARA

email

ITALY

country

48

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la

consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tariq ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Elizabeth McIlduff

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ejaz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zahid Ashrif

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Khalid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Arshad Mohammed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Amanda Campbell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Javed Shakdor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kenny Stewart

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FUSCONI FABIO

email

ITALY

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Qasim Hamid

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Kamaldeep Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Habib Up Rehman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Helen Dolan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FORESTI ALESSANDRO

email

ITALY

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shahid Wasseem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Akram Sarri

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

FOCHESATO MARIA DANIELA

email

ITALY

country

55

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Omar Naseem

email
UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FARALLO PASQUALE

email

ITALY

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata

confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gordon Greeve

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ellen Inglis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FACCANI PAOLA

email

ITALY

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Maryanne Gardner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D Holland

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ian Park

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Deborah Bond

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Hutchinson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Malcolm Waltres

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Kostka

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Helena Ferry

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Hinesh Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Alton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kern

email

Germany

country

25

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich habe kein Kommentar.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SLODZINA SERGE

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

BECAUSE IT IS NOT A REALLY PROBLEM FOR ME

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

delancker frank

email
belguim

country
49

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
V Sentance

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michelsons News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alma Park News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A J Creese

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Camerons

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jacqueline Cole

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

W B Wilsons

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Robson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stuart Wilson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Qaiser

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr and Mrs B Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Harlinder Kumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Today's News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Haris

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs G K Majhal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Mangat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Subathira

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Tushar J Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Js News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sukhjit Saandal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jayesh Maisuria

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kim Stanley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A P Wilkinson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andy Saunders

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Carl Staples

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Asfand Yar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Londis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Grange Road Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M S Purewal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

J Christyaraja

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Bhavesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Ravi Limbachia

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
A L Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kausik Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr D Wool

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr D Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr K K Bhatt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr R Wool

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ramachandran Jalatheepan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thavendran Thambirajah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vidhi News Food & Wine

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Tsang

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Reigate Convenience Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Omed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amreer Singh Lali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Mindi Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Mindi Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr J Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs G K Matharu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kundola

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Asma Nadeem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr N Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joe Melia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D Naranji

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Ruban

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pricewise

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Emma Attewell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Linda Duncan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr M S Thianir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rutland Road Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Matthew Fry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vijay Marwaha

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
J Walton

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs D Dixon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Angela Priestley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Gir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Geoff Plummer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A Odedra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs R Hayfield

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Manjit Gill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Robert Thomas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Onkar Gill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs J Gamgee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P C Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Bowers

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Raj Bains

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cordula Wulsch

email

Deutschland

country

46

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung der neutralen Verpackung wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert. Dies bedroht die Existenz des Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sherrard Street News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kristine Cowen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Tank

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nigel's News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Staveley Road Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bhav Shar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Ranjit Singh Kandola

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Robert David Downes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr T Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mandip Dhillon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Dina Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Sinnart

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Julie Johnson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Steven Foster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Silvio Wulsch

email

Deutschland

country

26

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung der neutralen Verpackung wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Devinder Bahia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

mrs E O Garratt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

R J Sago

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Supanac

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Armjit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Selami Kocpinar, Stadtstr. 39, 25348 Glückstadt,

email

Germany

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

fehlende Verbraucher/Verpackungsinformationen sind eine Einladung für Fälschungen. Der Schmuggel & somit die Kriminalität steigt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M A Sethi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

DRUDI MARCO

email

ITALY

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DRUDI FEDERICO

email

ITALY

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DI SIRO ANGELO

email

ITALY

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la

tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DI PINTO MARCO

email

ITALY

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito

dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DESENZANI NICOLA

email

ITALY

country

25

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DEL TUFO LORETTA

email

ITALY

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti

e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DE SIENA RENATO

email

ITALY

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che

frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DE FILIPPIS NICOLA

email

ITALY

country

64

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di

catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DAOLIO DANIELE

email

ITALY

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe

essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D'ERRICO ANNAMARIA

email

ITALY

country

48

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D'ALOISI FRANCO

email

ITALY

country

82

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la

consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D'ALESSANDRO FRANCESCO

email

ITALY

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dirk Terletzki

email

Germany

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

halut christian

email
belgium

country
55

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Enrique Fco. Ruiz Lopez

email
Granada (España)

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
sin comentarios

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

W E Berry & Son

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lynne Crowden

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Newark Food and Wine

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thak Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
N S Moora

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
J D Hinsa

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Vik Landay

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Select & Save

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R C & A R Hudson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kuldeep Bassi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Wheeler

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gifto Mini Market

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Stafford

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zahida Ahmad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bargain Booze

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Steves Convenience Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M V Supermarket

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Eastham News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stacey Bethell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Simon Waldren

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Hunt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tony Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Timothy Starkey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jason Bushell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Panesar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kailas Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Tim Bhullar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Abdul Hafler

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ISL

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adeel Cheema

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Pritpal Chana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Bashir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dilesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr C Sian

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jon Schofield

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

G Gaheer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Turner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gianni Million

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Sarwar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr U D Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr C V Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Balbir Barhgota

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr B S Padam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Autar Roda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ibrar Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Chudasama

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Gill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr D Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

M Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Benanra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

laeeqa ahmad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zita Verzune

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Masood Ahmed Khan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Michael Bohalz

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Emma Attewell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Scotts News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bandh News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sandra Pine

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Helen Pitman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sally Crofts

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Naomi Avey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hazel Evans

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christine Daniels

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shazad Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Laura Finch

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MSR

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ibom Fidel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Walters

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs T Thavakuhananthan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Londis Foodstore

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lisa Common

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Rajaratnam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

R A Bennett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pavana Chandran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr M Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

South Willesborough Grocery & Off Licence

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Navin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr and Mrs J Rai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Muki Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

G.Randsdorp

email

Nederland

country

60

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aylesford News & General Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Manish

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Gill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M F Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs K Karunanithy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs D A Stallard

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Hans

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Gillian Kent

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ali News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K K Reehal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

delperdange

email

belgique

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A Siva

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vijay Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Weekes News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Philippou

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kirsten Fernworth

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Sabiyen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jayash Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mr Mugunthan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Julian Pomphrey

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Darshna Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Desai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Costcutter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vithiya Nada

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dipak Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stanley Roper

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Thas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Miss S Sivanandam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sunita Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Arrurun

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sajjan Raj

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Devang Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Suresh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Manish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M J Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

J Suresh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mariam Mogal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ashish Babariya

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jasvinder Lal

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mina Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Girish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Faheem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Dipak P Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Kishor Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vimal Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

L Rowe

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M J Spence

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Ashwin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Parul Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohsin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kashif Baig Mirza

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Parminder Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hassan Tufal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shiraz Jaffry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nizam Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

N S and M N Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Qasir Yunis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Kuber Sidhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amir Kochi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Naresh Bachetta

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Uri Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patrons Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Dymchurch Village Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

L Addison

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A J Taylor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C J Patterson

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
S Antill

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

J Allen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jigish Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Londis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J and B Watson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

N Carter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dave Jackson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Veronica Sims

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Limbachia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Asum

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rico Mendez

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Khosla

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M J Geaves

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P C Karpal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S C Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Hament Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D Manning

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D Turner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tim Love

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chase Park

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harwinder Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Terry Foster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alex Gold

email

Austria

country

60

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sanjay Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Stephen Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
B K Store Costcutter

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B J Bains

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Keith Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Life Style

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pete Cellars

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr L S Gill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr N Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ian Clarke

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bandna Group Ltd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Londis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Erkan Soylu

email

Germany

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CORBARA FLORIANA

email

ITALY

country

60

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
CONTI CARMEN

email
ITALY

country

65

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
COLUCCI FIORA DOMENICA

email
ITALY

country

49

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CHERSONI ROSANNA

email
ITALY

country
46

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option
L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

BOTTI MIRKO

email
ITALY

country
41

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option
L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

BASSI FRANCA

email

ITALY

country

55

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BARAGLI LUCIA

email

ITALY

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dimitrios Kalabokas

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christos Polyzos

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΙΩΑΝΝΗΣ ΜΑΧΑΙΡΑΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΕΩΡΓΙΟΣ ΡΟΥΣΣΑΚΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΡΑΣΚΕΥΗ ΧΙΟΝΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΝΑΓΙΩΤΗΣ ΑΓΓΕΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΝΕΣΤΗΣ ΚΩΣΤΙΔΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΕΡΙΣΤΕΡΑ ΤΣΙΜΠΙΔΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΘΑΝΑΣΙΑ ΠΑΣΤΡΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΚΑΝΕΛΑ ΚΑΝΤΡΕΒΑ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΑΝΤΩΝΙΑ ΔΙΑΣΣΑΚΟΥ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer

problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΕΛΠΙΔΑ ΡΕΠΟΥΣΗ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΗΛΙΑΝΑ ΑΥΛΩΝΙΤΗ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΧΡΗΣΤΟΣ ΒΑΣΣΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΙΩΑΝΝΗΣ ΦΟΥΡΚΑΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΙΧΑΛΗΣ ΣΤΕΦΑΝΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΚΑΤΕΡΙΝΑ ΜΗΤΡΑΚΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

CREMONESI ROBERTA

email

ITALY

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CONTI ALICE

email

ITALY

country

26

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

COMITE RAFFAELE

email

ITALY

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la

tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΧΡΙΣΤΟΦΟΡΟΣ ΛΙΓΚΡΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CHIARINI GIUSEPPINA

email

ITALY

country

55

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

CEOLONI VITTORIO

email

ITALY

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CAVALLERO GIANFRANCO ALBERTO

email

ITALY

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΑΝΩΝΗΣ ΚΡΙΤΣΟΤΑΚΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
CATINELLI TOMMASO

email
ITALY

country
40

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso

altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CASTIGNOLA LILIANA

email

ITALY

country

49

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CASALI GABRIELE

email

ITALY

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni

generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΤΑΣΟΣ ΚΟΛΛΙΑΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CAROLI SILVIA

email

ITALY

country

50

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
CARLUCCI RENATA

email
ITALY

country

38

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CARIULO LEONARDO

email
ITALY

country
50

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option
L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

CARELLA ANGELA

email
ITALY

country
34

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option
L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

ΕΛΕΝΗ ΚΩΣΤΙΔΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Guenter Reisner

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Warnhinweis ist vorhanden,

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

CAFIERO SABRINA

email
ITALY

country
42

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

ΕΛΠΙΔΑ ΧΙΟΝΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΡΑΣΚΕΥΗ ΜΑΧΑΙΡΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

DENIS ROUSSOS

email
HELLAS

country
35

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA SXOLIO

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΣΟΦΙΑ ΚΩΣΤΙΔΟΥ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA SXOLIO

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

KATERINA ROUSSOU

email

HELLAS

country

24

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA SXOLIO

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

KONTI KIRIAKI

email

HELLAS

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA SXOLIO

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΙΩΑΝΝΗΣ ΤΡΙΑΝΤΑΦΥΛΛΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Agathie Loizou

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition*explanations

No change

which improvement

additional option

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dimitris Kotsiviros

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

NIKOS ROUSSOS

email

HELLAS

country

50

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Agathi Loizou

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΠΑΡΑΣΚΕΥΗ ΧΑΜΖΑ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer

problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
STELIOS ROUSSOS

email
HELLAS

country
21

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Γιώργος Κορολής

email
Greece

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ουδέν σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Carole Walton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Sarbjit Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adam Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Brian Hough

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dominic Western

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naomi Yeomans

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Kitching

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mike Little

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Young

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ann Conlin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D C Feltham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hednesford News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Asya Parveen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Baljit Bahia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D J Preece

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Philip Simon Devall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jagdish Kaur

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

J G Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Farfield News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Surinder Singh Atwal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shetal Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Jagdeep Gakhal

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mr S Kang

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Toora

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr M E Muquit

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joe Lumsdon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr R Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Roda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Athwal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N C Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sue Hay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Honington News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Gnanapiragasam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K Ginanapiragasam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Silverhill Service Station

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hercules News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Best One

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Premier Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Londis News Extra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Graham Wood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Suchak

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nathan Raman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Elm Grove Corner Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Brown

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Blakes News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Akram Abraham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Eileen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

R Asekaran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anthony Tully

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sidhu News & Off Licence

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mrs N Kaur

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr T Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Baldish Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alastair Payne

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martin Tonks

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Susan Foster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ger Mulrooney

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Raksha Dhahan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Uppal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amy Cole

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sam Saunders

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jason Talbot

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daryl Miller

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr B and Mrs M Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R H Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kay Majhal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Grace Appleby

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Neal Ogilvie

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C J Food & News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Barry Rumsey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Renal News Ltd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Field

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Denyer News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M S Pullen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Hotton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Gemma Thomson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr & Mrs T Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr & Mrs Keshavji

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Woodroffe

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Emma Hilton

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mr H Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Philip Shelley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

B Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Gooderham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Drew Melia

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vivien Edge

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sarah Moseley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anthony Melia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vinod Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs S Mailvaganan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A and Mrs K Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dhanda Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ranjit Dhanda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Götte

email

Deutschland

country

69

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΧΑΚΗ ΑΝΔΡΟΝΙΚΗ

email

GREECE

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΧΑΚΗ ΑΝΔΡΟΝΙΚΗ

email

GREECE

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Wye Newsagency

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anne and Colin Priestley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pluckley Post Office

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Post Office Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rebecca Huetson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sankey WMC

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Clive Gore

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Caron Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Laurentiu Dumitriu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

John Chadwick

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M K Food & Wine

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΣΥΜΙΑΝΑΚΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΗΣ

email

EΛΛΑΔΑ

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chandlers BP

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs V R Magee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Burgess Hill News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abdul Siddeek

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abdul Siddeek

email

uK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs D Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vishal Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bhavin Korla

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M K Hossini

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ina Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajeen Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajnikan Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Premier Express Hart News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Sithamparapillai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S S Bhambra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Food & Wine

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Family S/M

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

English & Continental

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mukesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Solly Adam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohamed Adam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Bunde

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Heinz Marzin

email

Deutschland

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich bin mir der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst, jedoch ein mündiger Bürger. Ich zähle mich zu den Genußrauchern, und das seit meinem 16. Lebensjahr.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Birgit Bunde

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ewgeni Oserow

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ich wünsche keine Einheitspackung und Einheitsfarbe bei Zigaretten. Jeder Raucher ist sich über evtl. Risiken bewußt. Die EU sollte sich nicht weiter als Regulierer aufspielen.

explanations

No change

which improvement

keine Veränderungen gewünscht

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Susanne Roiko

email

Deutschland

country

50

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stefan Richter

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

weitere Maßnahmen bei Zigarettenprodukten lehne ich ab. Es ist genug reguliert.

explanations

No change

which improvement

keine weiteren Veränderung gewünscht

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Claudia Sehring

email

Deutschland

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dipak Soni

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally

sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Suneet Sharma

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

G Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
James Jones

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cheryl Mochan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Elizabeth Smith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Emma Wymer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rachel Brearley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Emma Lane

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mel Ramsdale

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nina Dunning

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Adam Tarbuck

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tariq Butt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Linda Roberts

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Fatema Huseinbhai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul G Samra

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Yousef Bulbulia

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T R Parman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Carol Bains

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Carmen Allen

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ibrahim Papila

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

James Dransfield

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Laksih Chittayan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Ishraq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pavandip Sull

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D Bagdange

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anne C Vickery

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David John Cope

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Riza Yalcin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Terence C Myring

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Ramsey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Soui

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alix Casey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yvonne Lague

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H Umair

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sophie Williamson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D Carter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Carter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Simone Stamer

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Carter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Carter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohamed Hami

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Susan Robson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Susan Robson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Susan Robson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Micky Basra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Balbir Ghuman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Julie Morgan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

B Bill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Diane Lewis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Steve Morris

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Deansfield

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Navinchandra Joshi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Razzaq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Amardeep Jolly

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Muneeb Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dee Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rohit Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

U Pathmasarwan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Halder, Hans Jörg

email
Deutschland

country
66

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ian Marshall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harminder Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pardeep Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ratnam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shilinder Dhaliwal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John M Gough

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Hari Shanmugarajah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ramesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gernot Giloth

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die pauschale Unterstellung, daß Warnhinweise in Bildform und Einheitspackungen irgendeine Wirkung hätten, bezweifle ich absolut. Wie weit soll das noch gehen? Meint die EU wir wären alle dämlich?

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich möchte keine Veränderungen. Diese Überregulierung muß aufhören. Übrigens, ich bin Nichtraucher zeitlebens, aber ich lehne ab, daß sich die EU weiter in die Belange erwachener Bürger einmischt.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christopher Rogers

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Humran Janjua

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohamed Haleem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rahul Kumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Akbal Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ravinder Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rani News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H Dhaliwal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Inderjit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Buta Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tony Duley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Fiona Linstead

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jodi Harper

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Julie Clark

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Leona Compton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H S Kang

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Manhar Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daxesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs J Horton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mayur Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajah Ajithkumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Anish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vivekananthan Utharsman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

N A Armstrong

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Howard

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cosimo Ridolfo

email

Detuschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Zigaretten und Raucher sind bereits mehr als genug reguliert. Weitere Maßnahmen wären kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich lehne weitere Maßnahmen ab. Raucher sind jetzt bereits über alle Maßnahmen diskriminiert und das muß aufhören.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Delhez

email

Holland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Schröder

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über eventuelle Risiken sind Raucher weltweit bereits genug informiert. Es bedarf keinen weiteren Maßnahmen. Die EU sollte sich nicht permanent bei den Bürgern einmischen.

explanations

No change

which improvement

ich will keine Verädnerungen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Chetan Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Geiss

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Wollen Sie mich arbeitslos machen? Durch weitere Einschränkungen und Maßnahmen bei Zigarettschachteln werde ich meine Arbeit verlieren. Es ist bereits genug reguliert und die Konsumenten sind aufgeklärt genug selbst zu entscheiden.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich möchte keine weiteren Veränderungen. Die Regulierungswut der EU muß ein Ende haben.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

dimitris drys

email

greece

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no commend

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Lamla

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Regulierungswut der EU muß gestoppt werden. Einheitsfarbe und Einheitspackungen lehne ich strikt ab.

explanations

No change

which improvement

keine Veränderung erwünscht. Diese permanenten diskriminierenden Maßnahmen der EU müssen aufhören.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Charikleia Kapsali

email
Greece

country
44

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No comments.

explanations
Improve consumer information

which option
Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Heiko Hochdörfer

email
Germany

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Einheitspackungen und Einheitsfarbe bei Zigaretten lehne ich strikt ab. Es ist genug reguliert.

explanations

No change

which improvement

keinerlei Veränderungen erwünscht.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Willi Devinast

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Wann hört die Regulierungswut der EU wieder auf? Von Einheitspackungen und Einheitsfarben halte ich gar nichts.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Keine weiteren Regulierungen und Einschränkungen erwünscht und das sage ich als Nichtraucher.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H.Randsdorp

email

Nederland

country

60

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zafeiropoulos Panagiotis

email

Greece

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zafeiropoulos Panagiotis

email

Greece

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΩΠΑ ΤΖΑΜΑΛΗ

email

EΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ΔΕΝ ΕΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karen Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Shamparaf

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Lawlor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephen Hayer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Kanwal Jit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Prakash Mistry

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jason Turner

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Nadeem

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
S Ahmu

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T Sivasakthivel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anil Gandhi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Unariben

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anant Sthankiya

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Prakash Ramamourty

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

F Akbal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Isaac

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J S Kahia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ersin Soyul

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sofia Buancati

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bipin M Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ralph Scrase

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amanda Scarbrow

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patel Hemal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pinkesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Gunvant Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Krishan N Palana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K Holdway

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Janet Foster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephen King

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karen Wright

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kayleigh Stevens

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Mason

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Ranjit Thukral

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Deepak Thukral

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Sikakanthan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M G Garage

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dimitris Belecós

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
S Dolan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Gudmit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Harbans Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rafiana Kausar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Fiza Kauser

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Yousef Kassim

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ian Lewis McLeod

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hannah Kassim

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harvir Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajvir Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jatinderjit Sidhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΣΧΑΛΙΔΗΣ ΓΕΩΡΓΙΟΣ

email

Greece

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I HAVE NO COMMENTS TO MAKE. I JUST FIND IT RIDICULOUS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Parminder Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally

sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Mahmood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Ali

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Santokh Singh Athwal

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bhupinda Kuma

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sonu Rull

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ishfaq Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sunil Shukla

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bobby Johal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sajid Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shaid Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Frisal Arub

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr N Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

V Sacitharan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A. Roelen

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

V Sathyaseelan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Yasmin Malik

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rakesh Ruparena

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Talal Chanem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Scott Cool

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harjit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr M Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
J Gaunt

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Yogesh Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Navem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

E Ratheswara

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mo J Rahman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Thirunamkarasu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Elsamad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Avgi Selima

email

EΛΛΑΔΑ

country

41

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Edmund Ranjith

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Steve Denyer

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

W C Beacher

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rita Yalcin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Taruna Sharma

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Steve Denyer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shadi Dawood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

RAFAI Chantal

email

BELGIQUE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Dacey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally

sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Saeed anwar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dave Driscoll

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Avgi Selima

email
EΛΛΑΔΑ

country
41

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hardeep Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marjinder Sahota

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aman Mehan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Navpreet Bhatia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vyomesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nicole Gumley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jasbir Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yogendra P Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jenny Tilling

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gurbachan Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maria Handrinou

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Etienne

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No. There is no credible or scientific evidence which demonstrates this is a necessary step. This problem definition tries to cover too many options at once. Packaging provides consumers who wish to purchase products with information about the product they have chosen. Tobacco packaging has never been identified as a reason why children start to smoke or why adult smokers continue to choose to smoke. Plain packaging would lead to an increase in counterfeit products and illicit trade. It will have a negative impact on competition. Plain packaging expropriates the brand owners of valuable intellectual property. Pictorial health warnings make no additional contribution to the public awareness of the risks

explanations

No change

which improvement

No

additional option

No

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Dora Tzamali

email

Greece

country

35

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

As long as these products are legal and governments gain a lot o money from them , you can not treat them as elegal.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alfons Silhavy

email

Deutschland

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Tabakwaren sind ein Genußmittel mit gesundheitlichen Risiken wie Alkohol und ähnliches andere auch. Jeder der diese nutzt ist sich dieser Tatsache auch bewusst. Mit dem Vorhaben der EU bin ich nicht einverstanden, da ich mich dadurch in meinen Grundrechten stark eingeschränkt und diskriminiert fühle. Eine Abschaffung von Automaten leistet dem Schmuggel und der Kriminalität nur Vorschub und verschiebt die Beschaffung noch mehr in die Illegalität.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Etienne

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord,

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aleka Moysella

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Georgios Apostolou

email

Greece

country

28

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Georgios Apostolou

email
Greece

country 28

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Gialamas Ioannis

email

Greece

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΠΑΠΟΣΤΟΛΟΥ ΧΡΗΣΤΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Verschueren Tim

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No, I disagree with the problem definition. The problem definition provided by the Consultation document is vague, confused and inaccurate. There is no analysis within the Consultation document of Union competence to adopt the proposed options and no discussion of the internal market issues that would be required in order for the Union to proceed on the proposed option. Furthermore, the problem definition does not contain any evidence to demonstrate the justification for the various options provided in this section

explanations

No change

which improvement

No

additional option

No

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chantraine

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anna Hatzisavva

email

greece

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Petros Petrogonas

email

Greece

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Faouzia Filali

email

Belgium

country

26

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No, I disagree with the problem definition. The problem definition provided by the Consultation document is vague, confused and inaccurate. There is no analysis within the Consultation document of Union competence to adopt the proposed options and no discussion of the internal market issues that would be required in order for the Union to proceed on the proposed option. Furthermore, the problem definition does not contain any evidence to demonstrate the justification for the various options provided in this section

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gremmelprez

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

GREMMELPREZ

email

BELGIQUE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

JE NE SUIS PAS D'ACCORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Becker Franz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hinkel Heinz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Oster Jürgen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Klaus Simgen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SCIGLIANO MARCELLO

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

wir möchten nicht dass die werbung der zigarettenschachteln entnommen wird dass bedeutet auch arbeitsplatzverluste.

explanations

No change

additional option

wir möchten nicht dass die werbung der zigarettenschachteln entnommen wird, dass bedeutet auch arbeitsplatzverluste

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Scholz

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Theo Weisweiler

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΕΥΑΓΓΕΛΟΣ ΣΠΗΛΙΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

41

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΜΑΡΙΑ ΦΩΣΚΟΛΟΥ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country
32

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ΔΕΝ ΕΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Paul Hermann Tiefenbach

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

which improvement

Anulment of the whole directive. There is no need for a directive on European level. At least the directive should be changed completely. Any elements of education of the citizens should be removed. The directive should regulate information and protection of minors but not try to influence adults citizens in their use of tobacco-products.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

BUZZI SANDRO

email

ITALY

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BRAGA ROBERTA

email

ITALY

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

BOTTONI PATRIZIA

email

ITALY

country

51

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

BOSSINI ORNELLA

email

ITALY

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BONFA' DANIELE

email

ITALY

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

BICCHERI ILIANA

email

ITALY

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BIANCO FRANCESCA

email

ITALY

country

54

age
female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BERTONI FILIPPO

email

ITALY

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BERTERA LAURA

email

ITALY

country

50

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BELOTTI DANIELA

email
ITALY

country
45

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

BELLONI MARIA

email

ITALY

country

62

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

BELLINO ANTONIA

email

ITALY

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Conni Laemmert

email

Deutschland

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis - Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

BARBIERI CATERINA

email

ITALY

country

26

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BACCELLI MIRELLA

email

ITALY

country

72

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

AVEROLDI ADRIANA

email

ITALY

country

55

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Verena Becker

email

Austria

country

35

age
female

additional comments
Yes

explanations
Improve consumer information

which option
Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΓΚΟΥΛΤΑ ΜΠΕΣΣΥ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
George Chatzidakis

email
Greece

country
33

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No comment

explanations
No change

which improvement
No comment

additional option
No comment

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Kerstin Zimmermann

email
Deutschland

country
48

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandes in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zehrina Lindt

email

Deutschland

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken der Rauchers. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Panos Dimitropoulos

email

Hellas

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

agelos tsoutsanis

email

greece

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Helmut Nilles

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marietherese Nilles

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Steuerwald

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Keine Angaben

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kaushik Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Leemarosq Mariathas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bir Singh Madhana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajbir Kaur Grewal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Athee

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Malathy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kevin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anish Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Angathan Nathan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vijay Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mena Odedra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Kugan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Sathiyamoorthy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Asid Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

W Gyau Awuah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mandy Pajgor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Alpa Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Rakesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bhasker Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peter John Silley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Barry Chamley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Richard Fellows

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Richard Tipper

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Witcher

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amarr Sharma

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Valerie Young

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ron Giggs

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Surinder Kaur Rana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Derek Graham Parker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dipak Mehta

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Christine Williams

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kevin Lewis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Helen Vole

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Caroline Ellis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs S Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Claxam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martyn Fryer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr C Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr D Gohal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shashikant Adhyaru

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Kaushik Mehta

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gurinder Dulay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kashmir Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Narinder Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gurpreet Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Baldish Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Paula Gower

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Balwinder Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Glennis Irish

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Susan Peacock

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Onkar Singh

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Karen Courtney

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A Green

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Oliver Peterson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jacqui Berwick

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Dyer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Scott Gresswell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

DIMITRIS TASOULIS

email

GREECE

country

45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
DEN EXO SXOLIO

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Hochgesang Karin

email
Germany

country
43

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Ich habe keinen Kommentar

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Elena Politi

email

greece

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sonia Stringer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

karadimas lampros

email

greece

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΔΕΝ ΕΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karen Wrigley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R M Bellamy

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rashad Zaman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Suneel Kumar Chittamuru

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Storey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Nazir Rawat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nahal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Fuzai Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gurjit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

maria pilar

email

españa

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jaspreet Mandair

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Saranjit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Surinda Duley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

N Darks

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

N Trotter Davies

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

James Cooper

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shady Tana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

gonzalo uribe

email
spain

country
45

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Uhijay Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ad Rockx

email

Nederland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nilesh Kerai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

John Thorley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

L Forrester

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

W A D Ball

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Serena Campbell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Grayham Wylde

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christine Stringer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Claire Glover

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Julie Edwards

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Clare Lawrence

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

J H Martin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lynda Woodhouse

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nathan Pickstock

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
David Hall

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Simon Noblet

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Glenys Weaver

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Burton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tasindor Gill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nirali Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Armin Ahmetogil

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Armin Ahmetogil

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Spiros Gourlias

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nikos Kalabokas

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GRÜN jean-marie

email

Deutschland

country

61

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nikolaos Koutouvelis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no coments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Salakos

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nikos Koutouvelis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Meyer,Beate

email

Germany

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ich finde ein hinzufügen von Bildern als Warnhinweis erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wüßten lediglich überwiegend abstoßend aber ohne zusätzliche information. Neutrale Verpackungen erleichtern Schmugglern das fälschen. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Auch gehen dem Staat Steuern verloren. Bei Neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in Jeder Hinsicht ( Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen..) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen sich auf das Raucherverhalten auswirkt. Dafür gibt es aber bisher keine Nachweise aus den Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Spiros Kavadias

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Eckert

email

Germany

country

55

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

evi Hioti

email

ellada

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kanena sxolio

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kardaras Giorgos

email

ellada

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kanena sxolio

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Svolis Thanasis

email

ellada

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kanena sxolio

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tsounis Bagelis

email

ellada

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kanena sxolio

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Katsoupis Stayros

email

ellada

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kanena sxolio

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Georganas xristos

email

ellada

country

47

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kanena sxolio

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ANTONINI GIULIANO

email
ITALY

country
36

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations
No change

additional option
L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Kostas Moumougiannis

email

Greece

country

49

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ANDOLFATTO LUCIO

email

ITALY

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Maniquet Bernard

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord, les infos actuelles sont suffisantes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paco da silva joao carlos

email

Deutschland

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

AMBROGIO MARIA ROSA

email

ITALY

country

67

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ALBANI EZIO

email

ITALY

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la

consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

AIARDI FRANCESCA

email

ITALY

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ALBANESE MASSIMILIANO

email

ITALY

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ABRIOLA DANIELA

email

ITALY

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

La spiegazione dettagliata è nello spazio relativo alla scelta dell'opzione.

explanations

No change

additional option

L'utilizzo di avvertenze speciali sotto forma di illustrazioni, l'aumento delle dimensioni o un posizionamento specifico delle avvertenze testuali o con illustrazioni non aumenta la consapevolezza dei rischi sanitari connessi all'uso dei prodotti da fumo. Tale evidenza è stata confermata anche dai dati che provengono dagli Stati Membri (in particolare Belgio e Gran Bretagna) dove tali misure sono obbligatorie. Per questo motivo ritengo che la possibilità di inserire avvertenze speciali sotto forma di fotografie a colori o altre illustrazioni dovrebbe essere lasciata alla libera iniziativa degli Stati Membri come già previsto dalla normativa esistente. Relativamente all'opzione 2b, la quale suggerisce che le informazioni sui livelli di catrame, nicotina e monossido di carbonio (TNCO) vengano sostituite da indicazioni generiche sulla tossicità delle sostanze contenute nei prodotti a base di tabacco, ritengo che frequenti cambiamenti delle informazioni sul pacchetto o negli inserti possano solo confondere i consumatori. Reputo quindi, che le informazioni relative a contenuti, ingredienti e componenti dei prodotti da fumo possano essere comunicate più efficacemente attraverso altre forme di pubblicità quali siti web, numeri verdi ecc. Inoltre, l'introduzione di una normativa che standardizzi le modalità di confezionamento per tutti i prodotti presenti sul mercato (es. il c.d. pacchetto generico o le limitazioni sull'utilizzo dei colori), come suggerito dall'opzione 3, oltre ad essere in contrasto con una serie di diritti fondamentali universalmente riconosciuti quali la tutela della concorrenza, la libera iniziativa economica, la tutela della proprietà e dell'utilizzo del marchio, mette a rischio la stessa sopravvivenza dell'industria dando impulso al mercato illecito.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jadot

email

belgium

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

WILIKENS JEAN-PIERRE

email

belgië

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NIET AKKOORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hölzgens Gertrud

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des mewin national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hölzgens Franz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens- Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΧΡΗΣΤΟΣ ΤΑΡΑΝΤΙΑΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΔΕΝ ΕΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΚΩΣΤΑΣ ΒΕΡΒΑΙΝΙΩΤΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΔΕΝ ΕΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΚΩΣΤΑΣ ΒΕΡΒΑΙΝΙΩΤΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΔΕΝ ΕΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

which improvement
ΔΕΝ ΕΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Martina Fontaine

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Daniela Anton

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Die geplanten Maßnahmen stellen einen scharfen Einschnitt in die Selbstbestimmung der EU Bürger dar. Verbraucher sind bestens über die Gesundheitsrisiken informiert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

René van Oers

email

Nederland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

verdin

email

Belgium

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord car je ne veux pas donner la chance d'un marché parallèle illicite et difficulté de reconnaître les marques préférées avec suspicion de malversations.

explanations

No change

additional option

Il ne faut pas être pro tabac mais la liberté de fumer est également à respecter si elle se fait dans le respect d'autrui et des règles en vigueur. Evitons tout marché parallèle et laissons à chacun leurs droits tout en leur rappelant leurs obligations et faisons payer le fumeur par exemple par des soins non remboursables pour certains type de cancer (poumons, gorge,....) en fonction du diagnostic médical.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

jähmig, sven-roy

email

deutschland

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ERNESTO CASTILLO AGOTE

email
ESPAÑA

country
40

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ES SUFICIENTE COMO ESTA AHORA

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ROELS

email
Belgique

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Je ne suis pas d'accord, c'est ridicule.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Said Hazmi

email

Germany

country

35

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht- die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

batzakakis george

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

KATERINA POTHOU

email

GREECE

country

32

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

which improvement

NO

additional option

NO COMMENT

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Senel sahin

email

Germany

country

36

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

TabAkware sind legale Produkte Grundrechte werden durch diese masnahmen eingeschränkt Organisierte Kriminalität und Schmuggel wird dadurch mehr Wenn legale verkaufsstellen verschwinden uvm... Solche Entscheidungen sollte auf nationaler Ebene getroffen werden!!!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Franz Hahn

email
Germany

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Vassiliki Tsitou

email
Greece

country
33

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Vassiliki Tsitou

email
Greece

country
33

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't have any comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Kemkowski

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K.H. Geschwind

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GEDOELST

email

BELGIQUE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

PAS D'ACCORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Verbruggen

email

Begium

country

40

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Papatriantafillou George

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no coments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joachim Feilner

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

jeder Raucher weiß bereits, dass es u.U. ungesund ist, zu rauchen jede Menge Arbeitsplätze wären bedroht

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gravias Thanasis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hiernaut

email

Belgium

country

29

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Helmut Geldner

email

Deutschland

country

62

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewußtsein der Risiken des Rauchens.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sträßer Thomas

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es gibt schon genug Warnhinweise. Etliche Existenzen sind bedroht. Weniger Steuereinnahmen sind abzusehen, da der Umsatz schwindet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΛΗΔΑ ΑΡΓΥΡΟΓΛΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΔΕΝ ΕΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Schatzl Bernhard

email

Österreich

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

bevor die Schädlichkeit nicht eindeutig bewiesen ist, sollte kein Verbot ausgesprochen werden!

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

menachem elazar

email

belgium

country

35

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

additional option

no change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

F. Van Meel

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Χρήστος Βαλταδώρος

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Feddersen

email

Deutschland

country

42

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Durch fehlende Verpackungsinformationen ist es leichter die Verpackungen zu fälschen

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Dritsas George

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Monika Vogler

email

Deutschland

country

59

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrea Sträßer

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Der Verbraucher ist sich den Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Die Einheitspackung gefährdet Arbeitsplätze .

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Athanasios Rempelos

email

Greece

country

27

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MARIALENA MARINAKI

email

GREECE

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΛΙΚΗ ΟΡΙΕΤΤΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

29

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΔΕΝ Ε΄ΧΩ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

EVELINA PITTA

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

43

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENTS

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
olivieri

email
belgique

country
45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
je ne suis pas d accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Paris Godenopoulos

email

greece

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

EVELINA PITTA

email

GREECE

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SOFIA GALANIS

email

GREECE

country

35

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

which improvement

NO COMMENT

additional option

NO COMMENT

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sabine Schulteß

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird den Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zoe Gemeliari

email

Greece

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Simone Lichtsteiner

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Imke Schiefelbein

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Klinke Sven

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Petra Steinhauser

email

Germany

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Petra Steinhauser

email

Germany

country

40

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bernd Loosen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hans Klein

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hartmut Schröer

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kerstin Scholl

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

TUYPENS Laurent

email

BELGIUM

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

TUYPENS Laurent

email

BELGIUM

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I'm not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Pascal Paligot

email

Belgique

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je trouve que cette decision serai une atteinte a la librete de chacun de choisir.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Athwal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S.Dursun

email

nederland

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nayan Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hayri Bozkurt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rami Ramsis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S R Kinthasan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kevin Ranjan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ram News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alkesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Premier Convenience Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

V Ram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Burkard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Arul Siva

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Hull

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Manor Court Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K S Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Pachigar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Philip Chak

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S & A Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Randhawa

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Neves

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jagpals

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jaswinder Mann

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Kajalis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Colkin Bros

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Canniford

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J S Cameron

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sandal Gav Store

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Philip Colbeck

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S Ahir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sunil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmed Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr M Thakor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Razzaq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Dipak Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R Ayub

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dara Ram

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr K Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Raja Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Qasem Ejaz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr N Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Prewel Quencher

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Assim Bhatti

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Premier Stores Ltd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs M K Budwal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs B Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Saleem Sheikh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Pugal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

The Black Bush Shoppe

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A Ashlal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Parker

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dauids Sweets

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Union Street News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Geoff Schofield

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sabir Valli

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ashfa Ali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anwar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
News Box

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ian Bailey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Travis Ellis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Humphries

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sohil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Robjohn

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

David Cook

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

N Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

David Foster

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bakhsho Jassi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

F Howden

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amarpreet Dhadli

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Emma

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D R Symons

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kevin Friel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Maydwell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pav Padda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Barry Lindon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nuneaton Offlicence & Grocer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Dhillon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

V Chelvanathan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Philip Munday

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S P Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ramaes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Abdula

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr and Mrs S Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paya D Tailor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Pratheepan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sravan Kumar Balusu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R G Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Balachandran Atchuthan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Raj

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

P Subakaran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K T Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gareth Jones

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D George

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

P Moore

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nishan Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

G Arakas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hack Peter

email

Austria

country

43

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

g.vlaxopoulou

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

without comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bastian Middeke

email

Deutschland (Germany)

country

26

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Bilder und Hinweise auf den Verpackungen erhöhen nicht das Bewusstsein, da so ziemlich jeder damit vertraut ist.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Janice Dutchak

email

England

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Please leave packs as they are. You are gradually making smokers second class citizens by turning their brands into whaty will look like pill boxes.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Seis, Juergen

email

Germany

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

In m

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bastian Middeke

email

Deutschland (Germany)

country

26

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Klaus Müller

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Warnhinweise werden bereits abgebildet, die Verbraucher sind bereits genug aufgeklärt !

explanations

No change

additional option

Durch gleiche Verpackungen werden nur billige Zigaretten gefördert !

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

dimitrios panagiwtopylos

email
athens

country
30

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
κανένα σχολιο

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
dimitris panagiwtopylos

email
athens

country
30

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
κανένα σχολιο

explanations
No change

additional option

κανένα σχόλιο

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Imran Farooq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Despina Dimitratou

email

Greece

country

40

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ZEVGOLIS DIMITRIS

email
GREECE

country
43

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Bart Videler

email

The Netherlands

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mena Capari

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ferdi Caspari

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Caspari

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΑΡΙΑ -ΙΩΑΝΝΑ ΜΠΑΛΩΜΕΝΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΚΩΣΤΑΣ ΠΟΥΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sylvia Opaku

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jagdishs Bhinder

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Salim Hudda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dipab Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Terry Erkcon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H C Henry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Naresh Dauz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Dilara Mutlu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jacqueline Onrole

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΒΑΣΙΛΗΣ ΜΕΝΤΕΝΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sayed Hamid Raza

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ben Ghurman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jade McEvelley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Samir Purwan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr B Robinson

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yatin Desai

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Balwinder Kaur Sidhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alex Nikonovs

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Selena McKay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alice Barber

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

peter Bennett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ethel Howard

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joanne Lees

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Julie Willis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wendy Wood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dale Gadsby

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aruna Samani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Shafique

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mr I Zamir

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

V J patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Charanjeet Singh manu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Narinder Singh Bhupal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daniel Vimaden

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

V J Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Amanda Stokes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mutaf Kayan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nagul Mahadevan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naren Dran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D Kassayo

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vamadena Tharshan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Akberali Alidina

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Annette Caspari

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

R Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kandiah Paraparan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joy Rajendra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Ravandran

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

jitendra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abraham

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thayaparan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ku Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Gunjam

email

Uk

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sunny Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Muj Manju

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Usman Mansoor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
V Mahendigrotty

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ali Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Hiva

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Annette Caspari

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Panisha Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M Nadir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mahmod Aram

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Adnan Anwar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Ismail

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Shital Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Amirthing

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Thilipan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Manogarasingam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sabana Sathees

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Franz- Josef Caspari

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tahir Younes

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Y Chag

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mukunthan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Yonesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

T Pirabakamin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Heenesh Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Charles Ayo

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nimesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B Styer

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Simone Nienaber

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Heinz

email

Germany

country

46

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ES EXISTIERT BEREITS EIN ALLGEMEINES BEWUSSTSEIN DER RISIKEN DES RAUCHENS. EIN HINZUFÜGEN VON BILDERN AUF DEN WARNHINWEISEN ERHÖHT DIESES BEWUSSTSEIN NICHT- DIE BILDER WIRKEN LEDIGLICH ÜBERWIEGEND ABSTOßEND OHNE EINE ZUSÄTZLICHE INFORMATION ZU BIETEN.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cäcilia Peping

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mechthild Peping

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Boggant News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Naheed Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

John Treves

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Friedhelm Peping

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wajid Younis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Salma Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adam Lajim

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr R Shah

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M K Pathmanathan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kamal Hayan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karen Newman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs B Vashani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Salinder Khera

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

V Vijayanathan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Raj Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Mahmet

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Fabion

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Friedhelm Peping

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

M Ahilan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
R Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Costcutter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Baasi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paffrath Annegrete

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibe es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Usha Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jasuir Kumar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Suki Kaur

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nigel Francis

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tarun Kumar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Sanigra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Bayne

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

B S Lali

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A M Seedat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Dabhad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr S E Eyre

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bhupinder Rajput

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michelle McKenna

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Amar Barot

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jayesh T Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B Mandep

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

V Joshi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

L S Lally

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Value Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H D Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M R Hussain

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tariq Farooq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H S Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Lata Ahir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

B S Bhambra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Arun Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Evans

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mr J Bradley

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Debbie Dalton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Sardar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pardeep Jalpin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Natalie Adele

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gareth Percival

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paffrath Hans

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Davies

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally

sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Darren Davies

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Sajjad Ahmed

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M G Tayler

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kanu Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr M A Shakir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Abdul Sattar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Craddock Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Sandhu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tarjit Singh Sandlum

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Athwal Kally

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dugesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Humran Janjua

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christine Neubauer

email

Deutschland

country

40

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Kennzeichnung auf den einzelnen Packungen wissen die Leute schon genug, das das Rauchen Risiken für die Gesundheit birgt. Ich glaube nicht, das man sie in dem Bereich noch mehr warnen kann.

explanations

No change

additional option

Wenn der Kunde nicht mehr unterscheiden kann, ob er Marlboro, JPS oder was anderes raucht, dann ist es für ihn sowieso egal und er greift zur Billigmarke. Das führt dazu, das die Preise im Tabakbereich nach unten gehen, weil der Kunde nicht mehr bereit dazu ist, soviel dafür zu bezahlen. Folge davon: Die Umsätze und auch die Spannen für die Unternehmen, die damit handeln, fallen, evtl. so stark, das es personelle Konsequenzen nach sich zieht.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sarge Mahli

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Neil Williams

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kamlesh Rana

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Hall

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr K Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Rashid

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rampal Sharma

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anis Kham

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mr Abid Hussain

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Y Kanesharatnam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A J Arulpagasan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs J Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Chetana Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anbu Kamara

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Satkunanathan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

J Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ken Rodgers

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Key Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Liz Stanley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rajen Vasu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tovil Post Office & news

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

W Welby

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ursula Weber

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es geht nicht um unmündige Kinder, sondern um mündige Bürger. Jeder mit der mit durchschnittlicher Intelligenz ausgestattet ist, weiss dass Rauchen ungesund ist. Das Aufdrucken von solchen Bildern bringt meines Erachtens einen Raucher nicht dazu aufzuhören. Die Bilder erzeugen lediglich Ekel, dem jeder entgegen wirken kann, indem er sich im Handel eines der zahlreich angebotenen Zigarettentuis kauft. Auch eine neutrale Packung bringt einen Raucher nicht dazu ein solches Produkt zu kaufen. Wer eine Marke jahrelang kauft, kauft sie auch weiterhin. Die einzigen die davon einen Vorteil haben sind die Produktfälscher. Durch solche Maßnahmen wird den Fälscher Tür und Tor geöffnet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BOGER

email

Belguim

country

37

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Paffrath Hans

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bolder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kotraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bis her keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtens eingeführt wurden.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Angelika Burbes

email

Deutschland

country

53

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich bin Nichtraucher aber was soll das,daß alle Packungen gleich sind??? Was ist das nächste das Sie planen ? Autos ? Sind in Zukunft alle Autos gleich ohne Firmen-Logo ? Oder Wurst ? Sind in Zukunft alle Wurstwaren gleich ? Ich finde Sie bevormunden hier uns alle. Ich werde auf keinen Fall mehr zur Europa-Wahl gehen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paffrath Hans

email

Deutschland

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No Change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bernd Burbes

email

Deutschland

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Wir leben in einer freien Welt,wo jeder anbieten kann wie er will.Nun kommt die EU und will hier Einheitspackungen. Was soll das? Jeder Bürger der über 18 Jahre ist und damit volljährig,kann doch für sich selbst entscheiden,was er macht oder nicht macht.Sind Sie deshalb von uns mündigen Bürgern eines deutschen Staates,bei dem es vor der EU,keinerlei Reklementierung des Tabak-Genusses gab,gewählt worden.Sie sollten sich auf Dinge konzentrieren die wichtiger sind(Arbeitslosigkeit usw.)!!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rosemarie Heinz

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rudi van Kleeff

email

The Netherlands

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Silvia Kehrer

email

Austria

country

47

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

Der Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie sollte durchaus die angegebenen Produkte beinhalten. Ohne zuvorige wissenschaftliche Überprüfung der Produkte in Hinsicht auf ihre Schädlichkeit für den menschlichen Körper sollte jedoch kein Verbot ausgesprochen werden.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

van Diedenhoven Margarete

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stratioti Eleni

email

Greece

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Spanos George

email

Greece

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pantazopoulos Antonis

email

Greece

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mitsakos Antonis

email

Greece

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

van Diedenhoven Wilhelm

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht-die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kostakos Nikos

email

Greece

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kontogianni Riki

email

Greece

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gabino Stella

email

Greece

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gavrilis Manolis

email

Greece

country

37

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No Comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Agelopoulos Antonis

email
Greece

country
32

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No Comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Ladomenou Popi

email

Greece

country

35

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kostakou Evi

email

Greece

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Renzo van den Bossche

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Bauer

email

BRD

country

55

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Krankheitsbilder auf den Packungen wirken vorwiegend abstoßend und beeinflussen das bereits vorhandene Bewußtsein zum Risiko des Rauchens nicht. Durch die Einheitspackungen sind Umsatzeinbußen vorprogrammiert, die zum "Sterben" von Einzelhandelsgeschäften führen. Damit verbunden sind automatisch zunehmende Arbeitslosigkeit mit den damit verbundenen Auswirkungen bei gleichzeitiger Reduzierung von Steuereinnahmen. Außerdem erhöhen Einheitspackungen das Risiko für Produktfälschungen und erleichtern das Schmuggeln über die Grenzen hinaus.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Makis Kaisaratos

email

Greece

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stampouloglou Elena

email
Greece

country
31

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No Comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Kounoupa Iria

email
Greece

country
33

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No Comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Galanou Sofia

email

Greece

country

19

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Konstantinos Chatzigeorgiou

email

Greece

country

20

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Voula Chanioti

email
Greece

country
30

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
aiexis

email

greece

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

<>

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

maria

email

greece

country

22

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

<.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

litsa

email

greece

country

35

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

<>

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

KATERINA

email

greece

country

49

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

<>

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bernahrd Becker

email

Deutschland

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewußtsein nicht, die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggelns weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen..) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einföhrugn von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus den den Ländern, in den Bildwarnhinweise verpflichtend eingeföhrt wurden!

explanations

No change

which improvement

Verbraucherinformationen verbessern 2a: Exzessive grafische Bildwarnhinweise würden in sämtlichen Mitgliedstaaten verpflichtend. Sie würden vergrößert, für beide Seiten der Verpackung vorgeschrieben, und Richtung Oberseite der Verpackung positioniert. 2b: Angaben zu den TNCO (Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid)-Gehaltswerten würden ersetzt durch allgemeine Informationen zu schädlichen Stoffen in Tabakerzeugnissen und speziell in deren jeweils verbrannter Form. 2c: Angaben zu schädlichen Stoffen in Tabakerzeugnissen, die auf der Packung nicht plaziert werden können, würde man innerhalb der Packung platzieren. 2d: Gesundheitswarnhinweise würden auch auf Wasserpfeifen plaziert.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΧΡΗΣΤΟΣ ΠΑΠΑΔΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

18

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PauloJorge Soares da Silva

email

deutschland

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines bewusstsein der risiken des rauchens.Ein hinzufügen von bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht-die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstossend ohne eine zusätzliche information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rolf Gunter Fey

email

Germany

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von "Bildwarnhinweise" auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΑΓΔΑΛΗΝΗ ΚΩΝΣΤΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΕΩΡΓΙΟΣ ΠΑΠΑΔΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PEBEKKA ΣΙΓΑΛΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΘΕΟΔΟΣΙΑ ΣΙΓΑΛΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Simone Jones

email
Germany

country
43

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Die vorgeschlagenen Änderungen senken nicht den Konsum.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Ingo Kampf

email
Germany

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die vorgeschlagenen Änderungen senken nicht den Konsum.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christel Luise Köhler

email

Deutschland

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Fehlende Verbraucher und Verpackungsinformationen sind eine Einladung für Fälscher, die Produkte zu fälschen und in den Schwarzen Handel zu bringen. Schmuggel und Kriminalität steigen, Steuerhinterziehungen sind die direkte Folge. Das kann und will ich nicht unterstützen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

LIBRAORIE BIERGES

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Betz Tanja

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Stichhaltige wissenschaftliche Nachweise für die Wirksamkeit von Plain Packaging bestehen nicht. Verschiedene Länder haben eine Einführung von Plain Packaging erwogen, es dann aber wegen fehlender wissenschaftlicher Nachweise wieder verworfen, zum Beispiel Kanada und Litauen. Plain Packaging bedeutet eine illegale staatliche Enteignung von Markenrechten. Eine Umsetzung in deutsches Recht würde gegen einige verfassungsrechtlich gewährleisteten Grundrechte verstoßen - darunter Artikel 14 GG (Eigentumsgarantie), Artikel 12 GG (Berufsfreiheit) und Artikel 5 GG (Meinungsäußerungsfreiheit). Plain packaging verstößt außerdem gegen Artikel 34 AEUV (Warenverkehrsfreiheit). Zudem würde bei Plain Packaging, durch das Fehlen anderer Möglichkeiten zur Unterscheidung, zunehmend der Wettbewerb über den Preis laufen. Wenn Tabakprodukte billiger werden, steigt der Konsum. Der Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz wird so unterlaufen. Darüber hinaus wird es Plain Packaging der organisierten Kriminalität viel einfacher machen, Packungen zu imitieren und so dem illegalen Handel Tür und Tor öffnen. Anmerkung: Schade, dass so wichtige Homepages nur auf Englisch gestaltet sind und nicht in jeder EU Sprache verfügbar. Dies alleine ist eigentlich ein so schlechtes Auftreten, dass in der freien Wirtschaft sofort zum Niedergang auf europäischer Ebene führen würde. Und so etwas wird von überbezahlten, ahnungslosen Volksvertretern geduldet. Meine Überzeugung über die Politik im allgemeinen sinkt leider Tag für Tag. und damit bin ich sicher nicht alleine. Wen wunderts!!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Betz Joachim

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Plain Packaging bedeutet eine illegale staatliche Enteignung von Markenrechten. Eine Umsetzung in deutsches Recht würde gegen einige verfassungsrechtlich gewährleisteten Grundrechte verstoßen - darunter Artikel 14 GG (Eigentumsgarantie), Artikel 12 GG (Berufsfreiheit) und Artikel 5 GG (Meinungsäußerungsfreiheit). Plain packaging verstößt außerdem gegen Artikel 34 AEUV (Warenverkehrsfreiheit). Darüber hinaus wird es Plain Packaging der organisierten Kriminalität viel einfacher machen, Packungen zu imitieren und so dem illegalen Handel Tür und Tor öffnen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name
RUYTINX

email
BELGIUM

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

which improvement
Je ne suis absolument pas d'accord;

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
RUYTINX

email
BELGIUM

country
55

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kiefer Beate, Wallerfanger Str. 86, 66740 Saarlouis

email

Germany

country

59

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Bildhinweise erhöhen das Risikobewusstsein nicht

explanations

No change

which improvement

x

additional option

x

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gerd Eck

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert schon ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchers. Neutrale Verpackungen erleichtern den Produktfälschern die Arbeit. Bildwarnhinweise haben keine einwirkung aus das Rauchverhalten des Rauchers.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Pierson

email

Belgique

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

vandenhautte

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jörg Henning

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Personally I find this is not good because we are thereby possibly occur at some point income problems. For example, jobs are lost, no more tax revenue, that is, at some point we'd have taken everything, eventhe air we breathe.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jeremie Coussement

email

Belgium

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΗΜΗΤΡΗΣ ΠΟΥΛΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Bris Chaudhary

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Top News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Umar Mulla

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joe Smith

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Christopher Dowdeswell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P Bennett

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Gilcharn Dass

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Negarasa

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

j.S. Bahia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Parvinder Singh Bhadak

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sohail Khalil

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naween Kalia

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rafi Maumoniati

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S Harjeel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr T Tek

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Al Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A J Arulpagasam

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Museum Stores

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Sanjay Patel

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Daily News Ltd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dil Pazir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Khodadad Hassani

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nasir Mehmood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rafa Qat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Bames

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs Indira Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anthony Bolton

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

S M Hunter

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shilpa Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Sunil Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B.M. Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nadeem Abbas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Suliemansuti

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Uday Barot

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Kalay

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Tariq

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Mahesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Shahzad Wasim

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Chavda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr J Sugh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Raj Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Surrinder Bhogal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N. Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Pama

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Talya Sharcon

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Syan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Naomi Lewis

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Andy Pollard

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M Mahmood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Numan Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Mann

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name
S Little

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
The Corner Shop

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kultar Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Pasha Malica

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lupton Stores Ltd

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Shokar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr A Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr H Parmar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Muhammad younas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr P M Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SK Discount Store

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr P Bharth

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs H Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Verma

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ibson Neu S

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

B Jinder

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Niranjan G Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Pravin Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs S Siddique

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ibrar Aziz

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Kasa

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zabir Lakha

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aamad

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Samra

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Bharat

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Spar

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr R Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nilesh Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N.S. Manku

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr B Mistry

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Harjit Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ash Turner

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Parmar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kelly Whelan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Village Newsagents

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Sray

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kam Gill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

LHOIR GREGORY

email

belgium

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marta Tévar Beunza

email

spain

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

El tabaco es un producto legal. Las empresas tienen derecho a diferenciarse de sus competidoras. Los adultos conocen suficientemente los peligros del tabaco.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Amit Daue

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Charles Ogwasar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sunil Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ruchit Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ravi

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dilara Mutlu

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative

strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Premier Wines

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K. Vadgama

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Crofton News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

J W Atwal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Reetash Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohamed Irshan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M. Kaanthan

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Kirupai Rajah Pragash

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ramesh Subramainian

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joseph Ogura

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Almo Atasem

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patel Pritesh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M. Kandeepan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

John Seven

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

R Patey

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K Shafique

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J Simmonds

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr N Sazique

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Beevers

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr N Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bernot, Roswitha und Hans Jürgen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Do you agree with the Problem definition ?

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

N. Singh

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mrs P Lumley

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gill Heslop

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D. Navinda

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Astrid Nijskens

email

Belgique

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Oxtoby

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

S Mughal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know

and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gurminder Sagoo

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gita Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Raz Aqas

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Givlam Mustafa

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Pervar Ahmed

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain

packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Koria Bros

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adil Khan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Salim Badat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zahid Noor

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maindee Prjmier

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A J Goyat

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Newport Minimarket

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Beechwood Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tanya McDonnell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M A Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lifestyle Express

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Oxana Fiebrig

email

Deutschland

country

39

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Caroline Poole

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Rafique

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Sabir

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dald Aza

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vaseem Jabbar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Luxttons Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M&L News

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tahir Mahmood

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jonathan and Joanne Powell

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ravi Ranjan

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zapar Ismail

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce

retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Maik Kampf

email

Germany

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die vorgeschlagenen Maßnahmen senken nicht den Verbrauch.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M. A. Igbal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

C Phillips

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nifa Nahar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Khorlim Amin

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-

smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ali's Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mohammed Boota

email
UK

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Marc Hoffmann

email
Germany

country
23

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

- Ein allgemeines Bewusstsein innerhalb der breiten Öffentlichkeit, das rauchen gesundheitsschädlich ist / sein kann besteht bereits. - Die Einführung von Bildern von Raucherlungen, -beinen oder ähnlichem ändert am Bewusstsein der Allgemeinheit, dass rauchen gesundheitsschädlich ist nichts. Diese Forderung erinnert mehr am Popularismus als dass es um eine Änderung des öffentlichen Bewusstseins geht. In Ländern, in denen bereits solche "Warnhinweise" in Bildform Verwendung finden. - Es ist mit hohen finanziellen Einbusen, sowohl in den öffentlichen Haushalten, als auch bei den betroffenen Einzelhändlern zu rechnen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stow Hill Service Station

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thorsten Kampf

email

Germany

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Das Risiko ist ausreichend bekannt. Eine Änderung der Verpackung senkt nicht den Verbrauch.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gurmeet Grewal

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K.J. Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr B.A.P.B. Patel

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Harbinder Gill

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dale Feed Stores

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Shaih

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Robin Valkaert

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree at all.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sandra Schulz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aerts Denis

email

Belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marina

email

Estonia

country

33

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

Problem must be decided psychologically. Smoking MUST BECOME OUT OF FASHION, NOT POPULAR. The best people of the world are not smokers. In the films are NO SMOKERS In the everywhere there are NO SMOKERS. Then young people are not interested in smoking and they know that it is ONLY losing of money and health.

additional option

Young people does not understand about health in their age. they try smoking and continue and do not feel BAD. I think that it must be only VERY STRONG cigarettes allowed to produce, then a lot of people do not like smoking, because it is not SO PLEASANT. Young people do not like it, BECAUSE IS NOT TRENDY, IS NOT ATTRACTIVE.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Manfred Meyers

email

Germany

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

People know already by official information the risks about smoking. Each citizen has the right do decide for himself.

explanations

No change

additional option

It would be better to fight more against no legal drugs than against tobacco smoking.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

norman simonne

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

niet nodig

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

vekemans paul

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i don not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thorsten Heinz

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht-die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MINGEOT

email

BELGIQUE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I don' agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christof Bächle

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens Neutrale verpackungen erhöht die Produktfälscherei was zu erhöhtem Schmuggel und Steuereinbußen führt

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Delhaye

email

BELGIQUE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Claudia Schiener

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

generische Verpackungen führen zu Fälschungen / Forcierung von Tabakschmuggel / schadet Wirtschaft / fördert Kriminalität

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Iskra Pehman

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Generische Verpackungen führen zu vermehrten Fälschungen und Schmuggel, schadet der Wirtschaft, fördert Kriminalität.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Grignet Philippe

email

belgique

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord avec cette nouvelle directive européenne, ceci est d'un ridicule!!!!!! alons-nous retourner du temps de la proébiton ou tout devait se vendre sous le manteau. Les fumeurs sont adultes et responsable, libre a eux de fumer ou pas, n'oublions pas que l'industrie du tabac apporte une manne financière extraordinaire au près des pays européens.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PARDONCHE

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Philippe Piérard

email

Belgium

country

62

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr Sindhar

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Candyman

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Saddkdue & Sons

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mr P Batt

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Global Groceries

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by

way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mehnan Ahmed

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrew Poll

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

The health consequences of tobacco consumption are universally known and are disclosed by way of big lettering and/or graphic pictures on virtually every tobacco product that is legally sold on the UK market. Putting larger, more graphic pictures on the pack exposes non-smokers (including retailers and their staff) to offensive pictures on a daily basis. Plain packaging will not reduce smoking but will encourage downtrading and therefore reduce retailer margins. It will also encourage illicit trade. Smokers often want to know the relative strengths of tobacco products. If the pack does not tell them, they will expect retailers to know and we cannot be expected to memorise this detail.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rosemarie Ritter

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kk

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

dorien foucher

email

belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Fuss

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michaela Clemens

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

KERKHOVE

email

BELGIUM

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

IN YOUR VIEW WHICH OPTION DDRESSES THE PROBLEM MOST EFFECTIVELY ?

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name
KERKHOVE

email
BELGIUM

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
IN YOUR VIEW WHICH OPTION ADDRESSES THE PROBLEM MOST EFFECTIVELY

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Potart Birgitte

email
Belgium

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
consummers know the risks

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Siegfried Bocken

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

zanatta

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

contrare à l'idée européenne du libre échange, de la libre concurrence des produits

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marco Mingers

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rolf Uebel

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cromphout

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

abdelli kamel librairie du droit

email

belgique

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord .Notre travail est très difficile fatiguant et peu rémunérateur . Par ces démarches vous allez contribuer a la mort des petits libraires qui se batent de 5 heures a 7 heures 6 jours sur 7 pour un très maigre salaire horaire . dans quoi allez vous plongé la profession.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

abdelli kamel librairie du droit

email

belgique

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord .Notre travail est très difficile fatiguant et peu rémunérateur . Par ces démarches vous allez contribuer a la mort des petits libraires qui se batent de 5 heures a 7 heures 6 jours sur 7 pour un très maigre salaire horaire . dans quoi allez vous plongé la profession.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kugler Siegfried

email

Germany

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. .

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jacobs

email

Deutschland

country

40

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Becker

email
D

country
44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Bilder wirken abstoßend und bieten keine weitere Information; Neutrale Verpackungen bringen keinen Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ana maría delgado rodríguez

email
españa

country
41

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

sin comentarios

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

josé manuel vizcaíno sánchez

email

españa

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Sin comentarios

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ana maría delgado rodríguez

email

españa

country

41

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Tombers

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karl Fred Diehl

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Georg Metz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Philip Timmermans

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Burkard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

König Michael

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Beirmaert

email

Belgium

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jiri Jerabek

email

Czech Republic

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dagmar Baltes

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Bilder bieten keine zusätzliche Information. Produktfälscherei und Schmuggel wird verschärft. Sinkende Preise durch verstärktes Preis-Marketing- Sinkende Preise- Kontraproduktiv im Bezug auf Jugendschutz , Steuereinnahmen usw.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Günther Ettelbrück

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewußtsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewußtsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einföhrung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen.....) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeföhrt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

panos

email

greece

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

kanena sxolio

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
panos

email
greece

country
41

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
kanena sxolio

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
panos

email
greece

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

giannis

email

greece

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

<>

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

athina

email

greece

country

27

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

<>

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marios Kyprianou

email

Cyprus

country

22

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Δεν εχω κατι να πω

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

janssens

email

belgique

country

68

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

p.e. Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Willem Walhout

email

Holland

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

"I DO NOT AGREE"

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Siegfried Schulze

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Elvira Unterricker

email

Germany

country

50

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Barbara Klinkenberg

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kunter Renate

email

Germany

country

46

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karin Veit

email

Germany

country

53

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ladensterben,- Bedrohung meiner Existenz Diskriminierung. Förderung der Kriminalität

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ED Tankstelle Ulli Schmitz 56589 Niederbreitbach

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es soll nichts geändert werden!!!! Dadurch werden viele Ihren Job verlieren

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Heinz Luy

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Yvonne Herweg

email

Deutschland

country

49

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Kein Raucher lässt sich von Warnhinweisen oder Abbildungen vom rauchen abhalten

explanations
No change

which improvement
Ich wünsche keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Christian Herweg

email
Deutschland

country
44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Kein aktiver Raucher lässt sich von Warnhinweisen oder Abbildungen vom Rauchen abhalten

explanations
No change

which improvement
Ich wünsche keine Änderung der Packungsgestaltung

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

KaLLWEIT

email

Deutschland

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Verbraucher sind hinreichend aufgeklärt.

explanations

No change

additional option

Neutrale Packungen lassen sich leichter fälschen. Schwarzmarkt.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karl-Heinz Pink

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Melanie Poth

email
Germany

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mandy Baumgärtner

email
Germany

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ellika Schubert

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kranzpiller Barbara

email

Deutschland

country

43

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Edith Kalek

email
BRD

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Barbara Kranzpiller

email
Deutschland

country
43

age
female

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Daniel Kalek

email
BRD

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Brigitte Raphael

email
BRD

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existieren keinerlei Nachweise, dass Bildhinweise sich auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephanie Steinmetz

email

Deutschland

country

50

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Bilder mit Warnhinweisen bringen nichts, werden mit der Zeit nicht mehr wahrgenommen, bzw werden durch schöne Etuis abgedeckt. Mit neutralen Packungen werden Fälschungen und Schmuggel erleichtert

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wolfgang Raphael

email
BRD

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Dorothe Rüther

email
BRD

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Raucher sind sich der Risiken bewusst. Bilder wirken nur abstoßend.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Heinz Ströer

email
Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wolfram Rüther

email

brd

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Raucher sind sich durchaus der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Bilder schrecken nicht zusätzlich ab.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Meyer Helga

email

Deutschlanad

country

49

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alexandra White

email

Sweden

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information; Introduce generic or plain packaging

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Fett

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Maron MP

email

belgique

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord, I'am not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kerstin Fett

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Erwin Feck

email

Germany

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Maßnahmen zur Einheitspackungen und Einheitsfarbe bei Zigaretten lehne ich ab. Die Diskriminierung muß ein Ende haben.

explanations

No change

which improvement

keine weiteren Einschränkungen erwünscht.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gerd Eck

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich lehne die weiteren Diskriminierungsversuche durch Einheitspackungen und Einheitsfarbe bei Zigarettenschalchtern ab. Es werden unnötig Arbeitsplätze vernichtet und der Schmuggel gefördert.

explanations

No change

which improvement

keine weiteren Veränderungen erwünscht.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Borger

email

Deutschland

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ich lehne die angedachte 'Einführung von Einheitspackungen und Einheitsfarbe entschieden ab. Diese Disikriminierung von Rauchern und eines legalen Produktes muß ein Ende haben.

explanations

No change

which improvement

keine Veränderungen erwünscht.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Winfried Junker

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existieren keinerlei Nachweise, dass Bildhinweise sich auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher Steuereinnahmen sinken.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Elke Junker

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Raucher sind sich durchaus der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Bilder schrecken nicht zusätzlich ab. Raucher sind sich der Risiken bewusst. Bilder wirken nur abstoßend.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nadine Russy

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Wehrland

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen 'Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Helga Altmeier

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Das Schmuggelproblem verschärft sich, dadurch sind Arbeitsplätze gefährdet. auswirken. Sinkende Preise als Konsequenz des verschärften Wettbewerbs

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Pascal König

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Eveline Ackermann

email

Deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

keine weiteren Änderungen bei Zigarettenschachteln erwünscht. Es ist genug reguliert.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Keine Veränderungen erwünscht.

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stefan Andres

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich bin Nichtraucher, lehne jedoch die Einheitspackung und Einheitfarbe bei Zigaretenschachteln ab. Es ist genug reguliert.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche keine weiteren Veränderungen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anne Ross

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Elfriede Beuchling

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedraoht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Simon

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Lorang

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joachim Simon

email

brd

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Sinkende Preise als Konsequenz des verschärften Wettbewerbs.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Debout Jessica

email

Belgique

country

25

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Les paquets blancs ne changeront rien...C'est une très mauvaise idée et ne mènera qu'à plus de ventes illégales de la part de beaucoup de personnes. Je pense également que cela fera beaucoup de pertes pour les sociétés du tabac qui conduira certainement à mettre quelques personnes au chômage!! Cacher les paquets ou les mettre en blancs,est pour moi une idée TRES bizarre...

explanations

No change

which improvement

Laisser les paquets comme ils sont...il y a déjà assez bien de photos,numéro d'aide,..donc voilà,c'est suffisant!!!

additional option

Au lieu d'user du temps et de l'argent pour des paquets blancs ou des systemes pour cacher les paquets, octroyer plutôt des aides à CEUX QUI VEULENT arrêter de fumer

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Heike Simon

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gerhard Oetzel

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Tailleur Béatrice

email

Belgique

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord en tant qu'acteur économique et petit détaillant

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ulrike Lorang

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jutta Simon

email

Brd

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ralf Jakobs

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackung wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Herbert Thiel

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Raucher sind sich durchaus der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Bilder schrecken nicht zusätzlich ab.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Steffens

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Raufhverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sandra Vogel

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Agnes Ihrlich

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wolfgang Wunn

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jörg Ludt

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Meyer Helga

email

Deutschland

country

49

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzugügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gpe. del Carmen Bonner

email

Deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die veränderte Produktgestaltung schränkt m.E. den freien Wettbewerb ein, eine Wirksamkeit ist nicht belegt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

söhrettin canpolat

email

germany

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

K.Rainer Bonner

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Die bisherigen Maßnahmen zum Verbraucherschutz sind m.E. ausreichend, die Wirkung von Bildwarnhinweisen sehe ich als nicht gegeben.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Heinen Michael

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Schöneshöfer Bruno

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Armin Kiesling

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vashamillette

email

Belgium

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Marco Ockenfels

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Walli Link

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Volker Weiss

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Uli Meinhard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Meinhard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Theo Oberfrank

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Simone Meinhard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dietmar Schneider

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rosi Liesenfeld

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ralf Schwoll

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Silvia Gutowsky

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

sarah kalcher

email

austria

country

21

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

additional option

everybody should decide for him/herself...

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Fürst

email

Austria

country

27

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

additional option

everybody has is own mind and everybody should decide for hiself if he/she wants to smoke or not. Not the EU

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

van Diedenhoven Margret

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht-die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hensgens Bernd

email

Deutschland

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewußtsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewußtsein nicht-die Bilder wirken lediglich abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Iris Lessing

email

Deutschland

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens!!! Ladensterben ist vorprogrammiert!!! Dem ohnehin hochverschuldeten Staat würden jährlich Milliarden an Euro fehlen!!! Tausende Arbeitsplätze würden wegfallen!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

van Diedenhoven Wilhelm

email

Deutschland

country

1955

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens . Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht -die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten . Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggelns weiter verschärft . Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland . Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz . Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht ( Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz , Steuereinnahmen ...) kontraproduktiv . Es wird pauschal unterstellt , dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt . Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern , in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden ,

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Carsten Lessing

email

Deutschland

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens!!! Ladensterben ist vorprogrammiert!!! Dem ohnehin hochverschuldeten Staat würden jährlich Milliarden an Euro fehlen!!! Tausende Arbeitsplätze würden wegfallen!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PARIDANS

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

actually, the information's consumer is good to choose in freedom.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΠΟΥΡΧΑΣ ΓΕΡΑΣΙΜΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dinon

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Carsten Lessing

email

Deutschland

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchers. Was ist mit den Arbeitsplätzen der Arbeitnehmer in der Tabakindustrie und darüber hinaus? Was ist mit den Milliarden an Steuereinnahmen des ohnehin hochverschuldeten Staates? Tabaksteuern sind die Haupteinnahmequelle eines jeden Landes!!! Und über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf Preis-Marketing!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dinon

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΠΟΥΡΧΑ ΑΘΗΝΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Beate Meurer

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Raucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΗΜΑΚΟΣ ΚΩΝΣΤΑΝΤΙΝΟΣ

email

ελλαδα

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thorsten Gantert

email

Deutschland

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Josef Koch

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein weiterer Warnhinweis erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Walter Gettmann

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewußtsein der Risiken des Rauchens. In Deutschland sind Tabakprodukte nur Erwachsenen zugänglich. Daher kann jeder selbst entscheiden, ob er/sie rauchen möchte oder nicht.

explanations

No change

additional option

Wieso liegt dieses Dokument nur in englischer Sprache vor? Deutsch ist die mit am meisten in der EU gesprochene Sprache. Ich als Bürger habe ein Recht darauf, solche Dokumente, auf denen ich eine Auswahl zu treffen habe, auch in meiner Landessprache vorgelegt zu bekommen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marion Baudis

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht- die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzlich Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Eleni Kechagia

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lemaire Pierre

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Yvonne Gantert

email

Deutschland

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

George Kokkinis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no commend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lemaire Pierre

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Verbraucherinformationen verbessern 2a: Exzessive grafische Bildwarnhinweise würden in sämtlichen Mitgliedsstaaten verpflichtend. Sie würden vergrößert, für beide Seiten einer Packung vorgeschrieben und Richtung Oberseite der Packung positioniert. 2b: Angaben zu den TNCO (Teer, Nikotin und Kohlenmonoxid)-Gehaltswerten würden ersetzt durch allgemeine Informationen zu schädlichen Stoffen in Tabakerzeugnissen und speziell in deren jeweils verbrannter Form. 2c: Angaben zu schädlichen Stoffen in Tabakerzeugnissen, die auf der Packung nicht platziert werden können, würde man innerhalb der Packung platzieren. 2d: Gesundheitswarnhinweise würden auch auf Wasserpfeifen platziert.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Librairie Merlot

email

Herbeumont 6887

country

63

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord. Cela ne changera rien et qui va encore payer l'ces frais inutiles?

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

EΛΙΣΑΒΕΤ

email

EΛΛΑΔΑ

country

29

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

<>

explanations

No change

which improvement

<>

additional option

<>

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Renate Sarrasch

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht- die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jolanta Czerny-Klaue

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Risiken des Rauchens werden jedem Verbraucher täglich drastisch durch Presse, Fernsehen etc. vor Augen geführt. Neutrale Verpackungen erhöhen das Bewusstsein dieser Risiken keinesfalls. Produktfälschern und Schmugglern werden Tür und Tor für ihre illegalen Geschäfte geöffnet. Desweiteren sind zehntausende Existenzen im Groß- und Einzelhandel und bei den Zulieferern und Herstellern gefährdet, worüber sich wohl weder die deutsche Regierung noch die EU Gedanken gemacht haben. Der Raucher wird als Melkkuh zur Subventionierung der Lobby der Energieversorger und anderen benutzt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Covalciuc Julian

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht-die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ingo Klaue

email

Deutschland

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Die Risiken des Rauchens sind hinlänglich und allgemein bekannt. Die Warnhinweise auf den Produkten erhöhen das Bewusstsein dieser Risiken nicht. Neutrale Verpackungen helfen nur Produktfälschern bzw. Schmugglern, der Raucher ansich ist nicht dumm. Die Existenz der Groß- und Einzelhändler und deren Zulieferern ist massiv bedroht(Arbeitslose!!!!!!). Alle bisherigen Maßnahmen seitens des Staates bzw. der EU fruchten nicht, der Raucher wie auch der Autofahrer werden nur als Melkkuh des Staates benutzt, um z.B. die Stromkonzerne etc. mit Subventionen zuzuschütten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DEVILLE

email

Belgique

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord avec cette directive

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ruoff Hardy

email

germany

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

es wird pauschal unterstellt das die einführung von bildwarnhinweise auf das rauchverhalten der verbraucher einwirkt. dafür gibt es bisher keine nachweise aus ländern in denen bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtet eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ruoff Martina

email

Deutschland

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

durch die umsetzung von neutralen verpackungen wird produktfälschern die arbeit erleichtert und das problem des schmuggels weiter verschärft .dies bedroht die existens des rein national tätigen gross und einzelhandels ind deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sabine Wurzer

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert. Das Schmuggelproblem verschärft sich, dadurch sind Arbeitsplätze gefährdet. auswirken. Sinkende Preise als Konsequenz des verschärften Wettbewerbs. Es existieren keinerlei Nachweise, dass Bildhinweise sich auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karl-Heinz Geschwind

email

Deutschland

country

57

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No Change

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
kindermans patrick

email
belgie

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
leclercq

email
belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

cela ne changera pas la consommation de tabac et développera encore plus le marché noir (la fabrication et la vente) notamment dans les night shops qui vendent déjà les cigarettes à la pièce.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Plummer Daniel

email

Belgique

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

If sales of tobacco products were down, or go get you taxes ... In the pockets of non-smokers, this will result in more permanently significant losses of employment ...

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

JACQUES Joel

email

Belgique

country

61

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord, cela favorisera le marché illicite

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Daenen René

email

Belgique

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ne suis absolument pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sven Scherer

email

brd

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Steuereinnahmen sinken.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Winfried Scherer

email

brd

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Raucher sind sich der Risiken bewusst. Bilder wirken nur abstoßend.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kerstin Höfert

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existieren keinerlei Nachweise, dass Bildhinweise sich auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephanie Tepperies

email

Deutschland

country

26

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ursula Hellbrück

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Steuereinnahmen sinken.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sabine Jammerneegg

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wären wieder eine Menge Arbeitsplätze gefährdet. Viele kleinere Tabakwaren Großhändler haben schon aufgegeben bzw. hatten gar keine andere Wahl weil sie die Vorgaben der Politik wie z.B. die Alterslegitimierung über Geldkarte, Personalausweis oder Führerschein nicht stemmen konnten. So wird systematisch eine Branche kaputt gemacht auf deren Steuern aber schlecht verzichtet werden könnte. Aber für den Ausfall an Steuern gibt es bestimmt eine Menge neuer Ideen um an Geld zu kommen. Hier sehe ich mich in meinen Entscheidungen (rauchen oder nicht etc.) bevormundet. Außerdem sind die Raucher doch gerade wieder die die in den nächsten Jahren wieder tiefer in die Tasche greifen müssen irgendwann ist genug. Es reicht!!!!!! Kümmert euch um wichtige Dinge und nicht um Dinge die eigentlich schon geregelt sind.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

alfons egler

email

brd

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Das Schmuggelproblem verschärft sich, dadurch sind Arbeitsplätze gefährdet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Carmelo Debilio

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Je ne suis pas du tout d accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

magermans

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Waltraud Seebald

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Axel Seebald

email

brd

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sabine Beck

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hans Peter Beck

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

francou

email

belgique

country

67

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

pas d'accord....incitation à la vente illicite...gestion compliquée

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

francou

email

belgique

country

67

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord....une invitation à la vente illicite...vente compliquée

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Grass

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

siafakas dimitrios

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no coments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patrick Meinhard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Josef Maßmann

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Balopoulos Panos

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jenny Meinhard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rolf Fensterseifer

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Torsten Jammerneegg

email

Deutschland

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Torsten Jammerneegg

email

Deutschland

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Steffen Janoschka

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sven Müller

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lisa Potisch

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anna-Lena Drexel

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Florian Platt

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

platon

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Patrick West

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Eduard Lang

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Birgit Melchisedech

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Das Schmutzproblem verschärft sich, dadurch sind Arbeitsplätze gefährdet

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Reiner Vogtel

email

BRD

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dominik Muders

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thorsten Stüker

email

Germany

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Tobacco is a legal product. Therefore you should present the product as all other products.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Humberg

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Romberg

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anne Stüker

email

Germany

country

25

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Tobacco is a legal product. Therefore you should present the product as all other products.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Maik Stüker

email
Deutschland

country
37

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Tobacco is a legal product. Therefore you should present the product as all other products.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

hallot philippe

email

belgium

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

pas d'accord...not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΑΝΑΗ ΜΑΛΛΗ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΝΙΚΟΣ ΣΚΟΥΛΙΚΑΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΜΟΛΟΧΙΤΗΣ ΓΙΩΡΓΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΘΗΝΑ ΣΤΑΙΚΟΠΟΥΛΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cornet

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I'm not ok

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Renate König

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandel in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hans Jürgen Schmitt

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Steuereinnahmen sinken.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

EV SKOURAS

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ralf Steinmetz

email

Deutschland

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jeder Raucher kennt die Risiken, Bilder bieten keine Informationen, es gibt keine Hinweise dass durch Bildwarnhinweise das Rauchverhalten verändern

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Petra Görg

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ein Bewusstsein über die Risiken des Rauchens ist bereits vorhanden. Dies wird durch neutrale Verpackungen und Bildwarnhinweisen nicht erhöht.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Georges

email

belgium

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

angousi georgia

email

hellas

country

35

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

none

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ursel Langes

email

Garmany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hanse

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas du tout d'accord. Quand des idées de ce genre sont avancées, a quoi ou plutôt a qui pense t-on? pas sûr que cela aura un impact sur les personnes qui fument !!!!! pense t-on aux petits vendeurs de tabacs qui n'auront pas le choix que de mettre la cle sous la porte !!!!!!!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Weiler

email

Germany

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es ist genug reguliert.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich lehne weitere Maßnahmen ab.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

CHETOUI Hafid

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I'm not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Horst Wetschei

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Keine Angaben

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rabe, Silke

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Raucher sollten frei entscheiden dürfen. Andere Genussmittel dürfen auch frei ausgewählt werden. Kinder und Jugendliche sollten immer geschützt werden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Weiß Marion

email

Deutschland

country

44

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert ien allgemeines Bewusstsein der risiken des Rauchens.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Carmen Dietrich

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existieren keinerlei Nachweise, dass Bildhinweise sich auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

collignon

email

belgium

country 39

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
JE NE SUIS PAS D ACCORD

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Harald Dietrich

email
germany

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Christian Lukas

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marianne Seuser

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ivanca Ziegler

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Raucher sind sich durchaus der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Bilder schrecken nicht zusätzlich ab.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Boris Junker

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Das Schmuggelproblem verschärft sich, dadurch sind Arbeitsplätze gefährdet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

bervoets piet

email
belgie

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
an bervoets

email
belgie

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Herbert Schönhofen

email
Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Piedboeuf

email

Belgium

country

19

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Demoulin

email

Belgium

country

41

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sandy Knerr

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Raucher sind sich durchaus der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Bilder schrecken nicht zusätzlich ab.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Armin Knerr

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Maria Klütsch

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Martina Konrad

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rainer Konrad

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Das Schmuggelproblem verschärft sich, dadurch sind Arbeitsplätze gefährdet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Günther Pillatzki

email

Deutschland

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jeder weiß daß Rauchen nicht gesund ist. Abschreckende Bilder sind daher kein mittel um das rauchen zu verhindern. Außerdem ist rauchen ein Luxusartikel und den möchte ich auch mit einer ansprechenden verpackung zeigen. Das schmuggeln und der illegale verkauf von zigarretten wird durch eine Einheitspackung mit sicherheit noch gefördert. Was bei uns zu umsatzverlusten und auch steuereinbußen führt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Willi Devinast

email

Deutschland

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die die neutrale verpackung wird das rauchen nicht eingeschränkt. Der konsument wird nur verwirrt. Außerdem wird dann ein Preiskampf entfacht der es jugendlichen noch leichter macht sich Zigarretten zu besorgen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Fiechter

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Als mündiger Bürger will ich selbst entscheiden, welche legalen Genußmittel ich konsumiere.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vangelis Patsiavos

email

Greece

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Fotiou Stelios

email

greece

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vasilis Alevizopoulos

email

greece

country

27

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ritsatos George

email

Greece

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

stafillopatis george

email

greece

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Maragoudakis Panagioths

email

Greece

country

23

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

which improvement
no comment

additional option
no comment

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
KASSIS PANAGIOTIS

email
greece

country 28

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

SKOULIS GEORGIOS

email

GRECEE

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

EFSTATHIOU IOANNIS

email

GREECE

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

GEORGAS ANASTASIOS

email

greece

country

26

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SKOULIS GEORGIOS

email

GRECEE

country

30

age
male

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Rini Bennebroek

email
Nederland

country
49

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik "Ik ga niet akkoord".

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Rini Bennebroek

email
Nederland

additional comments
No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik "Ik ga niet akkoord"

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rini Bennebroek

email

Nederland

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik "Ik ga niet akkoord"

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Josef Willems

email

Germany

country

58

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht das Bewusstsein nicht- die Bilder wirken lediglich abstoßend ohne eine weitere Information zu bieten. Die Produktfälscher erhalten leichteres Spiel! Die Einführung von Bildern hat keine beweisbaren Folgen auf das Rauchverhalten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

erik van espen

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

it's not necessary

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Liesegang, Stefan

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Problem des Schmuggels Freie Entscheidung Jugendschutz ist ausreichend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bernstädt

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Bauer

email

BRD

country

55

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Bilder wirken abstoßend auf Verbraucher, die bereits vorhandene Beschriftung über das erhöhte Krebsrisiko ist ausreichend und für jeden Verbraucher verständlich. Einheitliche Verpackungen erleichtern das Fälschen von Tabakprodukten und erhöhen damit das Problem des Schmuggelns. Als Verbraucher wünscht man sich eine schnelle Entscheidung beim Kauf des Tabakprodukts, da durch die farbliche Hinterlegung gewissermaßen eine Aussage über die Inhaltsstoffe gemacht und das äußere Erscheinungsbild des Produktes verbessert wird. Mit der Einführung von Einheitspackungen sind Umsatzeinbußen vorprogrammiert, die einen ganzen Wirtschaftsbereich extrem belasten würden. (Mitarbeiterentlassungen, Insolvenzen, Steuerverluste u.a.)

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Buhs

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es gibt bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken vom Rauchen. Jeder Raucher liest bereits heute schon die Risiken auf jeder Packung !!! Es weiss, was er macht. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein überhaupt nicht. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Durch die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf den Preis, d. h. sinkende Preise wären die Folge. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen usw. ...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus den Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden. Ich war im Oktober in Frankreich und habe mit einem franz. Tabakwarenhändler gesprochen. Trotz den bereits dort eingeführten Bildwarnhinweisen in Frankreich ist KEIN RÜCKGANG im Verkauf zu erkennen !!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Vasters

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Produktvielfalt geht verloren, Bildwarnhinweise bewirken wahrscheinlich eher das Gegenteil bei jugendlichen Erst- Konsumenten. Ältere Konsumenten sind sowieso schon sensibilisiert. Es wird dann nur noch die Billigschiene im Absatz laufen und die Steuereinnahmen würden auch durch Schmuggel und Produktplaterie weiter in den Keller gehen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hans-Joachim Rabanus

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sarah Schneider

email

Germany

country

20

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

kein kommentar

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Heinz-Peter Schneider

email
Germany

country
58

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no commentar

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Giuseppina Bothe

email
Deutschland

age
female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Diskriminierung, Fachgeschäfte sterben aus.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kornelia Schneider

email

Germany

country

55

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Susanne Kost

email

Germany

country

32

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Das erhöht das Schmuggelprobleme und zerstört den Tabakwarenmarkt

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

joerg Weichert

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Generische Verpackungen führen zu mehr Schmuggel und nicht zu gesundheitsbewussterem Verhalten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mechthild Menke

email

Germany

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich fühle mich in meinem eigenen Entscheidungsraum eingeschränkt

explanations

No change

which improvement

Jeder ist für seine Gesundheit selber verantwortlich und ist darüber hinreichend aufgeklärt was das Rauchen bewirkt oder nicht

additional option

Einzug von Einkommensbasis für viele kleine Lebensmitteleinzelhändler

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΑΡΙΑ ΠΑΡΤΣΑΦΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

28

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

which improvement

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

additional option

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mike Dotzenroth

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Rauchen gefährdet die Gesundheit. Aber wenn Tabakprodukte „unter den Ladentisch“ wandern, über Automaten grundsätzlich nicht mehr angeboten werden dürfen und alle Packungen gleich aussehen, geht das zu Lasten von Sortimentsvielfalt, Warenpräsentation und Beratung. Die Ware sucht sich ihren Weg: Das und Einheitspackungen öffnen Tür und Tor für Produktfälscher und Schmuggler - also der organisierten Kriminalität. Der Konsument bleibt auf der Strecke, denn er kann nicht mehr beurteilen, welches Produkt er in Händen hält.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΣΤΑΥΡΟΣ ΑΝΑΓΝΩΣΤΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

which improvement

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

additional option

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΑΡΙΑ ΠΑΡΤΣΑΦΑ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

28

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

which improvement

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

additional option

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

LESPIRE

email

BELGIQUE

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord. Le consommateur doit pouvoir choisir en voyant le produit, en distinguant un produit d'un autre. Le fabricant doit pouvoir conserver l'identité de son produit, de sa marque et se démarquer des autres.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Oskar Appel

email

Deutschland

country

63

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jeder der raucht weiß das dies schädlich ist.Bilder stumpfen nur ab oder sind ekelerregend,verhindern das rauchverlangen aber nicht.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hubertus Perlick

email

Germany

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Keine Einheitspackungen und Einheitsfarbe bei Zigarettenschachteln. Es reicht.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Veränderungen sind nicht erforderlich

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Erich Koppenhöfer

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich wünsche keine Einheitspackungen und Einheitfarben für Zigarettenschachtel. Ich distanziere mich von dieser Art von Überregulierung der EU.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich möchte keine Veränderung.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ingrid Koppenhöfer

email

Deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Zigaretten werden bereits jetzt überreguliert, weshalb ich weitere Einschnitte wie Einheitspackung und Einheitsfarbe ablehne.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche keine Veränderungen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sylvia Helten

email

Germany

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es ist jedem das Risiko des Rauchen bewusst. Bilder würden keine neuen Informationen bieten. Die Wahrscheinlichkeit, dass der Raucher zusätzlich eine Umverpackung, oder Metallbox erwirbt ist hoch. Damit verschwinden die Originalverpackungen nach dem Kauf sofort im Müll. Bei neutralen Verpackungen wird die Möglichkeit illegaler Ware noch erhöht, da eine Nachbildung noch einfacher wird. Bei neutraler Verpackung wird das Konsumverhalten ausschließlich durch den Preis gesteuert. Die führt zu geringen Spannen - ist somit existenzbedrohend für den Handel, führt zu geringen Stüereinnahmen und ist nicht im Sinne des Jugendschutzes.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schmidt

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des ein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

meers jean

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christa Rappel

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kein kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

maria sakellariou

email

greece

country

19

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

antonis sakellariou

email

greece

country

21

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Daniela Klein

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Raucher sind sich durchaus der Risiken des Rauchens bewusst. Bilder schrecken nicht zusätzlich ab.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Silvia Pauly

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Susann Grundmann

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

- das Selbstbestimmungsrecht jedes Einzelnen wird genommen. - jeder Verbraucher ist über die Gefahren des Rauchens hinreichend aufgeklärt - Ungleichbehandlung zu anderen Gesundheitsgefahren, wie zum Beispiel ungesunde Nahrung - Funsport - Autofahren...

explanations

No change

additional option

- Entzug der Einkommens Basis für hochabsetzende Betriebe, was zu Stellenabbau führen wird und einem Entzug der Einkommensgrundlage für Kleinunternehmer und Mittelständler bedeutet. - der Bürger wird bei vollem Bewußtsein entmündigt - keine Selbstbestimmung! - der Schwarzmarkt wird wachsen

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daniela Horsch

email

Deutschland

country

45

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gronen, Margarethe

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

advocate Andrzej Tomaszek Drzewiecki, Tomaszek & Partners

email

Poland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

In my opinion a prescription of plain packagings may violate of the principle of proportionality (art. 31 par. 3 of the Polish Constitution). Any limitation upon the exercise of constitutional freedoms and rights may be imposed only by statute, and only to protect health or the freedoms and rights of other persons. Such limitations shall not violate the essence of freedoms and rights. The order of implementing plain packagings does not comply with the condition of usefulness and necessity. This prescription may also violate the principle of equal treatment of entrepreneurs in Poland (art. 32 of the Polish Constitution) as well as may violate property rights (art. 64 of the Polish Constitution). Expropriation may be allowed solely for public purposes and for just compensation (art. 21 par. 2 of the Polish Constitution). Finally, this prescription would infringe intellectual property rights arising from registered trademarks. Tobacco companies would be limited in enjoyment of trademarks which constitute property rights. According to Article 20 of the Trade-Related Aspects of International Property Rights (TRIPS) Agreement and the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property 1883 the use of a trademark in the course of trade is not to be unjustifiably encumbered by special requirements such as its use in a manner detrimental to its capability to distinguish the goods or services of one undertaking from those of other undertakings. Moreover, all trademark registered for cigarettes and tobacco products could be cancelled due to non use. In Poland a trademark may be vulnerable to cancellation if it was not used within five subsequent years from a registration date. This would, again, infringe the property rights.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Luca Pauly

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Klaus Jakobs

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Steuereinnahmen sinken.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Karin Pauly

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Zumstein

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht -die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peters, Thomas

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paula Ryssen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Altenhofen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Hecht

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Das Schmuggelproblem verschärft sich, dadurch sind Arbeitsplätze gefährdet

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

paredis luc

email

belgie

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Fred Lohr-Spanier

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich lehne die Einheitspackung und Einheitsfarbe für Zigarettenschachteln strikt ab. Hat die EU eigentlich keine anderen Sorgen?

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche keine weiteren Veränderungen. Die EU entwickelt sich zu einer Regulierungsbehörde und das unterstütze ich nicht.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lehmann, Kathrin

email

Germany

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

die Verbraucher sind bereits genügend über Gesundheitsrisiken aufgeklärt

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen führen zu sinkenden Handelsspannen Fälschungen sind leichter

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Steward Rehfisch

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Elke Müller

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Katja Ruddeck

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MARIA SAKELLARIOU

email

GREECE

country

64

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Dennis Krämer

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Sandra Reith

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zach Dante

email

Ireland

country

26

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

It is unsatisfactory

explanations

No change

which improvement

The POSDB is ineffective at reducing smoking prevalence.

additional option

The proposed display ban will have a devastating effect on shopkeepers in Ireland and across the European Union. Since the introduction of the point of sale display ban in Ireland in 2009 there has been widespread evidence that retailers have suffered significantly. Rather than reducing the level of smoking, the ban has instead contributed to an increase on the illicit tobacco trade with legitimate retailers suffering as a result. We believe that a ban across the EU will have a similar affect and place the many struggling retailers under further pressure in a time of great economic hardship. Criminal gangs and dissident terrorist groups have become heavily involved in the illicit tobacco trade where, since the introduction of the Point of Sale Display Ban in Ireland, there have been over a quarter of a billion cigarettes seized recovering €85 million of lost tax revenue. Moving tobacco products under the counter has undoubtedly made it easier for smugglers, counterfeiters and illegal street salesmen to enter the legitimate trade with counterfeit and contraband packets. This has in turn directly affected retailers who are heavily dependent in the sale of tobacco products. In 2009 Irish retailers collectively lost close to €700 million from tobacco being sold illegally on the black market. In the same year legitimate sales have taken a 40% hit since the ban was implemented with no decline in smoking prevalence levels. In a recent survey of retailers in the Ireland, 94% per cent described tobacco sales as being vital to their business and one in two said that redundancies were going to be enforced if the high trend in smuggling continued. Where retailers in throughout the EU to suffer similar loses, many would surely be forced out of business. As well as contributing to the profits of criminal gangs and dissident terrorists, the period since the Point of Sale Display Ban has been introduced has seen many reported cases of small retailers investigated for selling counterfeit and illegal cigarettes under the counter for a fraction of the price. While all tobacco products have a damaging health impact, illicit and counterfeit cigarettes are known to contain 75% more tar, 28% more nicotine, and about 63% more carbon monoxide than regular cigarettes. The chairperson of ASH Ireland, the anti smoking lobby for Ireland, Dr Angie Brown has equally highlighted the much greater dangers that exist from illicit and counterfeit cigarettes; “we have no idea about the ingredients that go into smuggled cigarettes that are produced illegally where there are absolutely no quality controls.” We believe that the draft regulations for a tobacco product display ban will not lead to a reduction in the prevalence of smoking but will rather put retailers in the European Union under severe pressure in a time of difficult economic hardship. At the same time evidence form Ireland, where a ban has been introduced since 2009, shows that the ban has directly lead to the increase in the illicit tobacco trade from which many criminal gangs and dissident terrorist groups are known to be profiting.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hubert Weber

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ANTONIS SAKELLARIOU

email

GREECE

country

71

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

evaggelia sakellariou

email
greece

country
43

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Christoph Schläger

email
Deutschland

country
41

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Die Bilder, als auch die Warnhinweise auf den Verpackungen, haben nicht zu einem stärkeren Bewusstsein geführt. Dies ist auch richtig so. Der Verbraucher muss selbst entscheiden was er mit seiner Gesundheit anfängt. Wo soll diese ganze Bevormundung noch aufhören. Schreiben wir in Zukunft auf Autos das diese bei falsche Handhabe einen Fahrer umbringen. Weiter noch sollten dann auf den Türen Unfalltote im Lack zu erkennen sein? Ich glaube das hier zum großen Teil einfach nur Lobby betrieben wird. Was diese ganzen Verbote und Einschränkungen bringen sehen wir an den Staaten die zur Zeit alle in die Pleite fahren. In Deutschland sollten die Erhöhungen der Tabaksteuer für JUGENDSCHUT sorgen. Der einzige Effekt ist ein enormer Zugewinn des Schmuggels aus Ost Europa. Diesen würde man mit der Einheitsverpackung noch einen großen Gefallen tun.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gabi Hangen

email

Deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Als Nichtraucherin lehne ich Einheitspackungen und Einheitsfarbe eines legalen Produktes ab. Nach meiner Meinung werden Raucher/innen bereits genug schikaniert und das kann ich nicht befürworten.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche daher keine weiteren Veränderungen. Die EU, die ich bisher als europäischen Gedanken unterstützt habe, gebärdet sich immer mehr zu einem bürokratischen Monster. Permanet wird versucht in die Lebensgewpnhheiten von Bürgern einzugreifen und das werde ich nicht weiter unterstützen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Eddi Pauly

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Raucher sind sich der Risiken bewusst. Bilder wirken nur abstoßend. Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert. Das Schmuggelproblem verschärft sich, dadurch sind Arbeitsplätze gefährdet. Freie Marktwirtschaft wird durch diese Maßnahme ad absurdum geführt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Theres Becker

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anne Deckarm

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Raucher sind sich der Risiken bewusst. Bilder wirken nur abstoßend. Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Berens

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ellen Görg

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

L van Pul

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Doris Coune

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

de profit mia

email

belgie

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik vindt de maatregelen te verregaand

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Hartmann

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Inge Bach

email

Deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich als Raucherin lehne eine etwaige Einführung von Einheitspackungen entschieden ab. Raucher sind mündige Bürger, die selbst entscheiden können was sie an Genußmitteln zu sich nehmen und was nicht.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich lehne weitere Eingriffe der EU strikt ab.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Fuchs

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kevin Görden

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ursula Höfert

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Raucher sind sich der Risiken bewusst. Bilder wirken nur abstoßend.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mustafa Aktan

email

deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Petra Gesell

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Gesell

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Partei Bund mündiger Bürger

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Bei einer Umsetzung auf Einheitspackungen und Einheitsfarbe wird Produktfälscher die Arbeit erleichtert und der Schmuggel wird zunehmen. Die Raucher sind über eventuelle Risiken längst aufgeklärt, die es bei jedem anderen Produkt übrigens auch gibt. Wir sind mündig genug für uns selbst Entscheidungen zu treffen und befürworten keine weitere Regulierungen. Die EU sollte sich um die wirklich dringenden Probleme kümmern. Der Verdruss der Bürger gegenüber der EU wird immer größer, weil versucht wird, bis ins kleinste Detail in die Lebensgewohnheiten der Bürger einzugreifen. Diese Vorgehensweise der EU lehnt der BmB strikt ab.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Wir wünschen keine Veränderungen der Verpackungsgestaltung. Genug ist genug.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Arthur Burkart

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Petra Schmitt

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existieren keinerlei Nachweise, dass Bildhinweise sich auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher auswirken.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mustafa Aktan

email

deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche mir keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stephanie Eichberg

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Markus Rösch

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dominik Hoffmann

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sandra Bernhard

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich bin der meinung, dass einheitliche Verpackungen den Schmuggel und die Markenpiraterie begünstigen. Verdeckter Verkauf wird zum Massensterben des Einzelhandels führen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Bothe

email

Deutschland

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Der Fachhandel stirbt aus. Der Organisierten Kriminalität wird Tür und Tor geöffnet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bernd Lepiarz

email

germany

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich sehe es nicht als Aufgabe der EU, diesen Bereich zu regulieren. Eine nationale Regulierung ist sinnvoller. Eine Einheitsgestaltung der Verpackungen behindert den Wettbewerb und bedeutet einen überzogenen Eingriff in den Markt. Die Probleme mit Produktfälschungen und Schmuggel werden verstärkt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Schickhoff

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Wild

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die EU-Maßnahme würde dem Schmuggel weiter Vorschub geleistet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Reinhold Andres

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die EU-Maßnahme würde dem Schmuggel weiter Vorschub geleistet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Karin Heidemann

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die EU-Maßnahme würde dem Schmuggel weiter Vorschub geleistet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Sauer

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es gibt keinen Nachweis, dass abschreckende Bildhinweise auf den Verpackungen sinnvoll sind und das Kaufverhalten ändern.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Fertinel Kevin

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martin Stauter

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß-und Einzelhandels in Deutschland wird bedroht.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Edmund Sprau

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Sinkende Preise und weniger Steuereinnahmen durch Einpreismarketing.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

koulouris pantelis

email

greece

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
DIOGOS PARASKEVAS

email
GREECE

country
47

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
TSOMAKOS VASILIOS

email
greece

country
50

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
XRISTOS KAPOUS

email
GREECE

country
44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SOTIRIS DOLOPOULOS

email

GREECE

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

svthrhs dolopoylos

email

GREECE

country

38

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

lena pitsinou

email

greece

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

psomas dhmhtrhs

email

greece

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

prokopiou takis

email

greece

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kousouni Christina

email

greece

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

KARASTAMATIS EMMANOYIL

email

GREECE

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kousounis Paulos

email

greece

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

sakellariou kostas

email

greece

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΕΣΙΠΡΗΣ ΠΑΝΑΓΙΩΤΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

46

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

sakellariou kostas

email

greece

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

KONTOS ANASTASIOS

email

GREECE

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MANOLIS XATZIXARALAMPOUS

email

GREECE

country

48

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
SAVVAS TSIGAS

email
GREECE

country
27

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

JOHN METALLINOS

email

GREECE

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Margret Klose

email

deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

das risiko des rauchens ist mittlerweile jedem bekannt. warum neutrale verpackungen? produktfäscher und schmuggler würden sich freuen. warum dann die abschreckenden bilden? wenn ich ein auto kaufe, bekomme ich ja auch nicht zwingend bilder von unfalltoten oder schwerverletzten personen gezeigt. es reicht!

explanations

No change

additional option

bei der eu werden jedes jahr vile millionen für dolmetscher ausgegeben. warum wird denn hier nicht in die jeweilige landessprache übersetzt? warum ist diese seite so kompliziert aufgebaut? das lässt bei mir nur den schluss zu, dass eine rege teilnahme nicht gewünscht ist, damit das gewünschte ergebnis erzielt wird. armes europa

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jochen Fries

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Edy Pauly

email

Deutschland

country

48

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
asildfasdklfjaq

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Paul Nix

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Armin Pauly

email

Deutschland

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch neutrale Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern und Schmugglern die Arbeit erleichtert. Dadurch entsteht eine Verschärfung der Kriminalität einhergehend mit existenzbedrohenden Umsatzausfällen für den Groß- und Einzelhandel und massiven Steuerausfällen für die EU-Mitgliedsstaaten. Das Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens ist allgemein Vorhanden. Weitere Warnhinweise oder Bilder erhöhen dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Darüber gibt es keinen Nachweis aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits eingeführt wurden. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Markting. Sinkende Preise wären die Kosequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen usw.) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Colin Ryßen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Maroulis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Don't agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Gilbert Ryßen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ryssen, Hannah

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die

Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hubert Unkelbach

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem der Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies Bedroht die Existens des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Claudia Ryssen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ludo Tunders

email

Holland

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ehlers, Heidi

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht-die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jörg Henning

email

Deutschland

country

27

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Prodipresse ASBL

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Reisen

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Edith Henke

email

Deutschland

country

65

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

BRÜSSEL.....es reicht !!!!! Wir wehren uns gegen Verbote, die uns vernichten ! Wehret den Anfängen ! Jetzt Tabak, morgen Wein und Bier.....was kommt noch ????

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Caps

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord, la législation actuelle est déjà assez claire.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

de bruyne

email

belgium

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

pour l'emploi

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wirbel Silvia

email

Deutschland

country

53

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

- Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warenhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewußtsein nicht- die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. - Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. -Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen..) kontraproduktiv. -Es wird pauschal unterstellt, daß die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarenhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

König Pascal

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DELLI

email

GREECE

country

37

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Altenhofen Irmgard

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Benno Eichberg

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stephan Brummerstedten

email

Deutschland

country

42

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Es würde das rauchen nicht einschränken. Es sind bekannte Produkte ( seit Jahren)

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Cornelia Thamm

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Martina Schmitz

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Silek Brkic

email

Germany

country

38

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Neutrale Verpackungen fördern die Zigaretten-Piraterie. Es wird nur noch nach dem Preis entschieden und nicht nach dem Produkt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

dethier alain

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

secteur commercial tres fragile!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

pabst,ulrike

email

deutschland

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Finde es unmöglich von den Politikern so bevormundet zu werden. Es sollte jedem Bürger selbst überlassen werden ob er Raucht oder nicht. Auf die Gefahren wurde schon hinreichend hingewiesen.Das Problem des Schmuggels wird dadurch nur grösser.Ausserdem werden wieder zahlreiche Arbeitsplätze verlorengehen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Claudia Meckenhäuser

email

Germany

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Bei neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich alles nur noch auf die Preise und nicht auf das Produkt. Ferner wird dadurch die Produkt-Piraterie gefördert, anstatt einzudämmen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Silke Brkic

email

Germany

country

38

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Wenn die Verpackungen neutral sind wird alles nur noch über den Preis gesteuert, anstatt über die Produkteigenschaften. Die Vielzahl des Schmuggels wird sicherlich zunehmen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Margot Reith

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Martin Biebl

email

Deutschland

country
45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Kein Komentar

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Marius Reith

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Renate Kaiser

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Fred Reith

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Norbert krüger

email

germany

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ein allgemeines Bewußtsein der Risiken des Rauchens besteht bereits. Neutrale Packungen gibt Fälschern frei Bahn. Bilderwarnhinweise hat keine Wirkung auf das Rauchverhalten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Margit Etzkorn

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jochen Ryssen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rolf Köppl

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
Keine Angaben

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Tanja Distelrath

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Stefan Weiand

email
deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wird die Arbeit leicht gemacht

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wochner Klaus

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Guido Distelrath

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gerd Saar

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Anja Prinz

email

deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Produktfälschern wir die Arbeit erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Judith Kayenburg

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ulrich Pieper

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Theresa Kayenburg

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pascal Schumacher

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Hässig

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Wie weit soll der mündige Bürger noch bevormundet werden? Jeder ist sich der Gefahren des Rauchens bewusst. Neutrale Verpackungen erhöhen das Schmuggelrisiko und Fälschungen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Rainer Gerard

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stefan Zimmer

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alexander Henke

email

Germany

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Mit den Plänen bevormundet die EU-Kommission Handel und Verbraucher in beispielsloser Weise. Die vorgesehenen Maßnahmen vernichten zudem tausende Arbeitsplätze in Tabakfachhandel, Kiosken und Tankstellen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D.I.V.,SIA

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

• Grūti apkalpot, grūti identificēt produktu, daudz kļūdu, paildzinās apkalpošana.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Hens

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bjoern Thomas

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Julia Thomas

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jaemers Natacha

email

Belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mario Ott

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Aufklärung ist bereits umfassend

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen behindern Wettbewerb

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Axel Meinhard

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dieter Bochenek

email

Deutschland

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es ist ein unding das die Tabakwaren nicht mehr frei sichtbar verkauft werden sollen. Deas muss ja jedes produkt, welches evtl. schädlich ist, unter der Ladentheke bzw. hinter verschlossenen Türen verkauft werden. Sie sollten dann überlegen, ob Sie nicht alle Geschäfte schliessen die Waren verkaufen, welche schädlich für Menschen sind.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Es so laßen wie es heute ist

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Blasius Thomas

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Risiken des Rauchens sind hinreichend bekannt. Abstoßende Bilder zwangsweise dem mündigen Bürger aufzudrängen, ist ein unzumutbarer Eingriff in die persönliche Entscheidungsfreiheit. Neutrale Verpackungen sind sehr leicht zu fälschen, dadurch wird auch Schmuggel erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΘΕΟΦΙΛΟΣ ΚΑΝΛΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΑ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΚΩΝ/ΝΟΣ ΠΑΓΚΑΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΑ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΜΙΧΑΛΗΣ ΣΥΡΙΓΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΧΩΡΙΣ ΣΧΟΛΙΑ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Uwe Becker

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich bin ein mündiger Bürger und mir bewußt darüber, daß es immer ein Risiko gibt. Das gilt fürs rauchen, fürs trinken, fürs essen und fast alles was der Mensch den ganzen Tag über macht. Ich bin der Regulierungswut der EU überdrüssig und lehne weitere Maßnahmen ab. Die Bürger der EU sind keine Idioten oder kleine Kinder, denen man laufend irgendetwas vorschreiben muß.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Ich wünsche keine weiteren Änderung.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gabriele Grahlert

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Keine Angaben

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ursula Duch

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Keine Angaben

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hans Duch

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Keine Angaben

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Hildenbrand

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es sind keine weiteren Maßnahmen erforderlich. Die EU sollte wichtigeres zu tun haben.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Es ist bereits genug reglementiert. Weitere Maßnahmen lehne ich ab.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Markus Müller

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Das Bewusstsein über die Gefahren des Rauchens ist vorhanden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Reiner Görden

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Monika Müller

email

Germany

country

49

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Das Bewusstsein über die Gefährdung des Rauchens ist vorhanden, zusätzliche Bilder erhöhen dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Durch neutrale Verpackungen wird Fälschern die Arbeit erleichtert, das Problem des Schmuggels wird verschärft.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kai Bersch

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wolfgang Stein

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schreiner Peter

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Niemczyk Peter

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jörg Söller

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joachim Mosen

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Timo Wochner

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ryssen, Guido

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Nieth

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pierre Lemaire

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΝΑΓΙΩΤΗΣ ΓΕΩΡΓΑΤΣΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΗΜΗΤΡΑ ΨΑΡΟΠΟΥΛΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Schimanski, Diana

email

Deutschland

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich bin alt genug um zu entscheiden ob ich rauchen möchte oder nicht. Dafür brauche ich nicht die EU die mich bevormundet oder besser gesagt für mich entscheidet. Die EU sollte sich um wichtigere Sachen bzw. Themen kümmern. Die geplanten Bilder auf den Schachteln werden mich genauso wenig davon abhalten, wie die schon vorhandenen Texte wie z.B. " Rauchen verursacht Krebs". Die Risiken und Gefahren sind mir bestens bekannt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΛΕΚΟΣ ΨΑΡΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΦΕΝΙΑ ΨΑΡΟΠΟΥΛΟΥ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΘΕΟΔΩΡΟΣ ΨΑΡΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marunowski, Dieter

email

Deutschland

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich lasse mich von niemanden bevormunden ob ich rauche oder nicht. Die EU kann mich auch nicht daran hindern frei zu entscheiden. Es ist meine Gesundheit und die Risiken kenne ich, das können die Bilder auf den Schachteln auch nicht ändern. Durch eine neutrale Verpackung wird das Schmuggeln wesentlich erleichtert und die Arbeitnehmer in meiner Branche müssen noch mehr um ihren Arbeitsplatz bangen. Die EU sollte sich um wichtigere Sachen und Themen kümmern.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schimanski, Oliver

email

Deutschland

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich bin alt genug um selbst zuentscheiden was für mich gut ist und ob ich rauchen möchte. Ich brauche niemanden der versucht mich zu bevormunden. Ich lasse mir in meinem Land nicht das Recht nehmen selbst entscheiden zu dürfen. Die Bilder auf den Schachteln werden mich auch nicht beeinflussen, weil ich das Risiko kenne. Von neutralen Verpackungen halte ich gar nichts weil man den Schmugglern das Geschäft vereinfachen würde. Ausserdem möchte ich nicht durch solche Fehlentscheidungen arbeitslos werden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Fenia Stefanidou

email

Greece

country

27

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

W. van der Maas

email

Netherlands

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PELERIEAU SEBASTIEN

email

BELGIUM

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d' accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Albert Schneider

email

Deutschland

country

55

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Raucher haben keine Lobby. Wenn man korrekt ist ,dürfte es keinen Strassenverkehr geben , weil dort das Risiko eines Unfalls besteht und selbst Fussgänger dieser Gefahr ausgesetzt sind. Die Krankenkassen beschwerten sich Lungenkrebskranke zu behandeln aber nicht darüber Unfallopfer die genesung zu bezahlen. Was ist mit Alkoholkranken ? Also vergleichen Sie einmal Risiko "pasives Rauchen " und als passiver Verkehrsteilnehmer ( z.B. stehend an einer Bushaltestelle ) durch einen angetrukenen Autofahrer über- oder angefahren zu werden. In den 60er , 70er oder 80er Jahren wurde nicht soviel Wind über angebliche typische Raucherkrankheiten gemacht und der einzelne Mensch konnte über sich selbst bestimmen , im Falle "Rauchverbot" sehe ich eine bevormundung und über die "Aufmachung" einer Verpackung sich zu streiten grenzt schon an Kindergarten , sind die Raucher alle blöd und Nichtraucher die Intelligenteren ?

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Marcel Harff

email
Deutschland

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ich wünsche keine Einheitspackungen, da ich beim Kauf eines Produkts zusätzliche Informationen über Herkunft und Qualität von Produkten erkennen will. Nur über entsprechende Werbung habe ich die Möglichkeit an diese Informationen zu kommen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C.A.M. Suikerbuik

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Grittli Buschhüter

email

Deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Mit den hier vorgeschlagenen Maßnahmen werden Grundrechte eingeschränkt. Dies steht nicht im Verhältnis zu den tatsächlichen Risiken

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

herbert buschhüter

email

deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Mit den vorgeschlagenen Maßnahmen werden Grundrechte eingeschränkt. Dies steht nicht im Verhältnis zu den tatsächlichen Risiken

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bernd Niessen

email

Deutschland

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Bürger sind ausreichend aufgeklärt über Nachteile des Rauchens Warnhinweise sind heute schon gross und ausreichend vorhanden.

explanations

No change

additional option

Neutrale Verpackungen sind leichter zu fälschen und führen zum Kauf über den Preiss.
Niedriger Preiss führt bei uns zu einer niedrigeren Handelsspanne und dadurch droht bei uns Stellenabbau.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DORA MEGA

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Labros Tsoukalas

email

Greece

country

24

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Introduce generic or plain packaging

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nicola Butterwegge

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Der Bürger soll die freie Entscheidung haben, ob er rauchen möchte, was er rauchen möchte und wo er die Produkte kaufen möchte. Es liegt in der Bverantwortung der Bürger selbst, sich gesund zu halten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lehmann Elisabeth

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Neutrale Verpackungen erleichtern Produktfälschern die Arbeit, das Schmuggelproblem wird vergrößert, dadurch wird die Existenz des nur national tätigen Groß-und Einzelhandels in Deutschland bedroht.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lehmann Günter

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Risiken des Rauchens sind bereits bekannt. Neutrale Verpackungen erhöhen nur das Schmuggelproblem

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

CARMEN CESPEDES LEON

email

spain

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

any comments

explanations

Improve consumer information

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

pedro gonzalez gonzalez

email

spain

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

sin comentarios

explanations

Improve consumer information

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zehetmayer

email

Austria

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Eine Vermummung von Tabakprodukten wird das Problem des Gesundheitsgedanken nicht ändern, ebenso wenig, dass Jugendliche beginnen zu rauchen.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Tabakwarenhändler (Trafiken) sollten angehalten werden, Personen unterhalb der erlaubten Altersgrenze keine Tabakwaren auszufolgen. Vorlage eines Ausweises!

additional option

Zigarrenraucher bezeichnen sich selbsts als Genussraucher und nicht als Suchtraucher. Daher ist es für mich, obwohl ich auch Zigaretten rauche, nicht erklärbar, warum Zigarren davon auch betroffen sein sollen. Humidorräume dürfen nicht mehr einsehbar sein, die Beratung darf nicht mehr stattfinden? Gerade darum geht es einem Zigarrenraucher, der das als sein Hobby ansieht. Das Suchen nach alten oder oftmals speziellen Zigarren. Einen Eingriff in die private Hobbyvorliebe der EU Bürger empfinde ich als GRENZWERTIG! Sehen sie die Konsumation einer Zigarre vergleichbar mit dem Genuss eines Glases Wein. Darf hier auch keine Flasche mehr öffentlich ausgestellt werden? Verschwindet das Etikett? Sieht man am Etikett eine zerfressene Leber? Da ich sowohl Zigarren rauche und sammle, als auch Zigaretten rauche, verstehe ich beides nicht. Die Entfernung von Zigarettenautomaten soll was bringen? Jugendliche fernhalten? Das kann mit der Bankomatkartenmethode, welche ich als sehr gut empfinde eingedämmt werden. Da das ganze ja wohl auf die Gesundheit abzielt, und der jeweilige Staat somit weniger Geld für die Pflege aufbringen muss, frage ich mich, ob der Staat auf Milliarden an Stuergeledern verzichten kann, oder arbeitslos gewordene Trafikangestellte unterstützen kann. Die eventuell verlorenen Steuergelder holt man sich mit Gewissheit wo anders. Nämlich da, wo man die Bürger am einfachsten schröpfen kann. Bei Sachen die benötigt werden. Ich denke sie wissen, worauf ich abziele. Versuchen sie einfach mal sich in das Leben eines Normalverdieners zu versetzen und mit 1.700,-- Euro / Monat über die Runden zu kommen. Und dann reden wir nochmal über eine entspannende Zigarre, wenn das Monat um ist und man es mehr oder weniger geschafft hat, durchzukommen. Diese Zigarre hätte ich gerne legal, mit all seinen schönen Parametern in einem begehbaren Humidor gekauft. Aber ich denke mal, jeder der sich diesen Fragebogen zu Gemüte führt denk beim Ausfüllen für sich, was soll das bringen. Es wird sowieso das umgesetzt, was man sich bereits zusammengesponnen hat. Und davon bin auch ich überzeugt, denn wen interessiert schon das Bürgertum.....

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

C Hoeks

email

Netherlands

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

which improvement

What is done at this moment is enough

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Monika Preußing

email

Germany

country

35

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Monika Preußing

email

germany

country

35

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J van de Goor

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Konstantinos Papakosmas

email
Greece

country 26

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Birgit Melchisedech

email
Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ich wünsche keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung !!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Petra Wochner

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Klaus Wochner

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich bin überhaupt nicht einverstanden mit Maßnahmen wie neutrale Verpackungen, Warnhinweisen oder ähnliches. Tabakprodukte sind legale Waren und dürfen somit genauso offen ausgestellt werden wie z.B. Schokolade, Alkohol etc.... Den Jugendlichen wurden in letzten Jahren den Zugang zu Tabakwaren quasi komplett unterbunden, die Automaten sind sogar sicherer als alle anderen Verkaufsstellen. Jede weitere Regulierung des Tabakmarktes fördert den Schmuggel umso mehr. Schmuggelware ist überhaupt nicht qualitativ kontrollierbar, dort lauern immense Gefahren durch illegale Zusätze (Verschnitt).

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Reiner Vogtel

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich wünsche keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung !!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wilfried Harff

email

Germany

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Änderungen bei den Packungen würden nur noch mehr kriminelle Machenschaften und Schmuggel fördern. Die Existenz von vielen Geschäften im Einzelhandel wäre zunehmend gefährdet.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Argyrios Karapatakis

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H.Willemse

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Olsem Fernand

email

Luxembourg

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wagner W.

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

siehe Begründung BDTA

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

melanie delonge

email

deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

es wird pauschal unterstellt, daß die einföhrung von bildwarnhinweise auf das rauchverhalten der verbraucher einwirkt. dafür gibt es bisher keine nachweise aus ländern, in denen

bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

thomas kronenberg

email

deutschland

country

40

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

durch die umsetzung von neutralen verpackungen wird produktfälschern die arbeit erleichtert und das problem des schmuggels weiter verschärft. dies bedroht die existens des rein national tägigen groß-und einzelhandels in deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Joachim Henke

email

Deutschland

country

63

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.....und auch meinen Job !!!!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
O.L.P.van der Sar

email
Holland,The Netherlands

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
O.L.P.van der Sar

email

name

O.L.P.van der Sar

email

Holland,The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jochim Henke, Am Sanderhof 14 / 40789 Monheim am Rhein

email

Deutschland

country

63

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Joachim Henke, Am Sanderhof 14 / 40789 Monheim am Rhein

email

Deutschland

country

63

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft!!!! Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Esser, Lutz

email

Germany

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Der mündige Bürger weiß, das Rauchen nicht gesund, sondern Gesundheitsrisiken mit sich bringt. Es ist nicht notwendig, weitere Warnhinweise auf den Schachteln zu platzieren.

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen wird Markenstrukturen verfälschen Niedrige Preise führen zu sinkenden Handelsspannen mit fatalen Folgen: -Minderjährige finden somit leichter Zugang zu Tabakwaren -Steuerausfälle (die kann sich z.Zt. kein EU-Land leisten!!!) - Einkommensverluste für tabakumsatzabhängige Unternehmen, hinzu kommt hier die Gefahr von Stellenstreichungen im Handel sowie der Tabakindustrie!!

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gernot Giloth

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gernot Giloth

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Dinges

email

Germany

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

. ich kenne die Risiken und brauche keine weitere Aufklärung

explanations

No change

additional option

- Verpackungen lassen sich leichter fälschen - vermutlich weiterer Stellenabbau und damit Arbeitslose

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anja Neidahl

email

Deutschland

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Menschen sind glaube ich genügend aufgeklärt über risiken.

explanations

No change

additional option

Alles vereintlichen zerstört doch nur das sich die großen wieder mal durchsetzten. Neutrale Packungen macht es den fälschern nur noch leichter.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ceuppens Ellen

email

Belgium

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Schroeder

email

Germany

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Introduce generic or plain packaging

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N Aanraad

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Voegtle

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Wir Raucher wünschen keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung!

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jarosch Ulrike

email

deutschland

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht, die bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstobend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Johannes Klose

email

Deutschland

country

57

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Volker Hartinger

email

Germany

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

weil ich ein mündiger Bürger bin, und für mich selbst entscheiden will!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ann Vanhees

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Klöters

email

deutschland

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Das bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Lanzendorfer

email

Germany

country

42

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Bei Einführung von weißen neutralen Packungen wird dem Schmuggel Tür und Tor geöffnet. Der Wettbewerb auf dem Zigarettenmarkt wird verschärft, da keine Werbeaussagen mehr getroffen werden können - dies kostet viele Arbeitsplätze in der Industrie und im Handel ! Die Zigaretten werden dann durch den Preiskampf billiger - was wiederum kontraproduktiv gegenüber dem Gesundheitsschutz und den Tabaksteuereinnahmen ist ! Bilder auf den Warnhinweisen bringen überhaupt nichts - genauso wie die Warnhinweise selbst nicht (mehr) gelesen werden.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
christoph ziegler

email
deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewußtsein nicht- die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht ( Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildnachweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Christoph Jung

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Risiken des Rauchens sind allgemein bekannt, das ändert sich auch nicht mit Bilden, neutrale Packungen erleichtern Schmuggel und Fälschungen aus aller Welt den Zugang zum europäischen Markt und zertstört Arbeitsplätze in Industrie, HGroß, -und Einzelhandel, zudem wird die Werbung oder die Marketingstrategie alleine der Preis sein, d.h. sinkende Preise, was ja auch nicht konstruktiv wäre. Nachweise darüber, dass solche Maßnahmen funktionieren gibt es auch keine.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Laqndthaler

email

germany

country

45

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

in my opinion every is old enough to decide if he want to smoke, if you can go to election with 18 years you are old enough to decide what sport you make, if you smoke or not

explanations

No change

which improvement

i think what i see is enough

additional option

please don't exaggerate to much with prohibition

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Heiko Kluy

email

Germany

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schrauder Michael

email

Germany

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewußtsein der Risiken des Rauchens.

Wilderwarnhinweise erhöhen das Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder wirken lediglich abstoßend ohne zusätzliche Informationen zu bieten.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Wir Raucher wünschen keine Änderung der Verpackungsgestaltung.

additional option

Es ist bereits genug reguliert.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

angelika schumann

email

deutschland

country

53

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Bilder auf den Warnhinweisen wird beeinflusst das Verhalten der Raucher nicht. Durch die Einführung neutraler Verpackungen wird das Fälschen der Produkte sehr erleichtert.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

barras

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d ' accord ! J ' ai des raisons personnelles tout à fait valables : le 12 septembre 2010 ma nièce et son ami ont été fauchés par une voiture qui roulait beaucoup trop vite et donc le chauffeur avait bu plus que de raison , alors vous pensez bien que je préfère voir une personne fumer plutot qu ' une personne qui boit !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mark Rebmann

email

Deutschland

country

26

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Wenn es neutrale Packungen geben sollte, dann hätten Schmuggler bzw. Fälscher es sehr viel leichter. So wäre es noch viel leichter Müll im Tabak zu verstecken, wie es in der Zigarette Jin Ling schon ist. Dort wurde doch auch schon mehr gefunden, als nur Tabak. Sollten die neutralen Packungen auf den Markt kommen, wird sich der Wettbewerb auf den Preis konzentrieren. Es werden Preisschlachten anfangen. Dies würde sich negativ auf die Steuereinnahmen und auf den Gesundheitsschutz auswirken. Bildwarnhinweise sind auch sinnlos auf Zigarettenschachteln, da das allgemeine Bewusstsein der Risiken dank unserer Regierungen schon mehr als ausgeprägt ist. Außerdem was sollen die Bilder bringen, wenn nicht die nötigen Informationen dazu ausliegen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lothar Schmalen

email

Deutschland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

. auch die Warnhinweise ( Trauerflore ) verunstalten nur die Packung, eine abschreckende Wirkung haben sie nicht; . jeder Raucher kennt das Risiko; . Produktfälscher haben freie Bahn;

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Heiner Beeck

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Daniel Kegreiß

email

Germany

country

28

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΝΑΓΙΩΤΗΣ ΒΓΕΝΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΝΑΓΙΩΤΗΣ ΒΓΕΝΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

EΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

juan manuel galindo hernandez

email

benalua, Granada. España

country

41

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Buldakovsky Andrey

email

Germany

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Verbraucher sind genug über Gesundheitsrisiken aufgeklärt

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen zerstören markenstrukturen. fallende Preise führen zu sinkenden Handelsspannen Neutrale Verpackungen lassen sich leichter fälschen

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Fuentes, Soraya

email

Deutschland

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich bin Alt genug um selbst zuentscheiden was für mich gut ist und ob ich rauchen will. Dafür brauche ich niemanden der mich bevormundet bzw für mich irgendwas entscheidet. In was für ein Land leben wir wo wir bzw uns unsere Freiheit nehmen will. Die Bilder auf den Schachteln beeinflussen mich nicht, da ich die Risiken und die Gefahr bereits kenne und es ist meine Gesundheit. Durch eine neutrale Verpackung wird das Schmuggeln angeregt und wesentlich erleichtert. Dazu kommt das ich nicht zu den Arbeitslosen zählen will.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ALeksandra Kreft

email

Poland

country

25

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchers. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den warnhinweisen erhöht dieses bewusstsein nicht... Die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzlich information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Holger Schmitt

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Warum kann man nicht alles so lassen wie es ist? Seit es die EU gibt fällt irgend jemanden ständig irgendwelche neuen Ding ein, die vereinheitlicht werden sollten!!!! Jeder Mensch sollte das gleiche Recht haben so zu leben wie er möchte, und nicht so leben zu müssen wie andere es wollen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

KUL OZGUR

email

Belgium

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord, c'est inutile

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Holger Schmitt

email

Deutschland

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Bilder auf den Packungen erhöhen dieses Bewusstsein nicht. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Packungen wird Produktfälschung vereinfacht und das Problem des Schmuggels noch veranschärft, dadurch entsteht eine Existenzielle Bedrohung des Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Ich möchte weiterhin im Berufsleben tätig sein und nicht bis zu meinem Renteneintritt als Langzeitarbeitsloser geführt werden, denn die Perspektive einer Arbeitslosigkeit mit über 55 ist trostlos, die Chancen auf einen Arbeitsplatz sind gleich Null.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Schulze,Thomas

email

Deutschland

country

40

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Der Konsument von Tabakwaren ist ausreichend über Gefahren für seine Gesundheit informiert. Fraglich ist ob noch mehr Warnhinweise die Wahrnehmung der Gefahren steigert oder eher kontraproduktiv ist.

explanations

No change

additional option

Durch gleiche Verpackungen kommt es zu einem Kauf, der nur noch Preisgesteuert ist. Wenn die Preise für die Tabakwaren fallen, führt die zu einer Margenverschlechterung bei vielen Unternehmen, die vom Tabakwarenumsatz leben. Dadurch besteht die große Gefahr von Entlassungen in diesem Bereich. Wenn die Tabakwaren Verkaufspreise fallen, so erleichtert dies wiederum den Zugang von Jugendlichen an Tabakwaren, da diese nicht über viel Geld verfügen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Katja Oldenburg

email

Germany

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

--

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Zlatko Zlatkov

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Verbraucher sind bereits über ihr Gesundheit aufgeklärt.

explanations

No change

additional option

Neutrale Verpackungen lassen sich leiter fälschen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

prinz penis

email

germany

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ghdiaoghaeioogheariogheigherigheiphpzh giguhfuipegheup9

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Manfred Tieseler

email

Deutschland

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

-eine Aufklärung über bestehende Gesundheitsrisiken ist durch bestehende Maßnahmen hinreichend gegeben -der Verbraucher ist mündig und kann selber den Kauf entscheiden - weitere Maßnahmen würden den Kauf nicht beeinflussen

explanations

Introduce generic or plain packaging

additional option

-eine Einheitsverpackung würde nur zu einem Kauf nach Preis und nicht nach Marke/Inhaltsstoffe erfolgen -der Schwarzmarkt hätte durch Neutrale Verpackungen leichtes Spiel -eine Stellenstreichung auf Grund von absatzrückgängen bei tabackumsatzabhängige Unternehmen würde die Folge sein -bei niedrigen Preisen würde der Zugang für Jugendliche bedeutend leichter sein und somit das bestehende Jugendschutzgesetz unterlaufen

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Schwarzer Lydia

email

Germany

country

49

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht - die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Obermann Robert

email

Austria

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

Der Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie sollte durchaus die angegebenen Produkte beinhalten. Ohne zuvorige wissenschaftliche Überprüfung der Produkte in Hinsicht auf ihre Schädlichkeit für den menschlichen Körper sollte jedoch kein Verbot ausgesprochen werden.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Obermann Robert

email

Austria

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

Der Geltungsbereich der Richtlinie sollte durchaus die angegebenen Produkte beinhalten. Ohne zuvorige wissenschaftliche Überprüfung der Produkte in Hinsicht auf ihre Schädlichkeit für den menschlichen Körper sollte jedoch kein Verbot ausgesprochen werden.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

station du grand cerf wavreille

email

belgique

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d accord . Gerante d'une station service ce produit doit etre visible je pense que de toute maniere ca ne changera en rien la consommation du client que les cigarettes ne soient pas visible est ce que vous cacheriez l'alcool dans un café..???? c est la meme chose dans un shop le client s y rend en sachant pourquoi il y va !!!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DIMITRIS MARKOUTSAS

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

samoukatsidis panagiwtis

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

alexandra tzamourani

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

evelina patsoura

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

liapis nikolaos

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CHALIKIOTI CONSTANTINA

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ATHANASIOS PANAGIOTAKOPOULOS

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Engels

email

germany

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Die bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marco Müller

email

Germany

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Every human being has the right to make his own decision. i like to choose by my own, if i smoke or if i don't smoke. Tabacco are goods like many others. Seriously consumed is there nothing different to alcohol or pharmacy. I would like to choose my brand by different covers. Smoking is so bad as it is told the last 5-10 Years. Now it is too much what happens! No one can ban smoking, no matter hoe the covers look like!

explanations

No change

additional option

Stop parental advisory by a few Organisations over the rest of the Mankind!!!!

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

elli giannimara

email
greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
evelina patsoura

email
Greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no coments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
KATIA

email
GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

elli giannimara

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΠΑΝΑΓΙΩΤΗΣ ΜΑΥΡΟΕΙΔΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

οχι

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Edwin Verdouw

email

Netherlands

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i disagree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FRANCISCO JAVIER REDONDO GRANDE

email

BILBAO(ESPAÑA)

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

lieselotte monsecour

email

belgium

country

25

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

aitor urrutia pagola

email

spain

country

37

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
Improve consumer information

which option
Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Maljaars

email
NL

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree with the problem difinition because it is disrespectfull to users

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
bo bania

email
belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

What will be the next step ? If plain packaging has to be put on all products which can damage your health as there are beer, wine , gambling and many others, the word would look very grey after a while.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

karl willekens

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Andwhat will be next? Plain packaging on wine , beer, medication etc.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

krystyna bania

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

how bigger the photos , the more cynic smokers will be

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

P van den Boom

email

The Netherlands

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ik geloof niet dat dit een positief effect zal hebben

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

m.sluiters

email

Holland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Elke Pitzner

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΟΛΓΑ ΚΑΚΛΑΜΑΝΗ

email

EΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Janina Pitzner

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Norman Gottlieb

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

KOYΛA XAPOY

email

EΛΛAΔA

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ANTΩNHΣ MAPAΣOΓΛOY

email

EΛΛAΔA

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΗΛΙΑΣ ΜΟΥΓΚΙΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΓΙΩΡΓΟΣ ΧΑΤΖΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Fastner, Siegfried

email
Deutschland

country
50

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Es gibt bereits auf jeder Zigarettenschachtel Verbraucherhinweise über die Gesundheitsrisiken. Somit ist der Konsument aufgeklärt. Weitere Hinweise halten den Konsumenten nicht vom Kauf ab.

explanations
No change

additional option
Neutrale Verpackungen verunsichern den Verkäufer! Neutrale Verpackungen führen zu Verwechslungen. Diese Schachteln können auch besser gefälscht werden. Einheitsverpackungen schaden dem Wettbewerb und führen zu einer reinen Preisorientierung.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Κόρδας Κώστας

email

Ελλάδα

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Μαράσογλου Παναγιώτα

email

Ελλάδα

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

κανένα σχόλιο

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

bozena bania

email
belgium

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not think that it would be better to mention that the chemists have a larger range of stop - smoking products than the number of different smoke products in the average tobacco shop.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Asimakopoulos Alexandros

email
greece

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations
No change

which improvement
no comment

additional option
no comment

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Knop

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

lily's krantenboetiek

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Keustermans Tony

email

België

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Doreen Heimbach

email

Deutschland

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

jeder Verbraucher ( Raucher) ist bereits über alle Gesundheitsrisiken aufgeklärt, und das nicht erst in den letzten 3 Jahren.

explanations

No change

additional option

Diese Einheitsverpackungen führen nur zu reinen Preisorientierten käufen. Für tabkumsatzabhängige Unternehmen führt das zum Entzug der Einkommensbasis, somit müssten wieder Stellen gestrichen werden. Wenn die Verpackungen neutral werden sollen haben es die Fälscher noch leichter diese nach zu machen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Bieräugel

email

Deutschland

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Verbraucher sind mittlerweile hinreichen über die gesundheitliche Gefährdung des Rauchens informiert. Entsprechende Warnhinweise bringen nicht den gewünschten Erfolg, lediglich der Preis ist entscheidend.

explanations

No change

additional option

Folge der Einheitsverpackung sind eine reine Preisorientierung, was zum Verfall der ohnehin schon niedrigen Margen führt.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIA "DARINA KS"

email
Latvia

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Smēķēs tā pat, bet vairāk brendētos kontrabandas izstrādājumus. Būs nepieciešams papildus apmācīt personālu.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Yvonne Kunkel

email
Deutschland

country
29

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
- jeder weiß, dass Rauchen nicht gut für die Gesundheit ist, aber sollte für sich selbst entscheiden, ob er Zigaretten kauft oder nicht. Bilder oder Hinweise sind überflüssig! Jeder weiß auch, dass Schokolade dick macht, auch wenn es nicht auf der Verpackung drauf steht. Trotzdem dürfen dicke Leute Schokolade kaufen, obwohl jeder Arzt davon abraten wird!!!

explanations
No change

additional option
- schlimme Folgen für den Einzelhandel und noch schlimmer für kleine Tabakläden -> sinkende Margen, da Tendenz zu Preisorientierung statt Markenorientierung -> Schließung des Geschäfts oder zumindest Personalabbau

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephen Harrison

email

UK

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIA MINILATS

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Smēķēs tāpat, paciņas izskats neietekmēs.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Friebel

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Alle Raucher sind sich über die Risiken ihres Handelns im klaren. Wir sind keine kleinen Kinder, die sich nun auch noch von Ihrer Institution Vorschriften machen lassen müssen. Wer stopft die finanziellen Löcher, die die Raucher hinterlassen?

explanations

No change

additional option

Sinkende Preise sind gleichbedeutend mit niedriger Marge. Einheitliche Packungen sind leichter zu fälschen. Ich verkaufe sehr viel Tabakprodukte und wäre somit wirtschaftlich betroffen. Wie wollen sie mich entschädigen/subventionieren? Sinkende Preise würden jugendlichen den Einstieg erneut erleichtern. Mitarbeiter müssten um Ihren Arbeitsplatz fürchten (Industrie und Einzelhandel).

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

markus wiegers

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Kein komentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wiegers markus

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kein Komentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SELLEKS SIA

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Smekejoso skaits nesamazināsies, pieaugš kontrabandas cigaresu smeketaju skaits.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

schulz

email

D

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

sIA PRIMO FOOD

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Grūti apkalpot, grūti identificēt produktu, daudz kļūdu, paildzinās apkalpošana.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ALITA PLUSS SIA

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Cilveki nesmekes mazak, vienkarsi pirks cigaretes pie kontrabandistiem.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

caroline cartrysse

email

belgum

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Remco Witteveen

email

Netherlands

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Not agree

explanations

No change

which improvement

Not agree

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Corinne rossig

email

Deutschland

country

37

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

- genügende Aufklärung auf der Verpackung

explanations

No change

additional option

- Markenauftritt ist wichtig für den Konsumenten

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Glenn van Dijk

email

the Netherlands

country

24

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mereaux Olivier

email

Belgium

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Je ne suis pas du tout d'accord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΦΛΩΡΟΥ ΑΙΚΑΤΕΡΙΝΗ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

patrick van cauteren

email

nederland

country

42

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Patrick van Cauteren

email

nederland

country

42

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patrick van Cauteren

email

nederland

country

42

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pappas Kostas

email
Greece

country
31

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
No comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ΣΩΤΗΡΗΣ ΒΑΣΙΛΕΙΟΥ

email
ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country
31

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marbacher

email

Austria

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

GIANNIS PAPAGIANNIS

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don't see any problem

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mestdagh Willy

email

Belgie

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

sigaretten zwarte markt zal bloeien zoals nooit tevoren zoals nu al in Ierland( 4 op de 10)

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ralf otto

email

germany

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Risiken sind bekannt, Raucher sind informiert

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen lassen sich leicht fälschen Viele Arbeitslose in der Tabakindustrie( Vertreter, kleine Tabakgeschäfte)

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

david willekens

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Does plain packaging means that we are allowed to think only in black and white?

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jansen

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord met deze vergaande betutteling.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Reineking

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

willekens karl

email

belgium

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Texts and pictures are more than big and clear enough. Only white packs is in my opinion a restriction of the artistic freedom

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

GKOVENIS MELETIOS

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

tim lenaert

email

belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord, er gaat niet minder gerookt worden, het ontrudent effect ligt niet in de kleur van het pakje.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T.Freijser

email

Nederland

country

55

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Karim Awada

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

es gibt keine Untersuchungen die belgen, dass zusätzliche Warnhinweise die Wahrnehmungen des Verbrauchers steigern werden. zudem werden Verbraucher ausreichend auf Gesundheitsrisiken hingewisen.

explanations

No change

additional option

einheitsverpackungen werden dazu führen, dass sie Konsumenten ausschliesslich an Preisen orientieren. dies hat zur Folge, dass Tabakumsatzabhängige Geschäfte an Marge verlieren werden und somit Arbeitsplätze auf dem Spiel stehen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Puttins

email

Deutschland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kein Kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ROLF BRUNEEL

email
belgium

country
42

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I DO NOT AGREE

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jens Paßler

email
Germany

country
46

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Raucher sind bereits hinreichend über Gesundheitsrisiken und Folgen aufgeklärt Es gibt keine Hinweise darauf,dass weitere Warnhinweise deren Wahrnehmung steigern würde

explanations
No change

additional option

- Einheitsverpackungen zerstören die Marken und führen zu einer Low Price Strategie, die bei Discountern schon gängig ist - Die Einfuhr aus benachbarten Ländern (Tschechien, Polen..) wird noch mehr steigen und zum Einbruch des Handels in Deutschland führen - Low Preise führen zu sinkenden Handelsspannen. Die Folgen wären 1. Entzug der Einkommensbasis für viele tabakumsatzabhängige Unternehmen, dadurch die Gefahr des erhöhten Stellenabbaus 2. Leichter Zugang für Jugendliche durch niedrigere Preise - Neutrale Verpackungen lassen sich leichter fälschen, welches das größte Problem darstellt

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Piet Huijben

email

netherlands

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sven Wicheler

email

Belgie

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gerd Sturm

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

jedem ist bekannt welche Risiken das Rauchen birgt.

explanations

No change

additional option

- Stellenabbau - neutrale Packungen sind einfach zu fälschen

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kings SIA Nica

email

Latvia

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Iegulditie lidzekli neattaisnojas. Velamais rezultats ir stipri apsaubams.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rob Jacobs

email

Netherland

country

41

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Saamer

email

Deutsch

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Wenn Tabakverkauf so minimiert werden soll werden sich schlimmere Suchtkanäle auftun und Zusatzmittel auf den Markt kommen die den Tabak geschmackvoll machen.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

c. van vossen

email

Nederland

country

52

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Uwe Becker

email
Germany

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Es ist schon genug reguliert

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
TSAKNIAS DIMITRIS

email
GREECE

country
38

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Eleftheria Korfiati

email
Greece

country 36

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
”

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Stathis Fasolis

email
Greece

country
34

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
DIMIRIS TSAKNIAS

email
GRECE

country
38

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Manos Papagiannis

email

Greece

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no coment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vakis Dovas

email

Hellas

country

28

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
VAKIS DOVAS

email
Hellas

country 28

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Astrid Block

email

Germany

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

-Jugendliche werden zum Rauchen animiert, da der Preis niedriger wird. -Mehr Arbeitslose, da die Spanne incl. Gewinn nicht mehr so hoch ist und der Handel schließen muß

explanations

Improve consumer information

which improvement

-Aufklärung der Gesundheitsrisiken sind ausreichend -durch Verbot entstehen weniger Steuereinnahmen und das Konsumverhalten ändert sich nicht

additional option

-es sind Legale Produkte, die Anzahl der Raucher wird sich dadurch nicht verringern -wenn Tabakprodukte am Verkaufsort nicht sichtbar sind, wird illegaler Handel mit Zigaretten vereinfacht und vermehrt auftreten -weniger Vielfalt = weniger Wettbewerb = genuß von mehr Gesundheitsschädigenderen Produkten -

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

tsirelis thanos

email

greece

country

32

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
THANASSIS KOUTOUPES

email
GREECE

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Frank Pitzner

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

There already exists a general consciousness of the risk of the smoking. Adding of pictures on the warning tips does not raise this consciousness - the pictures work to offer merely predominantly repellent without additional information. The work is made easier to produkt forgers by the conversion of neutral packaging and the problem of the Schmuggels is further aggravated. This threatens the existence of the purely nationwide active wholesale and retail trade in Germany. About the introduction of neutral packaging the competition concentrates increasingly upon the prize marketing. Sinking prices would be the consequence. This is every regard (protection of children and young people and health protection, inland revenue...) contraproductively. It is subordinated inclusively that the introduction of picture warning tips to the smoke behaviour of the consumers has an effect. Up to now for it there are no proofs from the countries in which picture warning tips were already introduced obliging.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sandra Thun

email

germany

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Each person should know if he wants to smoke or not

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Achim Buschhueter

email

Deutschland

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es ist nicht erwiesen, dass größere / andere Warnhinweise etwas mit dem Konsum zu tun haben.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

T.P.Latvija

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ieviešot vienotu krāsu sistēmu cigarešu paciņām palielināsies kļūdu iespējas inventūrās, radīsies papildus slodze bārmeņiem, lai izskaidrotu pircējiem pieejamo tabakas izstrādājumu sortimentu

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

MASSELUS

email

BELGIUM

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Erwin Attar

email

Austria

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Morfi Galo

email

Greece

country

28

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

it's not the right and radical solution

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

lacroix

email

belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martin, Kerstin

email

Deutschland

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

die Konsumenten werden durch die bereits vorhandenen Warnhinweise ausreichend auf das Gesundheitsrisiko aufmerksam gemacht

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Verena Horstkötter

email

Deutschland

country

37

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

In den letzten Jahren gab es massive Preiserhöhungen, Warnhinweise auf Zigarettenschachteln. Selbst diese Maßnahmen haben zu keinen Rückgängen geführt. Das Problem liegt eher in den Familien selbst. Wie soll ein Kind Zigaretten als gefährlich wahrnehmen wenn Vater und Mutter ebenfalls rauchen? Zumal viele Eltern den Tabakkonsum ihrer Kinder akzeptieren und tolerieren? Diese neuen Maßnahmen bedeuten nur Kosten für die Industrie sonst ändern sie meines Erachtens garnichts. Zumal bei wirklichen Rückgängen unserem Staat so einiges an Steuergeldern fehlen würde. Was folgt dann, eine neue Steuer die ebenfalls den Verbraucher belasten?

explanations

No change

additional option

Biersorten gibt es auch nicht in Einheitsverpackungen die Inhaltsstoffe bei Mix-Getränken sind auch nicht immer gleich. Marken gehören seit je her zu unser Gesellschaft, sei es bei Kleidung, Nahrung oder Genussmitteln. Wir laufen ja auch nicht in Einheitskleidung durch die Straßen. Zigaretten in Einheitsoptik lassen sich noch leichter fälschen und was man dann mit welchen Inhaltsstoffen raucht, lässt sich garnicht mehr erkennen. Bei wirklichen Rückgängen entstehen Steuerverluste und Stellenstreichungen der Industrie die wiederum die Zahl der Arbeitslosen ansteigen lässt. Von den Einbußen des mittelständischen Einzelhändlers möchte ich hier garnicht sprechen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Steuer

email

Deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die bisherige Lösung reicht vollauf. Der Bürger ist mündig.

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen führen uns zum Kommunismus zurück und führen zu Fälschungen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dominante AO Sia

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Smēķētājs iegādāsies kontrabandas cigaretes, nevis legālās, vienkrāsainās paciņas.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bruno Mancini

email

Greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

KORDALIS PANTELIS

email

GREECE

country

1982

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Aristidis Christoforos

email

Hellas

country

1971

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

THOMAS STAVROU

email

GREECE

country

1983

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mahendra Jadeja

email

UK

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I believe the problem definition and the proposals are very biased and do not effectively address the issues. Hence, please see below for more information on my thoughts.

explanations

No change

which improvement

I believe the EU Commission and the UK Government should look at measures such as Education Programs for consumers and retailers. The point of sale is an effective means of communication for those that want to quit smoking, but more importantly, as a check point to ensure that young people can't buy the product. Therefore, I believe this is the most effective way to address consumer information. Not larger health warning labels or generic packaging.

additional option

I believe the EU Commission and the UK Government need to look at Better Regulatory and non-regulatory measures to address smoking, especially smoking by young people. I don't see any information available that says that people will quit smoking as a result of the EU Commission proposal. Therefore, I think they should not be looking at these types of laws and instead focus on what will actually have some impact, Education and also ensuring young people cannot buy the product in the first place. In addition, I think we need to be very careful about the potential increase in the sale of illegal cigarettes. This is already a big problem in my area and across the UK and I think measures like Generic packaging not only won't work, but will make the job of those who produce and sell illegal cigarettes even easier. This will not be helpful for anyone and brings with it many other issues. I hope the EU Commission does not go ahead with this proposal.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

KOKONAS GEORGE

email

GREECE

country

1977

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nikolakopoulos Peter

email

Greece

country

1984

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No Comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

kyriakopoulos john

email

GREECE

country

1986

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

panagiotis tsamis

email

ελλαδα

country

1980

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

stvroura tsoka

email

greece

country

28

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

which improvement

no comment

additional option

no comment

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

HARIS SIDERIS

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

tsoka stavroula

email

greece

country

28

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

which improvement

no comment

additional option

no comment

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

FIVOS KONSTANTINOU

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENT

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ALIKI DOUGERI

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Matthias Herbert Drossel

email

Germany

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Die Menschen sind über alle Medien und Packungsaufschriften bereits ausreichend über Gesundheitsrisiken informiert. Ob weitere Hinweise auf den Verpackungen zusätzlichen Nutzen bringen ist fraglich.

explanations

No change

additional option

Neutrale Einheitsverpackungen können leichter gefälscht werden. Neutrale Einheitsverpackungen führen dazu, dass Verbraucher preisgünstigere Tabakwaren kaufen. Die Gewinnspannen für den Handel sinken. Durch verringerte Einnahmen der Arbeitgeber kann es zu Stellenstreichungen kommen. Zunahme der Arbeitslosigkeit. Günstigere Verkaufspreise erleichtern besonders jungen Menschen den Zugang zu Tabakwaren.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D.Gimbel

email

Germany

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jeder mündige und erwachsene Mensch sollte selbst entscheiden dürfen, ob und was er rauchen möchte. Zusatzstoffe sind meines Erachtens Geschmacksverstärker und ermöglichen dem Konsumenten die Wahl zwischen den Angeboten. Sollte dies im Zigarettenbereich verboten werden, sollte man doch im Hinblick auf die vielen herzinfarktgefährdeten Übergewichtigen Bürger auch die Geschmacksverstärker in Lebensmitteln überdenken. Wo bitte schön fängt man dort an und wo hört man auf. Erwachsene Menschen so "schützen" zu wollen grenzt doch eher an Vorschriften aus falscher Seite.

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen zerstören Markenstrukturen und führen zu einer reinen Preisorientierung. Fallende Preise führen zu sinkenden Handelsspannen. Folgen: a) Entzug der Einkommensbasis für viele tabakumsatzabhängige Unternehmen, dadurch Gefahr erhöhter Stellenstreichungen; b) leichter Zugang für Jugendliche durch niedrigere Preise. Neutrale Verpackungen lassen sich leichter fälschen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIGNUM.LV SIA

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Palielināsies klienta apkalpošanas laiks. Pagrides rupnicam bus vieglak noviltot legalo produktu.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Aumer Josef

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

"kein Kommentar"

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Theodoros Pontikakis

email
greece

country 28

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Detlef Kern

email
Deutschland

country
57

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
- Verbraucher sind bereits hinreichend über Gesundheitsrisiken aufgeklärt - Keine Hinweise, dass weitergehende Warnhinweise deren Wahrnehmung steigert

explanations
No change

additional option

- Einheitsverpackungen zerstören Markenstrukturen und führen zu einer reinen Preiorientierung - Fallende Preise führen zu sinkenden Handelsspannen. Folgen: a) Entzug der Einkommensbasis für viele tabakumsatzabhängige Unternehmen, dadurch Gefahr höherer Stellenstreichungen; b) leichter Zugang für Jugendliche durch niedrige Preise - Neutrale Verpackungen lassen sich leichter fälschen

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Patrick Reynders

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

relation is solid proven

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

dimnieuwland

email

nederland

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i ga niet accoord met het verscherpen van de tabaksreclame.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

dimnieuwland

email

nederland

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet accord met het verscherpen van de tabaksreclame.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ines Nina Baldauf

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Einhaltung des Jugendschutzes ist richtig, Erwachsene kennen die Risiken zu Genüge!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

LEJAS - ROZES SIA

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

• Grūti apkalpot, grūti identificēt produktu, daudz kļūdu, paildzinās apkalpošana.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PAPADOMICHELAKIS KOSTAS

email

GREECE

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No,as it would allow the consumer to choose his brand as it is always has been

explanations

Introduce generic or plain packaging

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Van Birgelen Hilda

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Manshoven Nathalie

email
Belgium

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
DE MUNCK DANNY

email
Belgium

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Omer Duman

email

Nederland

country

50

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thijs Smit

email

Netherlands

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
C.DE BOER

email
NEDERLAND

country
51

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I DO NOT AGREE

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Cor Kaandorp

email
nederland

country
53

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

p van vliet

email

nederland

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Suykerbuyk

email

Nederland

country

34

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Dick Vermeulen

email
Netherland

country
44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

garwig

email

belgique

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

claudia wingerath

email

deutschland

country

50

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

additional option

Verbraucher sind genug informiert - weitere Informationen würden eher fördern - Bevormundung ist negativ

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Maaïke van den Brandhof

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

daan bolier

email

nederland

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Daan Bolier

email
nederland

country
46

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
"I do not agree "

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mary Carmen van Moerkerken

email
Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

François Keil

email

Belgique

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

The extension will enter in conflict with other legislation and may cause confusion.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Martin Meindl

email

Deutschland

country

27

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die bisherigen Gesetze reichen! Ich sehe keinen Bedarf an weiteren Einschränkungen. Die Jugendschutzbestimmungen sind in Deutschland bereits umgesetzt. Die Gesundheitsgefahren des Rauchens sind jedem bekannt. Zudem wird für Tabakprodukte auch nicht mehr im Kino, TV, Internet etc. geworben, so dass der Tabakmarkt sich grundsätzlich bei den bisherigen Rauchern abspielt und keine neue Zielgruppe erreicht. Es ist festzustellen, dass der Anteil der Raucher seit Jahren abnimmt. Die Vorschläge auf Produkten abschreckende Bilder abzdrukken finde ich abstoßend und für einen freien Markt der Europa sein will nicht vereinbar. Die Idee mit neutralen Verpackungen befinde ich auch als Frechheit. Ich wünsche keine Einschränkung und will weiter ein freier Bürger in der EU sein.

explanations

No change

additional option

Es ist erschreckend wie weit diese Vorschläge gehen würden und das auf diesem Niveau abgestimmt werden muss! Es wird keine Europaweite Volksentscheidung durchgeführt-oder an die Folgen der Wirtschaft gedacht. Ich sehe dass bewußt versucht wird den Bürger zu entmündigen in fern er wie was wann kaufen darf! So weit soll es nicht kommen. Die USA sollen uns kein Beispiel sein, da dort der Bürger in seinen Rechten nichts zählt. Ich wage auch zu behaupten, dass sich die EU noch unbeliebter bei den Bürgern machen wird. Ich würde solche Tabakprodukte nicht kaufen und würde sicherlich nur noch Genußprodukte außerhalb der EU kaufen.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cengiz Yagci

email

Germany

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es gibt bereits ausreichende Hinweise für Gesundheitsrisiken an Verbraucher. Zusätzliche Hinweise würden nicht an bedeutung verändern

explanations

No change

additional option

Verbraucher wollen wissen was sie kaufen, und jeder sollte selbst entscheiden wir sind doch keine Kinder die bevormundet werden sollten.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pocher, André

email

BRD

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Das ist absoluter Schwachsinn

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M. Verschelden

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Philippe Bouckaert

email

Belgium

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Er worden al veel te veel regels opgelegd.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

wim sleeckx

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Georg jansen

email

Deutschland

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Die Wahrnehmung der Warnhinweise wird dadurch nicht gesteigert.

explanations

No change

additional option

Der illegale Tabakhandel wird dadurch nur verstärkt.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Georg Jansen

email

Germany

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

This is not the right way.

explanations

Introduce generic or plain packaging

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Susanne Kühn

email

Deutschland

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

- Es gibt bereits genug Aufklärung bezüglich Gesundheitsrisiken - weitere Warnhinweise bringen keinen Erfolg (werden nicht wahrgenommen)

explanations

No change

additional option

- Neutrale Verpackungen lassen sich leichter fälschen - Markenstrukturen werden zerstört und führen dazu dass sich die Kunden nur noch preislich orientieren. Die Handelsspannen werden sich reduzieren. Dies hat zur Folge dass für viele tabakumsatzabhängigen Unternehmen sich die Einkommensbasis stark verringert und es hier zu Stellenstreichungen kommt. Durch niedrige Preise ist für Jugendliche der Zugang auch erleichtert

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Giuseppe Plano

email

Germany

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es sollte jedem Erwachsenen möglich sein, selbst zu bestimmen ob er rauchen möchte. Einen Eingriff aus der Politik sehe ich eher kritisch, da hieraus der Schwarzmarkt zunehmen wird. Damit ergibt sich auch massive fiskale Nachteile, die man dann nur noch sehr schwer im Griff bekommt

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory

which improvement

Bessere Aufklärung in der Schule

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jernej Urankar

email

Germany

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jeder weiß alles über Gesundheitsrisiken. Es werden die aktuellen Hinweise schon gut erkannt.

explanations

No change

additional option

Nur die Preise werden den Markt noch bestimmen. Handelsspannen werden sinken und die führt zu weiteren Entlassungen. Es wird durch die Leichtigkeit zur Fälschung, sehr viele gefälschte Zigaretten geben.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Laurent Crivello

email

Belgium

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I don't agree because of multiple factors

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

TSIANAKA ELENI

email

GREECE

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SIA ANVISA

email

Latvija

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Vienota vai vienkraisaina iepakojuma ieviesana - nepiekritu. Tas prasa vairak laika klientu apkalposana, radisies kludas pasniedzot produktu. Bus neapmierinatiba no klientu puses.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ronald hübner

email

germany

country

47

age
male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ausreichende Hinweise auf Gesundheitsgefährdung ist schon vorhanden

explanations

No change

additional option

...bringen die gesamte Markenstruktur durcheinander und bringt keinen Vorteil für den Verbraucher.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Margreet de Jong

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Erwin Jansen

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D. Korsuize

email

Netherlands

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

sprehe,michael

email

Germany

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ich glaube nicht das weitere Warnhinweise überhaupt noch beachtet werden wieviel Vorschriften will man einem mündigen bürger noch zumuten, das rauchen gesundheits schädlich ist , ist ausreichend bekannt

explanations

No change

additional option

Wenn die preise fallen werden den händlern die einkommen stark entzogen, sicherlich werden arbeitsplätze vernichtet jugedlichen wird der konsum durch fallende preise erleichtert durch neutrale verpackungen wird der schmuggel und fälschungen verstärkt

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Caytan Laurens

email

Belgium

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Klaus Kortsteger

email

Deutschland

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Da der Verbraucher mündig ist, sollte jeder selbst entscheiden, ob er raucht, oder nicht. Bekannte Persönlichkeiten ( Altkanzler Helmut Schmidt nebst Gattin) sind Beispiel dafür, das man auch, wenn man raucht sehr alt werden kann.

explanations

No change

additional option

Bei einheitlicher Verpackung wird der Preis entscheiden und Markenstrukturen zerstören. Durch fallenden Preise werden die Erträge der Händler geschmälert. Dieses könnte zur folge haben, dass es zu Stellenstreichungen kommen wird. Bei einheitlicher Verpackung wird es sicherlich leichter sein Fälschungen herzustellen. Das wiederum würde eine geringe Steuereinnahme bedeuten.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ascher, birgit

email

deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kein kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ascher, birgit

email

deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

kein kommentar

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thémont Michel

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

jochen jenssen

email

deutschland

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

raucher sind erwachsene menschen, die ausreichend informiert sind

explanations

No change

additional option

einheitsverpackungen würden preiskampf einfachen, der viele arbeitsplätze in der tabakindustrie und handel kosten würde

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

manfred hueben

email

deutschland

country

62

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ich bin mündiger bürger, möchte selbs entscheiden explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

claudia.mai

email

deutschland

country

44

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Zusatzstoffe erhöhen nicht die Toxizität, noch haben sie eine suchterzeugende Wirkung.

explanations
No change

additional option
Ein Verbot ändert nicht das Konsumverhalten, es schwächt meineserachtens nur den Aussenhandel. Durch ein Verbot wird nur der illegale Handel gestärkt

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Uwe Anders

email
BRD

country
52

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ausreichende Gesetz bereits vorhanden

explanations
No change

which improvement
keine

additional option

keine

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M.P.A. de Nijs

email

holland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jürgen Mai

email

deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Raucher, verbraucher sind durch die jetztigen Hinweise auf der Packung ausreichend über die Gesundheitsrisiken informiert. Es bedarf meiner Meinung nach keinerlei Änderung.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Eine Änderung der Verpackung in Einheitspackung, würde einen starken Umsatzverlust für viele Unternehmen mit massiven Stellenstreichungen führen. Ausserdem lassen sich Einheitspackungen noch einfacher fälschen, der Schwarzmarkt würde noch stärker, als er ehe schon ist.

additional option

Einschränkung der Markenvielfalt und gleichzeitige schwächung der Einzelhändler. Durch ein Verbot wird der illegale Markt gestärkt. Verbunden mit Steuerminereinnahmen für den Staat.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Dürr

email

Deutschland

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Gesundheitsrisiken sind bereits hinreichend bekannt und kommuniziert.

explanations

No change

additional option

Keine Differenzierung der einzelnen Marke möglich! Die einzelnen Marken lassen sich durch die einheitlichen Verpackungen leichter fälschen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

uta scheid

email

germany

country

43

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Der Raucher wird sich seine eigenen Wege suchen, um seine Marke zu finden, er wird seinen Konsum nicht reduzieren. Er wird andere Mittel und Wege finden Zigaretten zu kaufen und wir haben die Umatzeinbuße n.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Umsatzrückgänge für den Handel, im Bereich Tankstellen wird es zu erheblichen finanziellen Einbußen kommen, da auch die Anschlußgeschäfte wie Z.B. der Verkauf von Süßwaren und Getränken zurückgehen wird.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Diass SIA

email

Latvia

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Absoluti nesaprotama riciba...Pirceju maldinasana, kura nenes velamos rezultatus.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Großmann Wolfgang

email
Deutschland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Bürger sollte sich frei entscheiden können

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
NORMA SIA

email
Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Pieaugu cilvēku skaits, kas iegādāsies kontrabandas cigaretes. Vajadzēs apmācīt personālu, lai tas atpazītu cigaretes.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stefan Kämmerer

email

Deutschland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Produktpräsentation stellt kein Problem dar. Es handelt sich um legale Produkte. Es ist eine Behinderung des Handels, ohne das es nachweislich den Anteil der Raucher verringert oder den Zugang Jugendlicher zu Tabakprodukten einschränken würde.

explanations

No change

additional option

Es wird schwieriger für den Verbraucher seine bevorzugte Marke zu finden. Es gibt erhebliche finanzielle Belastung für den Einzelhandel, um Tabakprodukte nicht sichtbar am Verkaufsort zu lagern. Dies ist oftmals nicht möglich, dann droht der Ausschluß vom Markt. Der illeg. Handel mit Zigaretten wird stark vereinfacht, mit finanziellen Folgen für Wirtschaft und Staat. Es gibt weniger Markenvielfalt und den Wettbewerb nur noch über den Preis.

Sinkende Preise sind schädlich für Handel, Staat und Gesundheit. Sinkende Werbeeinnahmen dadurch weitere finanzielle Belastung.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΛΕΞΑΝΔΡΟΣ ΘΕΟΔΩΡΟΠΟΥΛΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Despina Papadopoulou

email

Greece living in Poland

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I believe for the past years, citizens have been informed thoroughly about the danger of smoking. The information smoking is not good have past from generation to generation. To my opinion there is nothing to be improved in the consumers' information. Tobacco companies are the only companies acknowledging in public the fact their products are dangerous for decades now, what more is needed there? Tobacco companies are paying to the governments a lot of taxes and at the same time give jobs and profits to a lot of the EU citizens, working for them or trading their products.

explanations

No change

which improvement

I can not see the problem. We are informed. But if you consider there is a problem, what i can suggest is to enhance the education system, ask schools to point out smoking dangers, or even create a mandatory health course in schools which will address other aspects as well.

additional option

About plain packing, as a cigarettes consumer I would ask you to give me the opportunity to know what i am consuming. My concern here is that a plain package can be easily copied, thank you for your time. Despina Papadopoulou

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ines Trautmann-Ebert

email

Deutschland

country

41

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Durch Medien und Campagnen der Krankenkassen und staatlichen Gesundheitsbehörden sind die Verbraucher über die Gefahren des Tabakkonsums hinreichend aufgeklärt. Die warnhinweise auf den Verpackungen halten Raucher nicht davon ab zu rauchen, und auch eine weitergehende Regulierung wird nicht dazu führen, dass sich Raucher der Risiken bewußter verhalten.

explanations

No change

additional option

neutrale Packungen lassen kaum Unterscheidung verschiedener Qualitäten zu, evtl. wird Fälschung begünstigt. Wenn sich die Packungen nicht mehr unterscheiden, könnte der Preis einziges Kaufkriterium werden. Dies verhindert Wettbewerb (unter den Herstellern und Händlern) und kostet am Ende Arbeitsplätze. Es könnte dazu führen, dass verstärkt preiswerte Ware angeboten wird, was wiederum Jugendliche motivieren könnte, mit dem Rauchen anzufangen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

NIKOLAOS GAGALIS

email

Greece

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

responsibility = right information

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Coster Gregory

email

Belgium

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i dont agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Coster Gregory

email

Belgium

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
i dont agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Frühklug, Karina

email
Deutschland

country
41

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Die Aufklärung über Gesunheitsrisiken wurden jedem rauchendem wie auch nichtrauchendem Bürger zur Genüge vermittelt. Ich denke nicht, das weitere Maßnahmen die Warnehmung des Bürgers steigert.

explanations
No change

additional option
Neutrale Verpackungen birgt für meine Begriffe ein erhöhtes Fälschungspotenzial

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Schmitt, Ralf

email

Germany

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

- weitere Warnhinweise werden kaum wahrgenommen - Gesundheitsrisiken sind bei Verbrauchern ausreichend bekannt

explanations

No change

additional option

- bei nicht unterscheidbaren Verpackungen entscheidet der Kunde nur nach Preis (möglichst günstig) - fallende Preise führen zu sinkenden Margen; zu Umsatzrückgängen und somit zu Stellenstreichungen - niedrigere Preise ermöglichen Jugendlichen leichteren Zugang

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

KORSA SIA

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Palielināsies pirkuma veikšanas laiks, kas izraisīs neapmierinātību pircējos. Tas noteikti nesamazinās smēķētāju skaitu, tikai palielinās kontrabandas cigarešu iegādi.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Green

email

Deutschland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Raucher werden schon seit Jahren über die Gesundheitsrisiken des Rauchens umfangreich informiert Die bestehenden Warnhinweise werden größtenteils ignoriert, darüber hinausgehende, auch plakative Hinweise, werden ebenfalls im Sande verlaufen

explanations

No change

additional option

Fäschungssicherheit wird durch Einheitspackungen eingeschränkt Einheitspackungen führen zu einer ausschließlichen Preisorientierung, daraus folgend einer Preis - und Margenschmälerung für den Handel, woraus eine Ertragsreduzierung wiederum zu Arbeitsplatzverlusten durch Personalabbau führen wird. Durch eine Preisreduzierung bekommen Jugendliche einen einfacherung Zugang zu "günstige" Tabakwaren.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ursula wenke ARAL TANKSTELLE GERMANY

email

GERMANY

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO

explanations

No change

which improvement

schade das es nicht auf DEUTSCH dargestellt wird

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Andreas Richter

email

Deutschland

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Verbraucher wissen doch alle über die Risiken Bescheid Es gibt keine Hinweise darauf ,das Warnhinweise vom Rauchen abhalten

explanations

No change

which improvement

Gar keine

additional option

Wir sind Erwachsene und können selbst entscheiden ob wir rauchen möchten oder nicht. Ausserdem würde es jede Menge Arbeitsplätze kosten!! Der Schwarzmarkt würde durch die einheitliche Verpackung boomen,weil einfach zu fälschen wäre!! dadurch würde auch die Kontrolle für Jugendliche immer weniger ,der Schwarzmarkt fragt nicht nach einem Ausweis

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PSEMMATAKI DIMITRA

email

greece

country

26

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no , comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Pelitari Sofia

email

Greece

country

29

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Patsarouchas Nikolaos

email

Greece

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

No comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΔΙΑΜΑΝΤΗΣ ΔΗΜΗΤΡΙΟΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

24

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΦΥΤΣΙΛΗ ΠΑΡΑΣΚΕΥΗ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

28

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
PSEMMATAKIS VASILIS

email
greece

country 28

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no , comment

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

ΧΡΗΣΤΟΣ ΤΕΡΖΙΔΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

25

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ΚΑΝΕΝΑ ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Venieris Ioannis

email

Greece

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No, comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΛΕΥΡΙΑΔΗΣ ΙΩΑΝΝΗΣ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mirco Engelbrecht

email

Deutschland

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

-Verbraucher sind bereits hinreichend über Gesundheitsrisiken aufgeklärt keine Hinweise, dass weitergehende Warnhinweise deren Wahrnehmung steigert

explanations

No change

additional option

-Einheitsverpackungen zerstören Markenstrukturen und führen zu einer reinen Preisorientierung -Fallende Preise führen zu sinkenden Handelsspannen. Folge a) Entzug der Einkommensbasis für viele tabakumsatzabhängige Unternehmen, dadurch Gefahr erhöhter Stellenstreichungen; b) leichter Zugang für Jugendliche durch niedrigere Preise -Neutrale Packungen lassen sich leichter fälschen

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephan Ferreira da Silva

email

Germany

country

41

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

maik klapperich

email

germany

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

es kann nicht sein das uns alles bestimmt wird, wir sind frei menschen

explanations

No change

which improvement

jedem ist selber überlassen ob er raucht oder nicht was machen die länder ohne tabaksteuer ? luftsteuer zum atmen?

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Selis SIA

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Vienota vai vienkraisaina iepakojuma ieviesana - Es uzskatu, ka sada vienkraisaina iepakojuma ieviesana aiznems vairak laika, lai apkalpotu klientus. Palielinasies iespeja kludities pasniedzot produktu utml.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

AMALIA FOSTIRA

email

greece

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

which improvement

no comment

additional option

no comment

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nadja Anana

email

Deutschland

country

28

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Tabakkunden werden ausreichend über die Gefahren des Rauchens aufgeklärt und es wurden genug Maßnahmen ergriffen.

explanations

No change

additional option

-Kunden können sich nur noch nach dem Preis orientieren -wahrscheinlich werden dadurch noch jüngere Bürger zum Rauchen verführt (keine Einhaltung des Jugendschutzes), weil der Schwarzmarkt expandiert - Einzelhändler sowie Großhändler haben große Umsatzeinbußen und müssen somit viele Stellen streichen.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hans-Günter Klumb

email

Germany

country

48

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

To let it the way it is now.

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Doreen Casalli

email

Deutschland

country

37

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

-jeder der raucht, weiss dass es gesundheitsschädlich ist - Warnhinweise auf Verpackung sind ausreichend

explanations

No change

additional option

- Fälschungen werden steigern - Arbeitslosigkeit wird steigen - Staat weniger Tabaksteuern einnehmen, dadurch neue Belastung

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Markus Klähr

email

Germany

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die bereits vorhandenen Kennzeichnung über Gesundheitsrisiken reicht völlig aus Den Raucher werden noch mehr Hinweise nicht vom rauchen abhalten und den Nichtraucher interessieren diese eh nicht.

explanations

No change

additional option

Viele Unternehmen die von dem Verkauf der Tabakwaren abhängig sind werden durch sinkende Preise in Schwierigkeiten kommen, weniger Umsatz =weniger Verdienst, das hat zur Folge, das es Betriebsschliessungen bzw Entlassungen geben wird. Jugendlichen wird es leichter gemacht durch niedrigere Preise an Zigaretten zu kommen Das Fälschen von Zigaretten wird durch das Wegfallen des Markennames vereinfacht

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karin Schwarzer

email

Deutschland

country

25

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

- Jeder kennt die Risiken des Rauchens und ist daher selbst für sich verantwortlich - Auch die bisherigen Warnhinweise haben keine Wirkung gezeigt - Der Bürger ist sich über das Rauchen bewusst

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Müller, Stefan

email

Deutschland

country

40

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

keine

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ute Schlager

email

Witten, Deutschland

country

43

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Wir sind über alle Gesundheitsrisiken und Problem aufgeklärt, mehr Warnhinweise brauchen wir nicht.

explanations
No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen zerstören Markenauftreten und lassen sich gegebenenfalls auch besser fälschen

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Silvia Adamski

email

Deutschland

country

55

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Verbraucher sind schon über die Gesundheitsrisiken aufgeklärt und es besteht kein Hinweis, dass weitere Hinweise die Wahrnehmung steigert.

explanations

No change

additional option

Einheitsverpackungen führen zu einer reinen Preisorientierung und fallende Preise machen die Handelsspannen kaputt. Die Unternehmen wird die Einkommensbasis genommen wodurch Stellenstreichungen anfallen Neutrale Verpackungen lassen sich leichter fälschen

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Silvia Adamski

email

Deutschland

country

55

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es sind legale Produkte. Darum sehe ich bei der Präsentation kein Problem. Der Handel wird nur behindert, ohne dass Jugendliche zu den Tabakprodukten kommen und der Anteil der Rauchverringert wird.

explanations

No change

additional option

Der Verbraucher wird seine Marke nicht so schnell finden wie im Moment. Illegaler Handel mit Zigaretten wird sich ausweiten mit Folgen für Staat und Handel. Da der Einzelhandel die Produkte nicht sichtbar lagern kann, werden erhebliche Belastungen die Folge sein. Der Wettbewerb geht nur noch über den Preis und das ist wieder schädlich für Handel Staat und Gesundheit

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Simon Schmidt

email

Germany

country

32

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

jogwick,torsten

email

deutschland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

additional option

jeder bürger sollte frei entscheiden können!

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thomas Binnig

email

Germany

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es gibt glaube ich kein Verbraucher mehr, der nicht weiß wie schädlich das Rauchen ist.

explanations

No change

additional option

Preisverfall - sinkende Handelspanne - viele Stellenstreichungen im tabakumsatzabhängigen Unternehmen-biligere Preise erhöhte Gefahr für Jugendliche.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kosmas Panagiotidis

email

Greece

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

There is no need to make any change to the cigarette packs. You have already done a lot. Now it's time for you to stop this "game" and let the people free to decide. It's a free choice and we want some 'colors' in our life and in our choices.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ulrich Adamski

email

Deutschland

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Gesundheitsrisiken sind dem Verbraucher erklärt und es bestehen keine Hinweise, dass noch andere Warnhinweise die Wahrnehmung steigert

explanations

No change

additional option

die Markenstrukturen werden durch Einheitspackungen zerstört und es wird eine reine Preisorientierung stattfinden. Die reduzierten Preise werden unsere Handelsspannen zerstören und die Einkommensbasis für viele Unternehmen mit Tabakumsatz ist gefährdet. Stellenabbau ist die Folge. Auch werden Jugendliche durch niedrige Preise eher zum Rauchen animiert werden. Die Fälschung bei neutraler Verpackung ist hoch.

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stefan Blömke

email

Germany

country

28

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Da ich denke, dass wir Bürger das Recht behalten sollten selbst zu wählen was wir kaufen und was nicht. Verbraucher werden oft und genug über die Risiken aufgeklärt und können selbst entscheiden, ob sie die ausgestellten Produkte kaufen möchten. Ich bezweifel, dass weitere Warnhinweise, als Rauchen tötet, nützen. Denn diese Aussage kann und wird von jedem Verstanden.

explanations

No change

additional option

Durch die Einheitsverpackungen sehe ich eine Möglichkeit, dass diese Produkte leichter gefälscht werden können. Da der Verbraucher falsche Produkte nicht mehr erkennen kann und das kann nicht das Ziel der EU sein.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

VAN CAUTEREN

email

Poland

country

45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I'm not in favor of such regulation.

explanations
No change

which improvement
Citizens are already well informed about the use of such products, many other product categories have also hazardous results on public health without any 'public' regulation in place (eg. petrol, alcohol).

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
René Wünscher

email
germany

country
37

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Alle Raucher sind sich bereits über die Gesundheitsrisiken im klaren. Mehr Warnhinweise steigern nicht deren Wahrnehmung.

explanations
No change

additional option

Einheitliche Verpackungen zerstören Markenstrukturen und führen zu einer reinen Preisorientierung. Entzug der Einkommensbasis für tabakumsatzabhängige Unternehmen, dadurch erhöhter Stellenabbau Neutrale Verpackungen können leichter gefälscht werden.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Alexandra Mühlnickel

email

Deutschland

country

36

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Jedem Raucher ist klar, das es beim rauchen Gesundheitsrisiken gibt. Ich kann mir nicht vorstellen, das weitere Wahrhinweise die Raucher vom rauchen abhalten werden.

explanations

No change

additional option

Durch eine Vereinheitlichung der Verpackungen und eine damit verbundene Preissenkung, werden Zigaretten auch für Jugendliche wieder interessant. Ausserdem kann man schlichte Verpackungen auch leichter fälschen. Fallende Preise schädigen nicht nur die Tabakindustrie, sondern sämtliche Folgegeschäft, wie den Einzelhandel und alle in dieser Branche tätigen Arbeitnehmer.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wolfgang Zaprasis

email

Deutschland

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ich bin über die Risiken des Rauchens über die bisherige Kennzeichnung ausreichend informiert.

explanations

No change

additional option

Ich denke nicht das eine Einheitsverpackung zu weniger Rauchern führt sondern eher zu einer Verlagerung auf billige Packungen. Damit würde sich auch der Zugang für Jugendliche vereinfachen da keine Dikreminierung stattfindet.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anke Schmidt

email

Germany

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Es ist völlig absurd zu glauben damit das Rauchen regulieren zu können. Darüberhinaus sind wir mündige Bürger. Ich möchte selbst entscheiden dürfen ob und was ich rauche. Insbesondere welchen Geschmack ich rauche. Davon ab ist es auch volkswirtschaftlich sehr kurz gedacht. Was machen wir denn mit den Bürgern die in Industrie und Handel dann ihren Job verlieren? Wie gleichen wir denn künftig die fehlenden Steuereinnahmen aus? Für mich ist diese ganze Idee nur absurd! Das Risiko durch Warnhinweise auf den Packungen nochmal deutlich sichtbar zu machen find ich gut und völlig ausreichend. Den Rest kann ein mündiger Bürger selbst entscheiden, ohne stattliche Zwangsunterstützung!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bernhard Atzert

email

Deutschland

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Jeder sollte wissen, ob er raucht oder nicht; die Gefahren sind bekannt. Wir sind mündige Bürger und keine kleinen Kinder.

explanations

No change

additional option

Der Schwarzmarkt würde zunehmen; Fälschungen würden einfacher

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Micha Diegelmann

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jospeh Verhooren

email

Netherlands

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I don't agree on the fact that you're fighting a problem that doesn't exist

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Oudshoorn

email

Netherlands

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

which improvement

No change

additional option

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

herman van oost

email

nederland

country

44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Ioannis Mastrocostas

email
Greece

country
33

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
Improve consumer information

which option
Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

which improvement
Change tax on Roll your own tobacco, which we do not know if it harms more or less than cigarretes, since there is no filter.

additional option

Excessive taxation increases in cigarette products causes the extensive increase of fake products in market; in which cases it is expected to be more harmful than the cigarettes produced in the cigarette factories of the well known companies and this causes more harm. Moreover, plain packaging will greatly extend the fake cigarettes distribution.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

peter wilke

email

german

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

a change as proposed by the EU commission will lead to more contraband, therefore loss of tax income, loss of well-paid and high qualificatied jobs mainly in marketing, but most likely not to a reduction in consumption.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Increase youth protection by ensuring that the legal age 18 is enforced.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIA AGMA

email
LATVIA

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Baltas paciņas neveicinās tirdzniecību un maldnās pircējus. Apgrūtināta tiks arī tirdzniecība visām cigaretēm. Izvietojums arī nav pieņemams, jo pircējam netiks dota izvēle.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Afroditi Leousi

email
Greece

country 1956 age

female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
no comments

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Afroditi Leousi

email

Greece

country

1956 age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

george tzeneralis

email

Greece

country

1966

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ARENIKIS HARIS

email

GREECE

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ARENIKIS HARIS

email

GREECE

country

42

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENTS

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Christine Grietens

email
Belgium

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
SIA Ziedi

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

• Darbinieku apmācība – produktu pārzināšana, Nav viennozīmīgi dati, ka tas būs problēmas risinājums. Sākumā vajag apkarot kontrabandu, pēc tam var ķerties klāt citiem projektiem

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Li Li SIA

email

Latvia

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Noraidosa pirceju attieksme. Neredzot produktu nav iespējams kvalitatīvi sniegt pakalpojumu.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lukas

email

Österreich

country

17

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sia ViKO

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Pārdevējām būs grūti atrast prasīto cigarešu marķi, kas patērēs ļoti daudz laika. Grūti izkontrolēt vai veikalā ir legālās vai arī nelegālās cigaretes.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sia ViKO

email
Latvia

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Pircejam būs lielas problēmas atrast savu iecienīto cigarešu marķu. Veikalā bus grūti cīnīties ar pircejiem, kuri domā ka veikals tirgo nelegālas cigaretes.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Giedre Abromaitiene

email
Lithuania

country
27

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree, because for me it will be difficult to identify my brand which I am accustomed to. Moreover, as much as I know, there is no evidence that plain packaging reduces consumption.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Antanas Bartkevicius

email

Lithuania

country

27

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Product trademark, or brand is very important to me. I'm very loyal to certain products i consume. Plain packaging would not reduce smoking, as it claims, but would free hands to all contraband products and reduce competition.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jurgis Polujanskas

email

Lithuania

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Meself as a consumer, i'm used to my brand. I value it and i'm proud what i smoke. I believe, generic packaging is usseless measure against smoking reduction. On contrary, it will give a bosst to contranband and counterfeit cigarettes.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

stavroulakis george

email

greece

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comment

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIA Kurzemes sēklas

email
Latvia

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Pārdevējam būs problemātiski atšķirt cigarešu markas,kā rezultātā būs liels bardaks.....

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Raivis

email
Latvia

country
30

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
nespēšu atpazīt savu iecienīto produktu, šāda rīcība nebūs par iemeslu smēķēšanas atmešanai.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

JS van Vossen

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

C.H. Eversdijk

email

Netherlands

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I just do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Paul Maerman

email

Netherlands

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Melinda Schepers

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Chris Bus

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga er niet mee akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

John Neele

email

Netherlands

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree, it's outrageous how Europe tries to achieve less smoking and keeping people small. I do not agree, everyone has the right to smoke, I decide what I do and not Europe. A changed warning on a package of cigarettes will make me only more curious,

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ΑΛΕΥΡΙΔΗΣ ΜΙΧΑΗΛ

email

ΕΛΛΑΔΑ

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

KANENA ΣΧΟΛΙΟ

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ALEVRIDIS ATHANASIOS

email

GREECE

country

46

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO COMMENT

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Baron Sally

email
Belgium

country
37

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I just hate it !

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Athanassios Premetis

email

Greece

country

52

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

van vynckt an

email

België

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Guy Van Den Bosch

email

Belgium

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

scinta

email

belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hoefkens Joeri

email

Belgium

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M. Schepers-Kweens

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Celina Schepers

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Sven Franksen

email

Deutschland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Keine weitere Aufklärung notwendig, da Warnhinweise auf jeder Packung vorhanden

explanations

No change

additional option

Wie soll ich Originale von Fälschungen unterscheiden?

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

W. Schepers

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree with this

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SIA PHL

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Pardevejam bus problematiski atrast cigaretes un pircejiem bus problematiski atpazit savu iecienito marku

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SIA "Daugavpils Bokseru klubs"

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Iegūst lieli veikali, jo pircējs negribēs tērēt savu laiku mazajos veikalos, nezinot vai šajā veikalā būs pieejams produkts vai nē. Pieņem, ka lielajos veikalos ir lielāks sortiments Lielākas izmaksas dēļ speciālajiem aprīkojumiem – vietai, kur glabāt produktu, speciāli skapji, kastes, atvilktnes, utt. Nav ar ko salīdzināt plauktā, pircējs nezinās vai tas ir kontrabandas produkts, vai nē!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

D>J SIA

email

Latvia

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Tirgotāju nstada viena līmeni ar kontrobandistu. Darbinieku izglītotsana jāiegulda bezjēdzīgi līdzekļi, kuriem atdeves nav.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Telis

email

Greece

country

30

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SIA HIIL

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Veikala nevarēs atpazīt cigaresu markas, kas apgrutinas pardevejas darbu.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Frits Galle

email

spain

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree because it make no sense and will only create more confusion and misleading the consuments with false products.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

CHRISTOS ROUSSOS

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Eurima SIA

email

Latvija

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Nebus iespejami identificet produktu.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Z/S Lejini

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Bus lielas neertibas, pircejiem atpazit vinju iecienito marku.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

coen marie-paule

email

belgie

country

51

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIA Saldus Priede

email

Latvija

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Grūta cigarešu marku atpazīšana un līdz ar to klientu apkalpošana.Lieka darbinieku apmācība tirdzniecībā.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Athanasios Skourlas

email

Greece

country

33

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Anta Koutsantoni

email

Greece

country

30

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

All consumers should have the right to choose between different brands and producers. The place to be informed is the area where the product is being sold and on the packaging.

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ziles SIA

email
Latvia

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Vienota vai vienkraisaina iepakojuma ieviesana - Nepiekritu, jo tas radibas papildus grutibas apkalpojot pircejus, paildzinasies klientu apkalposanas laiks. Radis iespeju kludities pasniedzot produktu.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Lefevre

email
Belgium

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

p.e. je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
SIA PETRA-RIGA

email
Latvia

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Paidzināsies pircēja apkalpošanas laiks, kas, savukārt, palielinās pircēja nervozitāti, kas tieši pretēji palielinās vēlmi smēķēt.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
SIA OREGANO

email
Latvia

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

1.Papildus izmaksas personāla apmācībai 2.Paidzināsies laiks viena pircēja apkalpošanai,sameklējot vajadzīgo cigarešu paciņu

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
king sia

email

LATVIA

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Nav viennozimigu datu, ka problema tiks atrisinata.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
zantboer

email
nederland

country
52

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

dommisse

email

nederland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Eric Kuijper

email

Nederland

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lilliane Van Den Bogaert

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

stefaan jonckheere

email

belgium

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ann goemaere

email
belgium

country
46

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Richard

email
Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Let people decide what they want and stop paternalising them like childs. I want to smoke, please let it be like this without me feeling absolutely guilty in every single place I go or having to look at my certain and horrible death everytime I take a look @ my pack. A few years ago, there were smokers everywhere. And no one to critcize. Now because of some puritan eco-bobo "i'm your father" politicians and others, smoking sounds like a desease. One thing is respect for others (do not smoke in crowded areas or while other eat for example) and another is tellin gpeople what to do and contol their OWN purchase they pay (price + tax + tax + tax) with their OWN money. Don't they have (paid) the right to be left alone?

explanations

No change

which improvement

see above

additional option

see above

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ROELANTS LIONEL

email

Belgium

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

librairie Bonaventure

email

belgique

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord car j'estime qu'il existe jusqu'a preuve du contraire la liberte et le choix des citoyens

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Didier Mosselmans

email

Belgique

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord!!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

SIMALS SIA

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Tas radīs papildu izmaksas personāla apmācīšanai.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification
affiliation

citizen

name

tritz

email

Belgium

country

51

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I DO NOT AGREE

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
seret

email
belgique

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
De Brabander Luc

email
Belgium

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

nicole martens

email

belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

zeer slecht idee

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D'haeninck Nathalie

email
Belgie

country
35

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
It would stimulate the black market!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Chatzeiooannou Tania

email
Greece

country 28

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Tobacco is a legal product sold in all countries of the world in valid stores. As all other legal products sold WW, tobacco should also be considered as a normal product and should be able to have proper promotion in all aspects. Special consideration should be of course taken, for the non smoker citizens in order to have the same rights as the people who prefer smoking. There are other normal products sold legally in EU that cause more health problems than tobacco and nobody is doing anything about them (i.e. fast food products)

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory

which improvement

Proper consumer information via advertisement on the problems that tobacco is causing. Except for TAR, SN & CO other harmful substances to be evaluated during smoking evaluation and their levels to be kept under EU legislation.

additional option

Think of how harmful all these laws you are proposing, will be for the Tobacco Industry and the people working.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vests SIA

email

Latvia

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Gruti apkalpot pircejus, gruti identificet produktu.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

wyseure bvba

email

Belgie

country

51

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Martens Harry

email

belgie

country

53

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SIA VTB Rudens

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Problemātiski identificēt produktu, var rasties daudz kļūdu pardodot

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Igors Drokins

email

Latvia

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es, kā smēķētājs, neizprotu šīs direktīvas nepieciešamību attiecībā uz šiem aizliegumiem, jo jau šobrīd LAvijā uz cigarešu paciņām ir izietotas dažādas briesmīga paskata bildes un uzraksti. Man kā pircējam, kurš nepīpēju tikai vienu marku bieži nomēģina ari dažādu jaunumus, tad šādi aizliegumi, man radītu grūtības, jo nebūtu iespēja iepazīties ar šo produktu, iepriekš viņu nenopērkot un neizmēģinot, līdz ar to iespējams bieži kļūdītos pirkuma izvēlē, un līdz ar to zaudētu daudz naudas, un neiegūtu to kāpēc pērku šo produktu.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MIRLACH Michael

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Definition ist bevormundend und anmaßend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MIRLACH Michael

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Definition ist bevormundend und anmaßend

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mirlach michael

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ich finde die derzeitige Regulierung deutlich überzogen und anmaßend. Ein mündiger Bürger sollte frei entscheiden dürfen welche Produkte mit welchen Inhalten und Dosierungen er zu sich nehmen möchte.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Abschaffung dieser Regulierung

additional option

Die Einmischung der EU in die Privatsphäre ist eine Zumutung

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A Geertse

email

nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andre Geertse

email

nederland

country

44

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

which improvement

In your view, which option addresses the problem most effectiely?

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

J.P.M. Nuijten

email

Netherlands

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

N.D.H.M. Herman - van Poppelen

email

The Netherlands

country

41

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

André Maurice

email

belgium

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord que ça ne sera pas pratique et ça me fera perdre énormément de temps

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

johan verdult

email

nederland

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga er niet mee akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hardenne

email

BE

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

JE NE SUIT PAS D'ACCORD LE RESPECT D'AUTRUI

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

mart

email

nederland

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga hier zeker allemaal niet mee accoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lorenz Intichar

email

Austria

country

33

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
Improve consumer information

which option
Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

additional option
Please make a distinction between "addictive" tobacco consumption (i.e. cigarettes) and "comfort" consumption (mainly cigars and pipe smoking). The latter not only has far less impact on health and environment, but has been for the last 400 years a part of european culture.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
J vd Wilk

email
Netherlands

country
46

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

lien braeckman

email

belgië

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marcin Piekut

email

Poland

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Robert Urbanowski

email

Poland

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hubert Wysocki

email

Poland

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rafal Roszak

email

Poland

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Agnieszka Roszak

email

Poland

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

nys conny

email

België

country

46

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

niet verkoopsvriendelijk

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
P.Suurland

email
Nederland

country
57

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations
No change

additional option
Ik ga niet akkoord.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Van Vossel Johny

email
Belgie

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Petra Wochner

email

germany

country

45

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Willekens Herman

email

tabak

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Klaus Wochner

email

germany

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Es existiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein Hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewusstsein nicht – die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten. Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichtert und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland. Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht (Jugend- und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv. Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweise auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür gibt es bisher keine Nachweise aus Ländern, in denen Bildwarnhinweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ulrike Wiedemann

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Information ist mehr als ausreichend. Die Verbraucher sind keine Idioten. Das EU Parlament sollte sich mal um die wichtigen Dinge kümmern

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Verbeeck P

email

Belgium

country

40

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

van Kaam

email

holland

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Audenaert Marc

email

Belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

an neiryneck

email

belgium

country

37

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

black market products will arise, government will lose big income from taxes on tobacco

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

E-J Zandee

email

Nederland

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ghislain

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d accord!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

helmut ziegler

email

germany

country

62

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es exestiert bereits ein allgemeines Bewusstsein der Risiken des Rauchens. Ein hinzufügen von Bildern auf den Warnhinweisen erhöht dieses Bewußtsein nicht- die Bilder wirken lediglich überwiegend abstoßend ohne eine zusätzliche Information zu bieten.Durch die Umsetzung von neutralen Verpackungen wird Produktfälschern die Arbeit erleichter und das Problem des Schmuggels weiter verschärft. Dies bedroht die Existenz des rein national tätigen Groß- und Einzelhandels in Deutschland.Über die Einführung von neutralen Verpackungen konzentriert sich der Wettbewerb verstärkt auf das Preis-Marketing. Sinkende Preise wären die Konsequenz. Dies ist in jeder Hinsicht ( Jugend-und Gesundheitsschutz, Steuereinnahmen...) kontraproduktiv.Es wird pauschal unterstellt, dass die Einführung von Bildwarnhinweisen auf das Rauchverhalten der Verbraucher einwirkt. Dafür werden allerdings keine Nachweise aus den Ländern zugeliefert, in denen Bildnachweise bereits verpflichtend eingeführt wurden.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

rvidbosch

email

nederland

country

41

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Frans Snepvangers

email

nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name Frans Snepvangers

email
Nederland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
chris kees

email
netherlands

country
48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

COLLIGNON Michel

email

BELGIQUE

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Liesbeth Tack

email

The Netherlands

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

W. Suurland

email

Nederland

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

P. Snijders

email

Netherlands

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Pierre Elst

email

Nederland

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ad Reijnen

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree !

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A van Gaal

email

Netherlands

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

pdesnaijer

email

netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Frank Bruijnzeels

email

The Netherlands

country

46

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Bouedwijn Teekens

email
holland

country
53

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree,where will stay our freedom what will be the next step from brussel that would say what we are having to do? please stop with this nonsens

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Jan Bennaars

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

William Bosman

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Elise Bennaars - Cornel

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Martijn van der Ster

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Bas Quist

email

Netherlands

country
42

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Nanda Tholenaar

email
holland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
J.M.M. THOLENAAR

email
THE NETHERLANDS

country
51

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I DON'T AGREE WITH THIS

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
H. van Staalduinen

email
Netherlands

country
35

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Toos Beenhakkers Heijneman

email

netherlands

country

54

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

vermeiren andre

email

belgium

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
already known

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
A. de Jongh

email
Netherlands

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Popescu Ruxandra Andreea

email
Romania

country
34

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nanda van Zunderen

email

Holland

country

29

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peter Bil

email

Holland

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Moerland

email

St-Philipsland

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Peter van Diermen

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

corne van meer

email

Nederland

country

45

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Frederic Petit

email

Belgium

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Piet Santbergen

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Edwin Neelen

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stanny van de Vijver

email

Nederland

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

van der Avert

email

Holland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rien van Vossen

email

nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

L Vriens

email

Netherlands

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet accoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

carion

email

belgium

country

40

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Censier severine

email

Luxembourg

country

32

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dennis Hendrikse

email

Nederland

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BERCKMANS

email

Belgique

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

p.e.Je ne suis pas d accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DC restorani

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Уровень контрабандно ввезенных сигарет вырастет Уменьшит уровень доходов компаний Снизится уровень получаемых государством налогов

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

André van Westen

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A van der Ree

email

holland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ton Buijs

email

Netherlands

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Everybody should have a free choice without paternising from governments or EU

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ANA PASCUAL MARCOS

email

Spain

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

RICARDO MIRANDA RODRIGUEZ

email

España

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MOLLIN LUDO

email

BELGIUM

country

60

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

X

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

R.Noordijk

email

Netherlands

country

33

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I don't agree, it's going too far.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Eric Stas

email

Belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

cees buuron

email

holland

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Frank van den Branden

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

wil van de luijtgarden

email

belgie

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Theo Reuvers

email

Holland

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

which improvement

In your view, which option addresses the problem most effectively?

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

john mens

email

the netherlands

country

45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
john mens

email
The Netherlands

country
45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

P.Annevelink

email

Nederland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

oversteyns nv

email

belgie

country

51

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga helemaal niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

D A Hermsen

email

netherlands

country

49

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

jos degroot

email

nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

SMITS

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord avec la directive, je pense qu'on doit conserver le libre choix

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Adrie van de Ree

email

Nederland

country

50

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

additional option

Ik ga niet akkoord

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Adrie van de Ree

email

Nederland

country

50

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PMJ van den Broek

email

Holland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree, many people will lose their jobs and there are more worse things what is harmful to your health

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bogers

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A.C. Lameir

email

Netherlands

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree. cigarettes are a legal product, there should be no restrictions what so ever on the packaging. no restrictions on packaging of milk, sweets, elektronics, then also no restriction on packaging of cigarettes.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PLamans

email

The netherlands

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

marcel van roosendaal

email

nederland

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hoek

email

nederland

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Martin

email
Nederland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not agree

explanations
No change

which improvement
NO change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
s. vd Linde

email
Nederland

country
43

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Loet Lokker

email
nederland

country
48

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Patricia Geelen

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Lesley Van Beers

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Isabel Cañizares

email
españa

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Isabel Cañizares

email
españa

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
frank blonk

email
netherlands

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Jos van Leerzem

email

Nederland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Introduce generic or plain packaging

which improvement

Yes,

additional option

let the young people see in any way what the danger is if you start smoking. So use any thing to make that clear

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Noëlle Blonk-Daalmans

email

The Netherlands

country

38

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
"I do not agree".

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
K.Moeliker

email
Nederland

country
51

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Jan van Hassel

email

België

country

44

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

A.Goossens

email

Nederland

country

53

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
de herdt

email
holland

country
56

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Rene Wienhoven

email
Essen Belgium

country
42

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
J.A.C.A. Gruijters

email
the Netherlands

country
31

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Heikki Ott

email

Deutschland

country

52

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Es gibt keine nachweisbare Gefährdung von Nichtrauchern durch den sog. Passivrauch. Alle Studien, da vor allem durch das DKFZ abschrieben wurden, entsprechen nicht der Wahrheit. Wäre was dran, würde schon längst ein Toter benannt sein. Die Mär von den 3301 Toten ist eine freie Erfindung

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hans Bakx

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ANDRE BROUWERS

email

NEDERLAND

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I DO NOT AGREE

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Katrin Kayenburg

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Allgemeines Bewusstsein zu den Risiken des Rauchens ist bereits vorhanden. Hinzufügen von grafischen Hinweisen erhöht das Bewusstsein nicht. Die Bilder sind abstoßend, aber nicht informativ.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rini Oomen

email

Nederland

country

52

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

W.G. van der Gaag

email

Nederland

country

59

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

G.D.C.van Gils

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

RG van Rouwendal

email

Nederland

country

53

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
"I do not agree"

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Gerard van der Kruk

email
Holland

country
43

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I DO NOT AGREE

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Wim Van Broekhoven

email

Belgium

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

W de Zwart

email

NL

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Prinse.L

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Zhou Yaxing

email

Belgium

country

54

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Vaniseghem Marc

email

Belgie

country

54

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Brian van Oevelen

email

netherlands

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

maartje kerkhofs

email

herentals

country

25

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

W.Thielen

email

nederland

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wim Kemperman

email

NL

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

anthonisse

email

Holland

country

55

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
R.M.F. Stroeks

email
The Netherlands

country
44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
avgorsel

email
nl

country
48

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
avgorsel

email
nl

country
48

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Wilfred Nieuwlaat

email

Nederland

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

dennis jansen

email

nederland

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

toussa

email

netherlands

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Albert Fakkert

email

Netherlands

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree, consumers are smart enough to make their own choice. Interference of EU and local governments already reached the maximum level. Your citizens are NOT stupid!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

F.H. de Rooy

email

Netherland

country

57

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I DO NOT AGREE

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

F.H. de Rooy

email

Holland

country

57

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Wendy Verdult

email

Bergen op Zoom

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Eric Huffmeijer

email

Bergen op Zoom

country

35

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord met deze belachelijke voorstellen !!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M. van Hassel

email

Netherlands

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Keep the tradition for the consumer like it is

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M.J. Poley

email

Netherlands

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I dont agree with this

explanations

No change

which improvement

No

additional option

No

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jānis

email

Latvia

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

andre le clercq

email

nederland

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Theo Nipius

email

Netherlands

country

60

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cora Nieuwenhuijse

email

The Netherlands

country

25

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marc van Aart

email

Netherlands

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

c van merrienboer

email

nederland

country

45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
dane

email
nederland

country
43

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i dont agree.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Miranda Oosthoek

email

Netherlands

country

40

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Richard Stols

email

The Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

jack jansen

email

netherlands

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don,t agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Mario den Engelsman

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Henk van der Weegen

email

Nederland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bertus Janssens

email

the Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DPM Peeters

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

W Marijnissen

email

Nederland

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Dirkjan Havermans

email

Netherlands

country

21

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hubers

email

nederland

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

lvdveer

email

nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

"i do not agree".

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P. van Nijnatten

email

Nederland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

"I do not agree"

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ton van Dorst

email

The Netherlands

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

which improvement

No

additional option

No

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ger van Zunderd

email

Holland

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Iodewijks

email

nederland

country

49

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Olaf Smolders

email
Netherlands

country
41

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I disagree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Stefan van der Zanden

email

Holland

country

41

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

L.Buermans

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Corne

email

Holland

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Erik Verheesen

email

The Netherlands

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nordan Helland

email

Norway

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Problembeskrivelsen insinuerer at folk ikke kan tenke selv, og den er beklageligvis helt fri for ideen om det personlige ansvar. De helseadvarslene som finnes i EU i dag, er allerede svært tydelige og enhver som røyker sigaretter er meget klar over helsefarene ved å røyke.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Helseadvarsler på pakkene bør kombineres med opplysningskampanjer via skoleverket og i det offentlige rom. Det viktigste man gjør i det tobakksforebyggende arbeidet er å hindre mindreårige tilgang til tobakk. Man bør håndheve aldersgrensen langt mer effektivt enn i dag.

additional option

Kombinasjonsadvarsler med tekst på forsiden og saklige/sannferdige bilder på baksiden er tilstrekkelig for å gjøre voksne røykere oppmerksom på helsefarene ved å røyke. Produsentene bør fortsatt tillates å bruke deler av pakken til å kommunisere hvilket produkt det er snakk om for å iverksette merkevarekonkurransen. Man bør heller ikke gå så langt i å hindre produsentene i å disponere plass på pakken, at det i praksis vil innebære en konfiskasjon av intellektuell eiendom og skade på merkevarerettigheter. Slike ekstreme virkemidler hører ikke hjemme i et demokratisk, moderat og tolerant Europa.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M.C.A. de Mooij

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rien Nagtegaal

email

Nederland

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

René van Giels

email

Nederland

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

No, I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ad Boden

email

Nederland

country

52

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Karel Frijters

email
nederland

country
40

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord..

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

P.A.Spek

email

Nederland

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P.v.Eekelen

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Rob Driessen

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Etienne Robbens

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

L. Kellner

email

Netherlands

country

52

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

L.W. Witte-Maljaars

email

Nederland

country

51

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

van dyck paula

email

belgie

country

55

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

willekens

email

belgie

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

C.Voeten

email

Netherlands

country

39

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

H.Langenberg

email

Nederland

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Ozlem Aslan

email

Netherland

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

michel nelen

email

nerderland

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i don't argee

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmet Aslan

email

netherland

country

39

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ik gaa niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Mart de keijzer

email

Nederland

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Z.Stepanovic

email

Holland

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Gerry Leenders

email

nederland

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree. It is for grow up people there one responsibility explanations

No change

which improvement

let people self diside if the want to smoke. I don't want pictures ore texst on packeges

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Theodorus Marinus Maria de Jong

email

The Netherlands

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

It doesn't stop people

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Theodorus Marinus Maria de Jong

email

Netherlands

country

47

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree because, I believe that it will not stop people to quit smoking.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Jeroen Verdult

email
the netherlands

country
32

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
R.Brasser

email
Nederland

country
45

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree because it won't help.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Aj van Ackeren

email
Netherland

country
57

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

jja van zijp

email

holland

country

38

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i do NOT agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

A.C. Aerts

email

Nederland

country

37

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord, omdat ik de vooprdelen ervan niet inzie.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gert-jan Bos

email

Holland

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ben er op tegen

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Henk Eijke

email

Nederland

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

""I do not agree because it will not change the situation

explanations

No change

which improvement

Let it so it is and don't change it will not work

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Morgan

email

France

country

30

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

..

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M.Reuvers

email

Nederland

country

44

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ad Witlox

email

holland

country

61

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P.J.J. de Been

email

nederland

country

45

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Toine de Jong

email

Nederland

country

57

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

P.K.v.Dijke

email

Nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Moreels Charlotte

email

Belgium

country

23

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Johan Rockx

email
Netherlands

country
47

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
i do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

a. withagen

email

nederland

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Moerland

email

Netherlands

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Blas Alejandro

email
holland

country
43

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Laat de mensen nou eens zelf beslissen wat ze willen, baby's moeten gepamperd worden, volwassenen toch niet!?

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
c pieters

email
nederland

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

J.M.L. Priem

email

Netherlands

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sven Wiemann

email

Germany

country

21

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

- Verbraucher sind bereits hinreichend über Gesundheitsrisiken aufgeklärt - Keine Hinweise, dass weitergehende Warnhinweise deren Wahrnehmung steigert

explanations

No change

additional option

- Einheitsverpackungen zerstören Markenstrukturen und führen zu einer reinen Preisorientierung - Fallende Preise führen zu sinkenden Handelsmargen. Folgen: a) Entzug der Einkommensbasis für viele tabakumsatzabhängige Unternehmen, infolge erhöhte Stellenstreichung; - Neutrale Verpackungen lassen sich leichter fälschen

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Concha Aguilar

email

España

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

José A. Contreras

email

España

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Martella Nestore

email

Belgie

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

geen uitbreiding van consumenteninformatie middels verplichte foto's of witte pakjes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

H van Damme

email

nederland

country

65

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

K. Van Loock

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Based on the information and evidence available, the problem is not being identified correctly.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

kasia

email

poland

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Sandi Lucia

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree with this

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Six

email

Belgium

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Six

email

Belgium

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Kalantarian

email

belgium

country

63

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Some information is necessary, but with too much information you will indispose a lot of people

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Stephan Lannau

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Geen enkele nuttige verklaring

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

fitas vaggelis

email

greece

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

b

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

M.P. Gino

email

Netherlands

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Laet Caroline

email

Belgium

country

28

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Christiaan Cymbaluk

email
Netherlands

country
25

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

APM Baltus

email

The Netherlands

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

There's no evidence on bigger health warnings leading to a decreasing frequency of smoking. Informing should be done already BEFORE buying the product itself.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Snoeys Christophe

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree at all!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hans Wiedemann

email

germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die jetzige Information ist ausreichend. jeder weiß um die Gefährlichkeit der Produkte und kann als erwachsener Mensch frei entscheiden. keine bevormundung durch den Koloss EU.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Caroline Meyers

email

Belgium

country

46

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I'm not agreed

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Leon van Veen

email
Netherlands

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Verbeke Lindsey

email
Belgium

country
33

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

inge gastmans

email

belgium

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

gastmans inge

email

belgium

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hilde Van Praet

email

Belgium

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

katleen geys

email

belgiu,

country

32

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Diane Jamar

email

Belgium

country

47

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

which improvement

no

additional option

no

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

kOEN hERMAN

email

bELGIUM

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

IK GA NIET AKKOORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Karina Heis

email

Austria

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Enrique Martinez

email

España

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Sin Comentarios

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Heirman Marleen

email

Belgie

country

56

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

De Beule Rudiger

email

Belgie

country

58

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

De Beule Rudiger

email

Belgie

country

58

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Nancy Truyens

email

België

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Marc Van der Cruyssen

email

Belgium

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I do not agree with the problem definition.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Erik Witteveen

email

Netherlands

country

50

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Vannuffelen Jelle

email

België

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Betty Kox

email
Belgium

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Bart Willemsen

email
Belgium

country
30

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Tinne Schuermans

email
Belgium

country
27

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Marleen Gerstmans

email

Belgium

country

52

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Kevin Melis

email

Belgium

country

31

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Raimund Hommel

email

Germany

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

de hondt linda

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree with this.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Preuß

email

Germany

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Die Packungen sind jetzt schon mit Angaben über Nikotin- und Kondensatgehalt ausgestattet. Jeder, ob Raucher oder Nichtraucher kann sich anhand der Angaben informieren. Weitere Warnhinweise oder Schockfotos auf den Packungen halte ich für überflüssig und für rausgeschmissenes Geld, das anderswo dringender gebraucht wird. Die Vereinheitlichung der Zigarettenpackungen ist ein schwerer Eingriff in den freien Markt und eine Diskriminierung einer gesamten Handelsbranche.

explanations

No change

which improvement

Sind keine nötig, da dieses Problem hausgemacht ist und in Wirklichkeit kein Problem darstellt.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

degard

email

belgium

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

degard

email

belgium

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bart Opdenbergh

email

Belgium

country

36

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Tabak is een produkt dat vrij op de markt verkrijgbaar is en zeer streng gecontroleerd wordt. Als de wetgeving rond tabak nog verstrengd worden, zal dit enkel de illegale produktie en handel ten goede komen wat controle onmogelijk maakt.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lemoine Alison

email

Belgium

country

19

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

de smedt martine

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i refuse it

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Michael Maisch

email

Germany

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Tabak ist ein legales Genussmittel, der Staat hat sich gefälligst aus meiner Lebensweise herauszuhalten. Die Politiker, die den Kampf gegen den Zabak führen, werden von meinen Steuergeldern bezahlt, dafür erwarte ich keine Erziehungsmaßnahmen!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Cuypers

email

België

country

56

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

inge albert

email

belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Albert Inge

email

België

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no change

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Tuytschaever Eric

email

Belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
geen betutteling

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
ashölij

email
germany

country
56

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
fsgjwgj

explanations
No change

which improvement
swjuswtwrju

additional option
sdgjurtjw

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

helmut schmidt

email

germany

country

90

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

that's all bullshit

explanations

No change

which improvement

leave it like it is!

additional option

every country should be free in its decisions! long live che guevara!!!

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

De Clercq Chris

email

Belgium

country

59

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Thibaut Ludivine

email

Belgique

country

33

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Je pense que la population est sous informée quant aux effets nocifs du tabagisme, surtout à court terme (je pense particulièrement à tout ce qui concerne le système cardiovasculaire). Cependant, je pense que les paquets de cigarette tels qu'ils sont proposés aujourd'hui aux fumeurs en Belgique font probablement plus de dégâts que d'effets positifs. Je réalise actuellement une enquête qualitative sur un sujet concernant le tabagisme et j'entends que ce paquet est nocif à l'image de soi du fumeur et que cela va trop loin pour eux, ils se sentent l'objet de discrimination et qu'ils font parfois de la résistance pour ne pas changer leur comportement pour ces raisons. La dénormalisation du tabagisme lutte contre un produit, une industrie du tabac pas contre les personnes. Je pense qu'il serait bon de respecter l'être humain qu'est le fumeur mais aussi le non-fumeur que je suis. Je suis moi même choquée par ces images (on oserait pas proposer ces images à la télévision sans une mise en garde au préalable). Il y a moyen d'informer autrement que par la terreur. De plus, les experts connaissent l'ambivalence des fumeurs quant à l'arrêt tabagique, je pense qu'il serait plus bénéfique de détruire l'image des marques de cigarette par un paquet neutre, peu attractif et d'améliorer l'information des fumeurs quant aux bénéfices qu'il peut tirer en arrêtant de fumer et/ou en adoptant des comportements qui le mets moins à risque (tel que : fumer dehors réduit les effets du tabagisme passif pour les autres mais aussi pour soi). On peut y ajouter des images positives par rapport à l'arrêt, au souhait d'arrêter et un numéro d'appel gratuit pour aider les fumeurs qui le souhaitent (N.B. : sans utiliser une phrase qui impliquerait un impératif ou un ordre). Communiquons avec, auprès des fumeurs pas contre eux ! (L'industrie du tabac l'a malheureusement bien compris avant nous !).

explanations

Improve consumer information; Introduce generic or plain packaging

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Inge Jacobs

email

Belgium

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Justus Monegel

email

Germany

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Die Hinweise für Verbraucher sind besonders in der Tabakbranche hinreichend plaziert, anders als in vielen anderen Branchen. Es wird seit Jahren explizit auf die Gefahr durch Rauchen aktiv und passiven Konsums hingewiesen. Raucher nehmen schon heute die Gefahren des Rauchens in großem Umfang wahr. Eine Steigerung der Hinweise führt also meiner Meinung nach nicht zu einer niedrigeren Raucherquote, was auch andere Länder bestätigen (GB).

explanations

No change

additional option

Besonders kritisch sehe ich die Idee, Zigaretten nur noch in Einheitsverpackungen anzubieten. Der Schmuggel in Deutschland nimmt seit Jahren zu. Sind Packungen nicht mehr aufwendig durch die Industrie gestaltet, ist es ein Leichtes, die Packungen zu fälschen. Der Schmuggel wird weiter zunehmen. Außerdem führen die Einheitspackungen dazu, dass die verschiedenen Marken sich nicht mehr differenzieren können. Somit wird der Wettbewerb sich auf den Preis für Tabakprodukte fixieren, sodass dieser fallen und den Zugang - auch für Jugendliche - deutlich vereinfachen wird. Außerdem wird der fallende Preis zu geringeren Margen bei Tabakkonzernen und Handelsunternehmen führen, was Arbeitsplätze kosten wird.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peeters Paul

email

Belgium

country

53

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Van Wichelen Caroline

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Inge Jacobs

email

Belgium

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

standaardiseren leidt tot illegale handel en oneerlijke concurrentie

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Van Bever Sébastien

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I don't agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Luc Lannau

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Vergemakkelijkt namaak en dus illegale handel

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

alain bogaert

email

belgium

country

42

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

hou jullie bezig met zaken die nodig zijn en niet met onbenulligheden zoals dit!!!!

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Josiane Rooseleir

email

Belgium

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Nietakkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Josiane Rooseleir

email

Belgium

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Callebaut Yves

email

Belgie

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

RIANWATTANA EKACHAI

email

BELGIUM

country

40

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I DONT AGREE

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Gyssens Yannick

email

Belgium

country

44

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition

Not agreeing at all with the proposition , it will make no change at all. After all ...ALL companies have the right to advertise their products. Why not Tabacco companies ?

explanations
No change

which improvement

streamline the points of sale for tabacco products . !! Let tabacco only be on sale in shops who are " tabacco" shops. I find it very stupid that you can buy tabacco products in a gas station , where you can not smoke because of explosion danger. Same point there for selling beer and alcoholic beverages along highways and in on street vending machines , while we all know that alcohol and driving does not mix .

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
sprl lecture loisirs

email
belgique

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
je ne suis pas d accord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

johan Kessels

email

Belgium

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

schetz Lea

email

Belgium

country

46

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Let people make their own choice

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Hennico

email

Belgium

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Claire Minten

email

Belgium

country

25

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Payot

email

Belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

je ne suis pas d'accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Andrei Iliescu

email

Romania

country

25

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information; Introduce generic or plain packaging

which option

Picture warnings to become mandatory; Information on harmful substances in tobacco products that cannot be placed on the package would be placed inside the package

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ahmed Boufous

email

Belgie

country

34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sara De Beule

email

Belgium

country

32

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Werner Barth

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Melis Luc

email

Belgie

country

54

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

IK ga niet Akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Alexander Kerst

email

Germany

country

21

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

- Verbraucher sind bereits ausreichend aufgeklärt - Es gibt keine Hinweise, dass weitere Warnhinweise eine bessere Wahrnehmung verursachen

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

paques michael

email

belgium

country

25

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

je ne suis pas d accord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

kristien lambrecht

email
belgie

country
38

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ben niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Rolf Dierig

email
Germany

country
32

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

additional option

Ich denke ein Raucher ist sich nach den Aufklärungskampanien und der Zahl der Krebspatienten in den letzten Jahren durchaus über die Folgen des Rauchens bewußt. Wenn der Ansatz der Verbraucherinfo-Verbesserung gewählt wird, sollte man auch gleich Infos zu Alkoholsucht und Bilder von Leberschäden auf alkoholische Produkte kleben und darauf hinweisen, dass einige Zutaten in großen Mengen konsumiert blind machen bzw. einige Farbstoffe in Süßwaren bei Massenverzehr auch krebsfördernd wirken. Hier sollte man dem Regulierungswahn wirklich mal Einhalt gebieten. Wir sollten den EU-Bürger nicht als dumm darstellen, sondern ihm schon zugestehen, dass er sich persönlich entfalten kann. Ob er nun raucht oder nicht - solange er dabei keinen anderen gefährdet ist das ok- es ist seine Entscheidung ! Ich wundere mich, dass diese Seite nur in englischer Sprache verfügbar ist - was nützt es mir, dass ich auf deutsch schreiben kann, wenn ich nicht verstehe wonach gefragt wird. Ich finde eine Abstimmung von solcher Bedeutung sollte von allen, die sie durchführen (alle EU-Bürger) auch verstanden werden können. Dazu gehört selbstverständlich auch eine Auswahl zwischen allen ( oder wenigstens den gängigsten EU-Sprachen) - jeder Online-Shop kann das mittlerweile - wieso die EU nicht ?

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

minten edmee

email

belgium

country

54

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

NO

additional option

NO

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

cluts guy

email

belgium

country

57

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

which improvement

NO

additional option

NO

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Véronique De Rop

email

Belgium

country

51

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

No change

explanations

No change

which improvement

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Véronique De Rop

email

Belgium

country

51

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Minten Marcel

email

BELGIUM

country

60

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

additional option
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Stephan Bauwens

email
Belgium

country
29

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree with changing the directive. For me the directive and legislation is strict enough.

explanations
No change

additional option
I do not think that it is the job of the government to restrict all things that could be bad for humans. It is impossible to do so. People need to have the free choice in choosing for certain products.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jos Verhasselt

email

Belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Van Houdt Betty

email

Belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification*affiliation

citizen

name

costas siatras

email

grecce

country

51

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

hertogs werner

email

belgie

country

48

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Guusje Gulikers

email

Nederland

country

23

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

M<sup>a</sup> LINA CORTES MATEOS

email

ESPAÑA

country

41

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Lanoeye Andre

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bouckaert Gino

email

belgium

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

i don't agree with the problem definition because it's always the tabac industry that is been evolved why don't do this with the alcohol industry that causes even more death than the tabac industry

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Nadine Viaene

email

Belgium

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

big financial loss for my business.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Snijder Deborah

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Totaal niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

haesevoets johan

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

bedreiging van mijn job

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

luc verscheure

email
belgium

country
55

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord met jullie voorstellen

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
SCHOOF S LUDOSSS

email
BELGIUM

country
51

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
IK GA NIET AKKOORD

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

SCHOOFS SSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSS

email

BELGIUM

country

51

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

IK GA NIET AKKOORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marleen Loeckx

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik kan hier niet mee akkoord gaan

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

verbraeken

email

belgium

country

46

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Reniers Marc

email

Belgium

country

43

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Cloodts Erik

email

België

country

58

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

it is ok now

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Deltour Viviane

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

live and let live I have a cigaret shop????

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Jan Kalter

email

Nederland

country

29

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

LEO VAN BOCXLAER

email

Belgie

country

50

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

IK GA NIET AKKOORD

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Debusschere Hilde

email

Belgium

country

31

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

nothing

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
BEECKMANS ERIK

email
Belgium

country
49

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
There is no problem

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
briers bart

email
belgie

country
47

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Tom Vandevenne

email
Belgium

country
30

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I don't agree.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Hardies Guido

email

Belgium

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Stessens Paul

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bols Rudi

email

Belgium

country

55

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i do not agree with plain packiging.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Roelens Krista

email

Belgium

country

47

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

dochy patrick

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

i do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

ALEJANDRA NIETO IGUAL

email

ESPAÑA

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

NO COMMENTS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

DE WIT

email

BELGIUM

country

42

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

PITTOORS PATRICK

email

BELGIUM

country

51

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
IK GA NIET AKKOORD

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Hooyberghs Jos

email
Belgium

country
49

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
ik ga niet akkoord!!!

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

Deborah Faster

email

belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

De Hondt Suzakke

email

belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Lukasz Sitko

email

Poland

country

34

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

Improve consumer information

which option

Health warnings to be put on water pipes

which improvement

It is personal decision to smoke or not to smoke. What we can do is just inform by description what is inside and what is result of smoking practice.

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Peggy Vanderschelde

email

Belgium

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

I don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Hannon Cindy

email
Belgium

country
31

age
female

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I do not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
matthieu

email
Belgium

country
24

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
I'm not agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Laureyns Mark

email
Belgium

country
53

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
We don't agree

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name

Annick Buyst

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Do not agree

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Sabine Steinhauser

email

Germany

country

47

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Thuysbaert herman

email

belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ik ga niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Serena Prados Sánchez

email

Spain

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

which improvement

no comments

additional option

no comments

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Serena Prados Sánchez

email

Spain

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Serena Prados Sánchez

email

Spain

country

34

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

no comments

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

ZOI LEONTOPOULOU

email

GREECE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

it encourages illegal trading of tobacco products

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

POMME OÜ (nightclub)

email

Estonia

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Ma arvan, et graafilised pildid suitsupakkidel ei anna soovitud effkti. Ja kui suitsupakid oleksid kõik ühesugused, tekitaks see tarbijas segadust ja muudaks müügitöö võimatuks. Mina arvan, et sellisel juhul oleks suitsupakke võimatu eristada nii kliendil kui müügikohal.

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
bellin

email
France

additional comments
Yes

explanations
Improve consumer information

which option
Tar, nicotine and carbon monoxide levels to be replaced with general information on harmful substances in tobacco products; Health warnings to be put on water pipes

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Mathijs Peters

email
Netherlands

country
34

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

I do not agree.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Serena Prados Sánchez

email

Spain

country

34

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Hendrik Rebs

email

Germany

country
51

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Robert Helbig

email
Germany

country 22

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Martina Köhn

email

Germany

country

47

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Marion Steudel

email

Germany

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Ralf Grund

email

Germany

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Ines gruhl

email
Germany

country
50

age
female

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Luc Ardies

email
Belgium

additional comments
Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Uwe Fiebrig

email

Germany

country

52

age

male

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

MKM Tallinn OÜ (nightclub)

email

Estonia

age

female

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Kui sigaretipakil ei ole enam mingit informatsiooni, ei suuda edasimüüjad (antud juhul baaridaamid) inimestele õiget toodet pakkuda. Paljud ise ei suitseta ja neil ei ole enam millestki lähtuda tegemaks kindlasti kas on nõ. kange või lahja tubakatoode. Samuti aeglustab see töötamist, kuna kliendi soovitud suitsupaki leidmiseks kulub rohkem aega.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Dascalasu Catalin

email

romania

country

32

age

male

additional comments

No

questions consumer*problem definition

Everething it's alright by now in this part of tabacco market. there is no need of changing, at least not now.

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Patrick Saiget

email
France

country
35

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
Consumers have enough information, and are grown ups as long as they are 18 years old.

explanations
No change

additional option
Continue to provide informations in school, along with some on alcohol or games addiction.

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
IOANNIS NOCHOUTIDIS

email
HELLENIC REPUBLIC (GREECE)

country
39

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
NO EXPLANATIONS

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

Christine Strauß

email

Deutschland

country

44

age

female

additional comments

Yes

explanations

No change

additional option

Ich finde es unglaublich, wie wir Bürger langsam aber sicher entmündigt werden. Alles aber wirklich alles soll durch Richtlinien reglementiert werden. Ich bin überzeugter Nichtraucher, also es ist nicht so, dass ich gerne im Rauch sitze, aber ich habe Angst was als nächstes in den Fokus der EU-Kommissionen kommt. Nahrungsmittel, Alkohol, Autofahren, Sport,...?

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

PROSPECTS BALTICS, advertising agency

email

Latvia

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition

Today in Western society people are informed about health risks associated with smoking as these facts are publicly and notoriously known. Current size warnings clearly communicate health messages. Further increases are impractical and inappropriate since regulators also should acknowledge role of packaging in consumer information. Comparable smoking rates and trends in different countries with different sizes of health warnings (or lack of health warnings) on packages suggest that size of health warnings may not be critical to their effectiveness. Also a critical note to be added – intensity of a color of tobacco package consumer reads not as level of harmfulness of the product but as intensity of taste (tar, nicotine level) of the product which is an important criterion for product choice. We also disagree to the statement that packaging is an advertisement tool – to the same extent packaging is a tool for consumer information, especially in situation when possibilities to supply information to consumer on tobacco products are severely limited.

explanations

No change

additional option

We would like to extend some comments to Commission regulatory option no.3 – introduction of plain packaging. From perspective of consumer rights to receive information about products placed for sale, this solution clearly ignores requirement of any minimum information consumer is supposed to receive about a product before making purchasing decision. Product pack has considerable functions in sales process: it is supposed to communicate information on how one brand differs from another and intensity of taste and quality of the product; as well as product pack is facilitating purchasing transaction by enabling easy recognition of the product of choice both by consumer and seller. Under a legislation which today prohibits all point of sale advertising activities, pack of the product practically is the only channel to communicate information about new product launches or product content changes. It is to be noted that already today only factual information communication on the pack is allowed to consumers; moreover, we are speaking about legal product which should not be deprived of basic rights to communicate about its qualities and characteristics. Also, since brand name is not only name of a product but also covers colors, graphics and designs, plain packaging as per this option is an infringement of intellectual property rights. Such solution could be considered only in the light of clear evidence and experience of benefit to public health which currently is nonexistent as far as international experiments on introductions of plain packaging legislation shows.

---

Citizen submission*identification*affiliation

citizen

name

dimitris papageorgussis

email
greece

country
55

age
male

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
im not agree. i prefer this questions in my language

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
Pabisz Bogusław

email
Poland

country
41

age
male

additional comments
Yes

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation

citizen

name

De Moor Bart

email

Belgie

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

Niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

vertommen bert

email

be

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

devos jean pierre

email

be

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

trekt op geen kloten

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

Bart Maes

email

Belgium

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

niet akkoord met de probleemstelling

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

OUTERS JAN

email

be

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

ben niet akkoord

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

THUYSBAERT HERMAN

email

BE

additional comments

No

questions consumer

problem definition

IK ZIE GEEN PROBLEEM

explanations

No change

---

Citizen submission

identification

affiliation

citizen

name

BERTREM JOHAN

email

BELGIE

additional comments

No

questions consumer
problem definition
GEEN PROBLEEM

explanations
No change

---

Citizen submission

identification
affiliation
citizen

name
johan tassenoy

email
BELGIË

additional comments
No

questions consumer
problem definition
IK ZIE GEEN PROBLEEM

explanations
No change

---